19 DROWNED WHEN LAUNCH IS UPSET BY LEVEE BREAK

Government Boat Pelican, Swamped at Knowlton's Landing, Ark., 120 Miles South of Memphis.

REFUGEES ABOARD SWEPT TO DEATH

Fourteen White Persons and Five Negroes Lose Their Lives in Flood Accident.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 22.—Confirmation of the loss of the Government launch Pelican at Knowlton's Landing, Ark., with 19 persons, was received here today by Army engineers.

The Pelican, carrying refugees, was caught in the breaking of the main levee at the landing. Fourteen of those drowned were white men and five were Negroes.

Knowlton's Landing is on the Mississippi River, 120 miles south of Memphis.

Three of those drowned were members of the crew — Henry Owen, Will B. Morris and Henry Cooper. The other white men who perished were George Wooten, John White, Raymond Burillson, Charles Craig, William Perry, George Douglas, Joseph Hicks, John Pentecost, George Pentecost, Hall Mark and Joseph Holmes.

Early reports said that Don B. Farmer and James Hawkins, engineer and pilot, had been drowned. These two men were not on the boat. Oscar Clemens and Julius Eller were listed by the engineers as the only survivors.

The boat was said to have been caught in the swirl of water outside the break as it was attempting to deliver refugees from the bank to the steamer Wabash, which was passing up the river.

Three Persons Reported Drowned When Clarendon, Ark. Levee Broke

By the Associated Press.

STUTTGART, Ark., April 22.—Three persons, were drowned when a boat capsized as the White river levee at Clarendon broke Wednesday morning, according to a levee engineer who has arrived here. He reported five White River Lumber Co. placed its loss by flood at $3,000,000. Cattle in Cotton Belt freight cars at Clarendon are standing two feet deep in water.

PRICE OF BAGS FOR LEVEE WORK RISES 2 CENTS UNDER DEMAND

More Than 1,500,000 Sold in St. Louis and Bag Factories Run Night and Day.

More than 1,500,000 bags, to be filled with sand and used in strengthening levees weakened by the swollen Missisippi River and its tributaries, have been sold by St. Louis bag manufacturing companies, the demand resulting in a price increase from 5½ cents a bag to 7½ cents.

Bag factories here have increased their personnel and are working night and day.

The East Side Levee and Sanitary Board yesterday purchased 50,000 bags. Cairo, Ill., bought a carload of bags Wednesday. Bags are being sent also to districts in Indiana and Louisiana.

HEAVY FROST IN ST. LOUIS AND TEMPERATURE OF 34

There was a heavy frost in and around St. Louis last night, with the temperature dropping to 34. In some places in St. Louis County there was a little ice. The county strawberry crop was seriously damaged, apples and peaches were hurt and the few potatoes that were up also were damaged, according to the country farm agent.

Springfield, Mo., reported a killing frost. Frost was found as far south as Northern Texas, Northern Arkansas and Northern Kentucky.

By the Associated Press.

JOPLIN, Mo., April 22.—A killing frost that swept over the Ozark fruit belt last night wiped out 50 per cent or more of the 1927 grape crop and damaged the strawberry crop 25 to 50 per cent, Charles Carmichael, secretary of the Ozark Fruit Growers' Association, estimated today, following a survey of the damage.

PICTURES ENLARGED BY RADIO

New Receiving Apparatus Given Successful Test.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—A new radio receiving apparatus which enlarges photographs to nine times their original size has been tested successfully by the Radio Corporation of America.

Photographs of David Sarnoff, president of the corporation, and Jeams G. Harbord, chairman of the board, were transmitted to New York from New Brunswick, N. J., by way of the corporation's testing station at Riverhead, L. I., yesterday. Full-sized advertisements from a fashion magazine also were transmitted successfully. Alternate use of hot and cold air tubes, governed by radio, creates a succession of black dots and lines and white spaces which, when seen together, makes the picture.

$15,700 FOR A WATER COLOR

"The Portage," By Winslow Homer, Brings Record U. S. Price.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—A record price for a water color at a public auction in this country has been established by M. Knoedler & Co., purchasers of "The Portage," by Winslow Homer, an American artist, for $15,700.

The picture was sold at the American Art Galleries from the collection of the late Demond Fitzgerald of Boston. The water color is 13½ inches high and 20½ inches long.

REED ILLINOIS' SECOND CHOICE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 22.—Former Mayor Dever of Chicago, defeated by William Hale Thompson, says he never again will be a political candidate. "I have sentenced myself to political oblivion for life," he says, "and there will be no appeal."

Dever passed through here on his way to Excelsior Springs, Mo., for a rest. He said Senator Reed of Missouri would be the second choice of Illinois Democrats for the presidential nomination after Gov. Smith of New York.

FEAR YOUTH WHO LEAPED OFF BRIDGE WAS MISSING SON

Parents of Charles Grill, 25, Who Disappeared Wednesday, Say He Was Worried Over Lawsuit.

DESCRIPTION OF SUICIDE FITS HIM

Summoned as Witness in $24,000 Damage Case He Had Been Excited When Called to Testify.

The parents of Charles Grill, 25 years old, of 2948A Michigan avenue, expressed fear today that the young man seen to leap from the top deck of Eads Bridge and disappear in the Mississippi River at 2 p. m. Wednesday was their son, who has been missing since 1 p. m. that day.

He had been called Wednesday morning as a witness for the plaintiff in a $29,400 damage suit against his employers, Stix, Baer & Fuller Dry Goods Co., and his father, Frank Grill, a stationary fireman, said today Charles had been worried about the case. The elder Grill and Mrs. Grill, who is his stepmother, think it possible that Charles feared he would lose his job at the department store if obliged to testify against him employers.

The general description of the young man who jumped from the bridge answers that of Grill. He is 5 feet 9 inches tall, has light brown hair, blue eyes and weighs 150 pounds. When last seen Grill was wearing a gabardine topcoat, gray hat and suit and tan oxford shoes Witnesses described the suicide as wearing clothes such as Grill had on when he disappeared. Grill was last seen Wednesday at the department store where he was emplayed as bundle inspector.

Worried Over Lawsuit.

His demeanor on the witness stand in Circuit Judge Frey's court Wednesday morning indicated that Grill was under great mental stress. He had been summoned by attorneys representing the estate of August Marchlewski, an employe of Stix, Baer & Fuller, who died Jan. 30, 1926. On April 28, 1922, Marchlewski had been injured in an accident at the department store and, while it was not contended that he died from this injury, attorneys for his estate planned to show that Grill was responsible for the accident.

The plaintiff's contention was that, while Grill and Marchlewski were at work in the store, Grill carelessly ran a hand truck into a heavy roll of linoleum, causing it to fall on Marchlewski's right foot. Gangrene set in and the leg was amputated at the knee.

Excited on Witness Stand.

Mrs. Marie Finn, his daughter, as administratrix of his estate, asks damages from the department store on the ground that the accident impaired her father's earning power.

When Grill was called to the stand Wednesday morning he was so excited and incoherent that plaintiff's counsel withdrew him from the stand shortly before the noon recess. He was advised to compose himself and to read the deposition he had given as to the facts of the case, a year before.

The young man did not return for the afternoon session of court and did not communicate with his father. He had made no threats to take his life, the family said today, but they believed the lawsuit preyed on his mind.

REFUSE TO FORTIFY DRY LAW

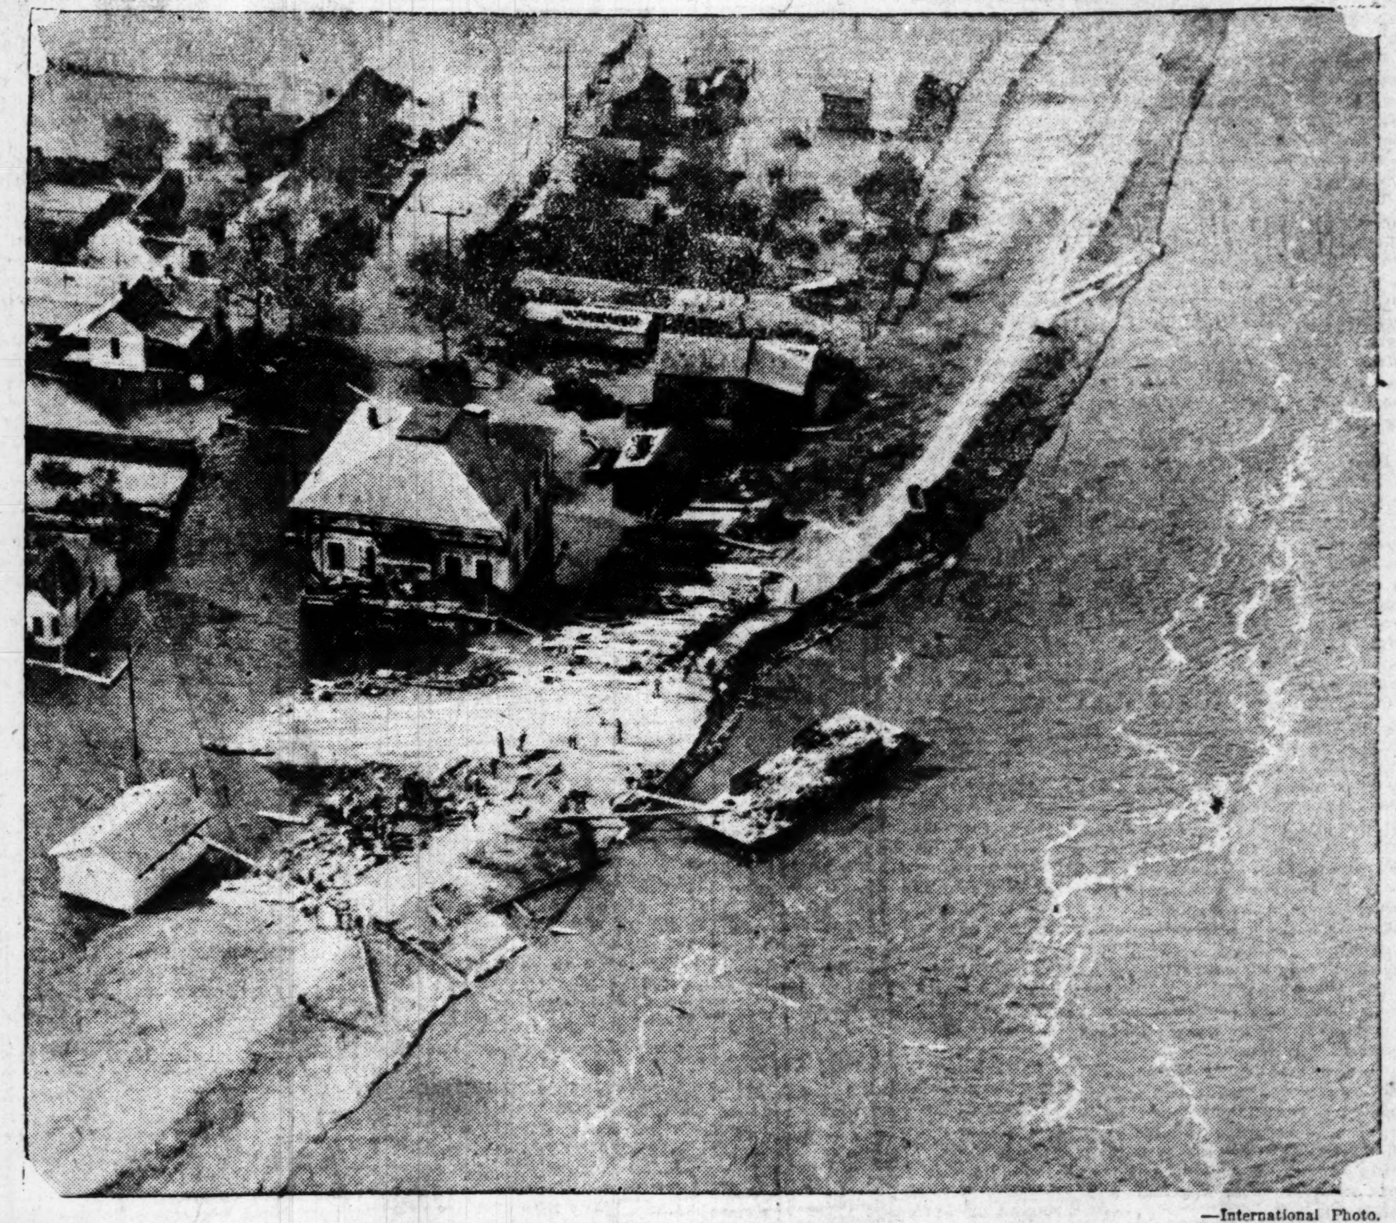
Rhode Island Legislators Demand More Careful Warrants.

By the Associated Press.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 22.—The Rhode Island General Assembly has refused to strengthen the present State prohibition enforcement law and has passed a bill opposed by the Antisaloon League which makes it necessary for law enforcement officers to exercise care in the preparation and service of warrants.

A bill that would have increased the penalties in the present enforcement State law was killed in the House by an overwhelming vote. Another bill, providing that enforcement officers must specify in warrants the exact premises to be raided, and must give accused persons copies of warrants and receipts for seized contraband, passed the Senate in concurrence.

New Madrid Fights the Encroaching Mississippi



—International Photo.

THIS photograph, made from an airplane, shows how New Madrid, Mo., is fighting to save itself from the river eating at its levees. The picture was made while several feet of water covered the town. At left center volunteers are at work on the sandbag defense, which so far have kept it from being wiped out.

$3,000,000 TO START MARKLE FOUNDATION

Philanthropic Organization Will Aim to Surpass Rockefeller and Carnegie Scope.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Expenditure of millions of dollars in establishment of a philanthropic organization, designed to surpass in scope the Rockefeller and Carnegie foundations, are outlined by John Markle, wealthy retired coal operator, in the New York American today.

Almost every form of scientific and medical research work, educational activity and welfare enterprise will share in the John and Mary R. Markle foundation, to be started with a contemplated initial fund of $3,000,000, says the American.

Purposes of the foundation include creation and maintenance of medical research centers, hospitals, charitable institutions and educational agencies; study of disease and development of methods of eradication; support to libraries, and assistance to destitute individuals.

Establishment of the foundation is another step in the philosophy of the founder that every dollar earned in excess of living costs becomes a trust for fellowmen.

"All you get out of life is a living," Markle said, "and that decree of living is evidenced by your mortal body. Every dollar you have in excess of the cost of living is evidence of your success in the commercial world, as much as your diploma from college is evidence that you have passed through the curriculum.

"With these funds in your possession, you become trustee for your fellowmen and should so use these funds.

"The foundation will endeavor to promote the advancement and diffusion of knowledge among the people of the United States and to promote the general good of mankind. It will aid preparatory, vocational and technical schools, institutions of higher learning, libraries and scientific and medical research."

Overheated Furnace Burns Home.

Fire, the result of an overheated furnace, destroyed the home of John L. Moss, 1908 North and South road, at 8:15 a. m. today, causing a loss of $12,000. The fire departments of Brentwood, Richmond Heights and Maplewood were summoned. The home of R. E. Strain, just south of the Moss home, was endangered through sparks from the burning house.

AIR MAIL PILOT KILLED WHEN PLANE CRASHES

J. F. Milatzo, Crack Flyer of Chicago-Cleveland Route the Victim.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., April 22.—John F. Milatzo, air mail pilot, was killed early today when his plane crashed one mile south of Topeka, Ind., as he was on his way to Cleveland from Chicago.

Reports indicate Milatzo was caught in the wreckage, which caught fire, when the plane crashed. The plane and its mail cargo were destroyed.

Milatzo left Chicago at 10:45 last night. At 12:10 this morning, officials were advised, he encountered a heavy snowstorm at Goshen, Ind., and landed, but again took off at 12:30, trying to make the Bryan, O., landing field, where he hoped to send his mail on by train. The crash occurred about 1 a. m., when Milatzo was about 60 miles west of Bryan.

Milatzo had been an air pilot for three years. Previous to that time he had been in the army air service. He was considered one of the crack flyers on the Cleveland-Chicago route. His home was in Chicago.

WHERE FLOOD CAN BE VIEWED TO BEST ADVANTAGE IN CITY

Many Points of Vantage In or Near St. Louis Easily Reached by Street Car or Bus.

Points of vantage for viewing the flood in the Mississippi and Missouri rivers in the vicinity of St. Louis, which may be reached by street car, bus or motor, are: Chain of Rocks, O'Fallon Park, Bellerive Park on South Broadway, Bellefontaine Farm, at the end of Bellefontaine road, an extension of North Broadway; the hilltop at Creve Coeur Lake and the United Railways observation tower there; the western end of Olive Street road, the terminus of Hall's Ferry road at Musick's Ferry, Jefferson Barracks and, of course, the downtown streets leading to the levee, from which, however, the view is not so broad.

Thousands of persons undoubtedly will visit these and less accessible places tomorrow afternoon and Sunday. The United Railways is making special preparations to carry crowds to Creve Coeur Lake. St. Charles offers a view, too, but the one highway leading there is under water and will be congested with traffic.

BEST FISHING IN YEARS LIKELY AS RESULT OF FLOOD

Large Numbers Carried Into Creeks and Waters Seldom Restocked So Bountifully.

Fishing will be the best in years in the lakes, canals, creeks and small rivers tributary to the Mississippi, game wardens say, pointing to the fact that the flood has carried large numbers of fish into waters seldom restocked so bountifully by natural methods.

Austin Lark, Deputy Game Warden at East St. Louis reports that Fish Lake near Dupo, Ill.; Canal 8, south of Cahokia, Canal 12, near the foot of the Belleville bluffs, Cahokia Creek and other streams in the district are heavily populated with fish. Before the flood gates were closed fish from the river ran far up these streams to spawn.

A similar situation exists on the Missouri side where flood waters backing up into creeks and small streams have carried fish to new spawning grounds. Fishing will not be good, however, until the high water recedes. Illinois and Missouri Game Wardens are making plans to rescue fish left stranded by receding water.

GAMBLING HOUSE KEEPER MURDERED IN HIS HOME

Theodore Werner, Formerly of St. Louis, Mysteriously Shot in New Orleans.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 22.—Theodore Werner, formerly of St. Louis, proprietor of a gambling resort here, was murdered in his apartment early today. An unidentified man, arriving in an automobile, was admitted to the apartment at 5 a. m. Shortly afterward shots were heard. Later Werner was found dead, his body riddled with nine bullets. His wife committed suicide several months ago.

Werner's parents live in St. Louis.

Chilean Envoy to U. S. Resigns.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Don Miguel Cruchaga-Tocornal, Chilean Ambassador to the United States since March 23, 1926, has submitted his resignation to Vice President Carlos Ibanez, now directing the Chilean Government. Senor Cruchaga said his resignation was designed to allow the new Cabinet in Chile to follow whatever policy it chooses toward him.

NEW MADRID ISOLATED COMPLETELY BY FLOOD

Hundred of 2000 Inhabitants Marooned in Second Story of Buildings.

By the Associated Press.

NEW MADRID, Mo., April 22.—Virtually deserted by nearly all of its 200 0inhabitants, this Mississippi river city last night was a dark expanse of muddy water broken by the silhouettes of half-submerged houses.

Less than 100 citizens still remained all driven to the second stories of their homes, the others having been taken to places of safety by boats and launches.

Leaving the city at 11 a. m. yesterday, the coast guard relief Steamer Kankakee carried a large part of the population to Hickman, Ky. Several hundred who had taken refuge on a high ridge north of the town were placed on the boat.

In efforts to rescue the citizens, relief workers were forced to contend with natural reluctance of the river town dwellers to leave their homes and force had to be exerted in some instances to get the refugees to board the Kankakee.

The city was isolated completely from the land side by the swift current sweeping across the highways several miles from the outskirts. State highway engineers and Miss Catherine Greenough, representative of the American Red Cross, were thwarted in their attempts to enter the city from the direction of Sikeston, about 20 miles north.

Sheriff Wade Tucker, who has been made a prisoner in his own jail by the flood, tried in vain to leave the city yesterday. To intensify the anxiety for the fate of the city came reports from the Texas Bend district, 10 miles northeast, that the levee was weakening. A break at that point would pour additional surplus water on New Madrid.

The local telephone exchange is still in operation today with the four women operators pluckily refusing to leave their posts.

OUT OF FLOOD INTO TORNADO

By the Associated Press.

BUFFALO HART, Ill., April 22.—Lewis Hardy moved here from Beardstown this spring to escape the floods. Tuesday his house and all his possessions were swept away by the tornado.

Two sons, Harold, 5 years old, and Everett, 6 weeks, were killed in the storm and the other members of the family are in a hospital.

MISSISSIPPI FLOOD AREA EXTENDS AS DIKES FAIL

LIKELY TO DRIVE 100,000 FROM HOMES

Loaded Rescue Boat Forced to Pass by Many Crying for Aid as Knowlton, Ark. Levee Breaks.

Outstanding today in the greatest and most damaging flood in the history of the lower Mississippi River are the effects of levee breaks above Greenville, Miss., which have permitted water to flow into the streets of that city of 15,000 population, and the spread of inundation across Southeastern Missouri and Northeastern Arkansas due to levee breaks above New Madrid, Mo.

Elsewhere, from the vicinity of St. Louis to New Orleans, the work of raising and reinforcing levees, begun nine days or more ago, is going forward with feverish haste. Meanwhile, the toll of life and property, the danger of flood-borne disease and the number of homeless refugees all are increasing hourly.

Coolidge Calls for Aid.

President Coolidge at Washington today issued a proclamation calling for aid for the more than 75,000 refugees from floods and appointed four Cabinet officers to co-operate with the Red Cross in its relief work in eight states.

The number of known dead has been placed at 47, and probably numerous others have lost their lives by drowning or otherwise. Of these 19 perished when the Government launch Pelican capsized last night at Knowlton's Landing, Ark.

May Drive 100,000 From Homes.

The breaks above Greenville are expected to submerge about 3000 square miles in Mississippi and drive about 100,000 persons from their homes. More than 50,000 others already are homeless in the States adjoining the river from Missouri to the Gulf. A large part of Arkansas is suffering from floods in Mississippi River tributaries, the Arkansas, St. Francis, White, Red, Ouachita and other streams. The Missouri and Illinois River floods are continuing, but the Ohio is receding.

Although higher water still is expected here, the fall of the Ohio and the levee breaks below the Ohio's mouth at Cairo, Ill., are expected to offset this, and the main crest has passed below Cairo. The 1200 miles of the river valley from Cairo to the Gulf, however, are far from relief and the people there are apprehensive of worse trouble. Gov. Murfree of Mississippi has asked President Coolidge for Federal troops to help protect the levees.

Fair weather is forecast for the valley, after days of torrential rains and temperatures hovering just above freezing.

Rapidly rising water washed through the business section of Greenville, Miss., this morning, although the main river levee was reported to be holding. The city waterworks was shut down. When water began pouring for half a mile over the top of a small municipal levee extending eastward from the Mississippi early today, workmen who were repairing it were ordered away. The engineer in charge there said a break appeared inevitable.

Sirens Rouse City at Midnight.

When water from the Stops Landing crevasse reached the environs of Greenville last midnight and lapped at the top of levees, fire engine sirens aroused the whole city, and residents and refugee who had begun to come in from the north prepared to leave. They anticipated that several feet of water would cover the streets. On hearing the alarm, many persons fled to the top of the main levee, but were reassured and sent home by officials.

A Red Cross relief director early today found himself surrounded by water in Greenville and unable to distribute 200 tents for refugees.

Fresh Breaks in Levees Threaten to Inundate 3000 Square Miles in Mississippi

RAILROAD SERVICE DEMORALIZED BY WATER IMPROVES

Washed Out Tracks and Trestles Being Repaired in Areas Affected by Mississippi River.

DETOURS NECESSARY FOR SEVERAL DAYS

Three Systems Hopeful of Resuming Partial Schedule to Southern Missouri and Arkansas.

A slight improvement in railroad service to the South and Southwest was noted today as repairs were started on tracks and trestles washed out by flood waters from the Mississippi River and its tributaries.

Officials of the Missouri Pacific, Frisco and Cotton Belt lines were hopeful of resuming partial service through Southern Missouri and Northern Arkansas, sections hardest hit by the flood, either late today or tomorrow. However, detours around several towns will be necessary for several days.

A Cotton Belt train left Union Station this morning for Fort Worth, via Illmo, Mo., as reports from officials in charge of repairs indicated that the route was open. A detour will be made from Fair Oaks, Ark., to Little Rock, as tracks are flooded and washed out in the vicinity of Clarendon, Ark., where a levee of the White River broke Wednesday, flooding the town.

Train to Little Rock Tonight.

Repairs of Missouri Pacific tracks at Corning, Bald Knob and Newport, Ark., are being rushed to completion and trains will leave here tonight for Little Rock and Memphis, for the first time in several days. A fast train over the Missouri Pacific from Texas, due here Wednesday morning, arrived at 8 a. m. today after making numerous transfers because of flood conditions between Texarkana and St. Louis.

Frisco officials are hopeful that conditions at Lilbourn, Mo., where a pile trestle was washed away when a levee broke Wednesday, will be sufficiently improved to permit construction of a new trestle within the next 24 hours. The road will resume local passenger service between here and Memphis immediately after the trestle is completed.

Service on the Missouri-Kansas-Texas road between St. Louis and Texas and between Kansas City and Parsons, Kan., is approaching normalcy, but trains over this line from Parsons to Oklahoma City still are being routed through Muskogee, Ok., because of a flood of the Verdigris River at Coffeyville. It is probable the main line will be in use again tonight or tomorrow.

Wabash trains from Omaha to St. Louis are being detoured between Omaha and Des Moines because of flood conditions between Sumner and Brunswick, Mo., and as a result are running a few hours behind schedule. Louisville & Nashville, Illinois Central and Mobile & Ohio trains to the South are running a bit late but have not ceased operation.

BOY, COUSINS, 18, PLEAD GUILTY OF HOLDUP MURDER

Pair Previously Sentenced to 70 Years for Robberies, Are Given Life Term.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 22.—Spencer Norton and Ralph Perry, 18-year-old cousins, of St. Louis, today pleaded guilty to the murder of A. H. Wiedenmann, Kansas City insurance man, in an attempted holdup March 19, and were sentenced to life imprisonment. Previously they had been given sentences of 70 years on pleas of guilty of seven robbery charges. Prosecutor Page asked that the case go to trial and he had intended to ask for the death penalty.

Norton and Perry were returned here recently from Los Angeles, where they were arrested. Norton accompanied detectives to St. Louis where some of the loot in robberies he committed was found at the home of his mother, 3950 McRee avenue. He served a shorkt term in the St. Louis House of Detention several months ago for acting as lookout in a $6 robbery.

100,000 More May Be Made Homeless by the Flood

He telphoned to Natchez that some persons had climbed to chimneys and tree tops.

Hundreds of men were piling sandbags frantically in a useless effort to hold Stops Landing levee when it broke. Many of them narrowly escaped the onrush of water and several Negroes were drowned. The breach was half a mile wide.

There are three danger points in the levees close to Greenville, where workers are concentrating their efforts. The spread of water from Stops Landing is expected to cover a broad and populous territory between the Mississippi and Yazoo Rivers, including the Sunflower River Valley. Hundreds of persons were rescued by boats from roofs and trees in the rural districts yesterday.

6000 Refugees in Greenville.

During the morning the water in Greenville was rising at the rate of three inches an hour, the depth in the residential sections varying from one inch to six feet. Six thousand refugees from the flooded lowlands are in the city and a food shortage is feared unless new supplies are brought. Livestock driven into the city from the countryside ran wild through the streets today.

Greenville was without train and mail service. Communication is maintained by telephone and telegraph, but officials fear these may be interrupted before the day passes. More than 1000 persons left the city last night on the last train run over the Yazoo & Mississippi Railway. Others prepared today to leave as soon as transportation could be provided.

Shortly after the Stops Landing levee broke, another earthen barrier gave way 40 miles upstream, on the Arkansas side, at Knowlton, above the mouth of the Arkansas and White Rivers. This is flooding another large area.

Cry in Vain or Help.

Going upstream after the Knowlton break, the steamboat Wabash, loaded with refugees and towing a full barge, passed many persons crying for aid, but could not take them aboard. The Wabash went to Helena, Ark.

Another levee in this sector broke last night, between Pendleton and Medford, Ark., a little way above the mouth of the Arkansas River. Parts of Desha and Chicot counties, Ark., and Ouachita and Morehouse parishes, La., are expected to be inundated.

Forty miles south of Greenville, on the Mississippi, a levee at Albemarle Bend, Miss., is gradually giving way. Water already is rushing over its top over a stretch of six miles. Eight counties of Mississippi in the vicinity of Greenville and Albemarle Bend, and a score or more of towns and cities are in the path of the flood, and those sections which hope to remain above water are preparing to care for thousands of refugees.

Relief work in this district went forward rapidly today. Three new detachments of the Mississippi National Guard were ordered to duty by Adjutant-General Green, following a conference with Gov. Murffee and Levee Board and Government officers at Vicksburg, at which it was decided to establish permanent refugee camps at Greenwood, Vicksburg and Yazoo City.

Gen. Green telegraphed Secretary of War Davis on his arrival at Greenville that the State authorities and Red Cross would be unable to cope with the situation. He asked for tents and rations for the flood sufferers, declaring that immediate relief is "absolutely necessary in the greatest crisis ever to come to the Mississippi delta." Two medical detachments connected with the 157th Infantry and the 106th Engineers were assembled at Cleveland, Miss., and will aid in caring for the refugees.

In the St. Francis River basin of Missouri and Arkansas, spurred by the waters from the New Madrid, (Mo.) gap in the levee, residents have fled in the face of the inevitable deluge which is slowly creeping southward. There is no outlet for this flood until the water has covered an area more than a hundred miles long and many miles wide. It will probably find the Mississippi again from the St. Francis into which it will flow near Helena.

Responding to the inflowing tides from the New Madrid area, waters of Big Lake, in Arkansas, and the Little River are rising. Authorities believed the Big Lake water would increase six feet from this influx. Towns and residents in the St. Francis Valley southward were prepared to receive the steadily advancing floods.

At 11 o'clock last night water began pouring over the levee near Cora City, about 15 miles south of Chester, Ill. Reports this morning are that a break has been prevented and that the crews at work will be able to hold it. Should the break occur an estimated acreage of 200,000 will be inundated.

About 1000 men were working today to reinforce a levee between Charleston and Commerce, in Southeastern Missouri, and between 300 and 500 men were similarly employed on a levee near Caruthersville, Mo.

Reelfoot Levee Buttressed.

After a fight of more than 24 hours, in which sand bags and lumber bulwarks were used, the Reelfoot Lake levee, between the Mississippi and Reelfoot Lake, south of Hickman, Ky., is believed to have been made strong enough to withstand the flood. Last night there was a 25-mile wind that dashed waves over the levee top. A large area of Tennessee and Kentucky would be inundated if this barrier broke. The river at Hickman today was three inches lower than yesterday, due to levee breaks to the south, and the crest of the lower Mississippi flood today is in the vicinity of Hickman and New Madrid, which is under water.

Business in Hickman, where the main street is submerged, virtually stopped while all available men worked on the Reelfoot levee. Because of numerous hills back of this town, the Red Cross has made Hickman a concentration camp for refugees, of whom there are about 2400 now, including 900 brought from New Madrid yesterday by steamboat.

The Sikeston (Mo.) Chamber of Commerce has written the Post-Dispatch that Sikeston, 20 miles north of New Madrid and away from the river, is in no danger from the flood, because it stands on high ground.

At Vidalia, La., a man is held in jail for investigation of an alleged plot to dynamite the levee at Bourg, 40 miles south of that point. Levees throughout the lower district were reported in good condition, but every precaution was being taken to care for the rise. The workmen are from two to four feet ahead of the rising water.

Protecting New Orleans.

Along the New Orleans water front every possible step is being taken to protect the city. At Carrollton avenue, in the upper half of the Cresent Bend, workmen are sandbagging the levees which are said to be sufficiently high at that point to care for the expected rise. Added precaution was taken to prevent water from being blown over the levee by the wind. The levees at that point protect the exclusive uptown residential section.

Texarkana, Ark.-Tex., reported that the Ouachita River, on its second rise of the year, had inundated 800 square miles of Texas and Arkansas soil.

Pine Bluff, Ark., reported that more than 1000 persons were marooned in Jefferson County alone by water flowing through gaps in the Arkansas River levee. Rescue work is slow, due to the high winds and many of the refugees are standing out in the open.

Fort Smith, Ark., cut of from the use of wire communication to the East, is believed to be suffering from an increasingly dangerous situation. Scores of other smaller towns and cities in that section of the State also were cut off.

The Mississippi has been steadily rising at Quincy, Ill., but is still several feet below the top of the levees. Levees on the Missouri side of the river are patroled for weak spots by snake and crawfish or muskrat holes. They have been built to withstand a stage of 21 feet, but with the high wind dashing the waves against the top a 20-foot stage would prove dangerous. All lands outside the levees, some of them under cultivation, are inundated.

Motor Boats Sent From St. Louis.

Eighteen motor boats and men to operate them were shipped from St. Louis to Arkansas by the Red Cross last night, to be launched for rescue and relief work wherever the train might be forced to stop by high water.

Rains were general east of the Mississippi River and over the whole flood area last night, and the nation still is shivering under low temperatures.

The Mississippi will rise slowly from Louisiana, Mo., to just below Chester, Ill., Weather Forecaster Hayes predicted, and will reach the following stages: Grafton, Ill., at the mouth of the Illinois River, 25.5 feet by Sunday; Alton, 30.5 by Sunday; St. Louis, as previously predicted, 36 by Monday; Chester, 35 by Wednesday. Stage at St. Louis at 7 a. m. today was 34.9 feet, the same as at that hour yesterday. Cairo had a stage of 55.8 feet today, a fall of .4 of a foot in 24 hours, but Memphis had 45.6, a rise of .3.

The crest of the Illinois River flood is between Peru and Henry. The crest of the Missouri River flood is slightly above Boonville, where the stage tomorrow will be 23.5 feet. Hermann, Mo., will have 27 feet Sunday, and St. Charles, where today's gauge was 31.5, will have 32.5 Monday. The Grand River (Mo.) will rise slightly today and start falling tonight, and the Osage and Black will continue to fall.

SCHOOL'S WALLS CRACKED

Signal Hill School, on the western soutskirts of Belleville, was dismissed today at the direction of John Miller, County Superintendent of Schools, when cracks were discovered in the brick walls of the school building. It is thought the cracks were caused by the sinking of an underground passage or an abandoned coal mine in the vicinity.

An investigation will be made immediately to determine if the school is unsafe for occupancy. Two hundred and seventy-five students attend the school.

TOWNSFOLK FLEE FROM SOUTHEAST MISSOURI FLOOD

Water From One to Three Feet Deep Reported at Lilbourn, Three Miles West of New Madrid.

By the Associated Press.

SIKESTON, Mo., April 22.—Inhabitants of Lilbourn and Catron, Southeastern Missouri towns, were fleeing last night before the flood.

Lilbourn, a town of 1000 population, three miles west of New Madrid, was inundated to a depth of from one to three feet. Officials of the Frisco Railroad made up a train which carried several hundred inhabitants south to safety.

The water had reached the first floors in most of the stores and homes and was expected to rise another foot. The town was unapproachable by highway or boat, and wire communication was cut off.

In Catron, a hamlet of 50, not far from New Madrid, the water had crept up to the first floors of dwellings.

A break was threatened today in the Texas Bend levee, 10 miles north of Charleston. Fifty men and 10,000 sand bags were rushed from here when a call for assistance was received. With the arrival of the reinforcements, 425 men were engaged in strengthening the barrier. A break at this point would result in raising the water in flooded New Madrid and in the inundation of Charleston, a town of 4000 population, and East Prairie, a small village eight miles south of there.

Between 1000 and 1500 men worked diligently all last night to save the levee between Drinkwater and Bird's Point, Mo., and this morning Government engineers said the extreme crisis had apparently passed. Many men still are patrolling the levee, although the Mississippi fell 2-10ths of a foot during the night at Bird's Point. The extreme danger is caused by a brisk wind which is whipping waves over the Missouri levee.

Water pouring through broken Mississippi levees has covered more than 300,000 acres of rich delta land in Southeastern Missouri, engineers of the State Highway Department estimate.

Nearly all of fertile New Madrid County is under water, although a small part of the eastern half is fairly dry. Half of Dunklin County is an expanse of water, broken in places by ridges and knolls. Thousands of acres in Pemiscot County also are inundated.

Cape Girardeau, Mo., Is Sheltering 700 Refugees.

By the Associated Press.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., April 22.—Seven hundred refugees are being cared for here with the prospect that it will be several weeks before the water recedes from their inundated farms. In the section north of Cairo, Ill., dwellings have been washed away and livestock drowned. The entire area must be rebuilt.

Included in the latest arrivals were 50 who had been marooned in box cars near Gale, Ill., and rescued only a short time before the water reached them. A woman 84 years old and a mother with a 3-days'-old baby were among them.

Waters Receding at Cairo, Ill., After Setting New High Mark.

By the Associated Press.

CAIRO, Ill., April 22.—Although the flood hereabouts receded today, hundreds of men were called to build bulkheads in the Cairo levees where weak places were discovered.

Gov. Small, in a telephone conversation with Mayor-Elect August Bode, promised to send 100,000 sacks to strengthen the weakened levees. Senator Deneen of Chicago also said he would ask the War Department for 100,000 more sacks. Three thousand were shipped from Clinton, Ill., 10,000 more from Centralia, and an additional 80,000 from La Salle.

Sacks and man power, the two principal factors in fighting floods, have been plentiful during the present emergency here and are believed to have saved Cairo's industrial area, just inside the levees, which are considered impregnable.

The waters receded yesterday after reaching the crest of Cairo's worst flood, which registered 56.4 on the local gauge.

W. E. Barron, weather observer, today forecast that rivers in this section would continue to fall for an indefinite period, and that the falling of the Ohio would take care of any rise that might come down from the upper Mississippi.

State Health Department Takes Charge in Flooded Areas.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 22.—Dr. E. R. Coffey, Assistant Surgeon-General of the United States Public Health Service, assigned to the Missouri State Board of Health, will direct field operations of the State Health Department in the flooded areas of Southeast Missouri, Dr. James Stewart, secretary of the Board of Health, announced yesterday.

Dr. Stewart will proceed to the flood areas tomorrow to be in personal contact with the work of the department.

County health departments of Pemicost, New Madrid and Dunklin counties have been merged into one unit for flood relief work. Besides the medical officers of the three departments, the State Health Commissioner has directed five public health nurses to proceed to the stricken sections.

High Water at Beardstown, Ill., Forces Closing of Schools.

By the Associated Press.

BEARDSTOWN, Ill., April 22.—With the river at 23.5 feet today, residents of the inundated city were building a board walk over the water standing in the streets so that students could attend high school. All grade schools are closed and the high school will be closed at the end of today's session.

The courthouse is surrounded by water.

With the aid of hip boots, streets in the higher sections of the city can be navigated, but boats are necessary from the Combs levee to the railroad tracks.

COOLIDGE APPEALS FOR GIFTS TO RED CROSS FLOOD RELIEF

Presidential Proclamation Cites Immediate Need for Thousands of Dollars in Emergency Which "Is Indeed Grave."

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—President Coolidge today issued a proclamation asking for aid for the sufferers in the area flooded by the Mississippi River and its tributaries. The flood situation "is indeed grave," the proclamation said, and for the task of caring for the thousands of refugees "additional funds must be obtained immediately."

The proclamation follows:

"To the people of the United States: Eight states of the Union are suffering one of the most extensive floods in the history of the country. For more than two weeks the waters of the Mississippi River and its tributaries, swollen to record volume have been overwhelming and breaking through the levees raised to confine them within their courses. They have deluged millions of acres of agricultural lands, inundated many towns, and driven thousands of people from their homes. The crest of the flood is advancing southward, daily creating new ruin.

Situation Growing Worse.

"In the past few days the situation, instead of improving as had been hoped, has been rapidly growing worse. The flood waters have continually forced new breaches in the levees despite the efforts of hundreds of workers, with consequent increased destruction.

"The American Red Cross reports that, by a most conservative estimate there are now more than 75,000 refugees from the floods who must be cared for by the Red Cross. While this emergency continues, which will be for weeks, these refugees must be fed, sheltered and clothed. Their health must be protected.

"In the event that the floods rise to the predicted higher levels in the next few days, the number whose most primary needs must be cared for will be quickly doubled or trebled. The situation is indeed grave.

"The Government is giving such aid as lies within its power. Government boats that are available are being used to rescue those in danger and carry refugees to safety. The War Department is providing the Red Cross with tents for housing refugees. The National Guard, State and local authorities are assisting. But the burden of caring for the homeless rests upon the agency designated by Government charter to provide relief in disaster—the American National Red Cross. For so great a task additional funds must be obtained immediately.

Urges Gifts to Red Cross.

"It therefore becomes my duty as President of the United States and president of the American National Red Cross to direct the sympathy of our people to the sad plight of thousands of their fellow citizens, and to urge that generous contributions be promptly forthcoming to alleviate their suffering

"In order that there may be the utmost coordination and effectiveness in the administration of the relief fund, I recommend that all contributions, clearly designated, be forwarded to the nearest local Red Cross chapter, or to the American National Red Cross headquarters offices at Washington, St. Louis or San Francisco.

"I am confident that as always in the past, the people will support the Red Cross in its humane task.

"CALVIN COOLIDGE."

President Coolidge appointed four Cabinet members to co-operate with the Red Cross

Secretaries Mellon, Davis of the War Department, Wilbur and Hoover, comprise the committee. They arranged an afternoon conference with Red Cross officers to outline the course of Government co-operation during the emergency.

It was emphasized at the White House that the Red Cross would retain complete control of the relief problem and that the Cabinet committee would organize Government agencies to be placed at its disposal. It was expected that Mellon would offer the services of the public health and coast guard, and that surplus supplies of the army and navy would be drawn on.

DAUGHTER'S SLAYER CONVICTED

FREEHOLD, N. J., April 22.—Mrs. Christine Stoble, 39 years old, mother of 10 children, today was found guilty of manslaughter for the killing of her 16-year-old daughter, Rosa. Supreme Court Justice Lloyd sentenced her to 10 years in State prison.

Mrs. Stoble shot her daughter when she found her in the celiar of their home with a new-born babe.

FLIES 100 MILES AN HOUR TAKING YEAST TO FLOOD CITIES

Air Mail Pilot Phil Love Carries 570 Pounds to Little Rock; Another Flyer Sails.

Because of the uncertain train service to Arkansas, due to the flood, airplanes were used to send shipments of yeast from St. Louis to Little Rock and Hot Springs yesterday and early today.

Pilot Phil Love, air mail flyer, took off from Lambert Field in a plane of the Robertson Aircraft Corporation at 3 p. m., with a cargo of 570 pounds of yeast consigned to Arkansas distributers of the Fleischmann Yeast Co. Love, using an air mail plane and aided by a favorable wind, averaged better than 100 miles an hour for the 315-mile trip, arriving at Lttle Rock at 5:45 p. m. Another plane of the Robertson Corporation departed at 4:30 a. m. today for Little Rock with a similar cargo for Arkansas distributers of the Red Star Yeast and Produce Co. of Chicago.

Local officials of the two yeast companies explained today that the danger of the flood interrupting the constant supply of yeast to their Arkansas agencies caused them to call on the Robertson company. Subsequent shipments will be sent by plane until the railroad situation improves, they said.

Kills Alligator Found Injured During Tornado.

Joseph Fuchs, wh loives in the northeastern section of Jerseyville, Ill., saw an object fall through the air and strike the ground Tuesday afternoon, when the tornado was passing a few miles away, and found it was an alligator 15 inches long. It appeared to be badly wounded and he killed it. The twister passed 10 miles to the northeast of Jerseyville.

Fifty Farmers Build Up Levee North of Centaur Station.

About 50 farmers, in response to a call of the St. Louis County Farm Bureau, are strengthening a 300-yard levee north of Centaur Station, St. Louis County, on the Missouri River, which protects 4000 acres of the richest farming land in the county. Waves six feet high are beating against the levee and if a break is forced the district around Chesterfield, Hot Hollow, Monarch and Gumbo, containing 100 families, will be inundated. A crew of men labored on the levee through the night, since, according to Weather Bureau reports, the river will be even higher. The theatened district is devoted largely to potato raising.

CITY TAKES FIGHT ON 8-CENT FARE TO UTILITIES BOARD

RECEIVER GETS DELAY IN HEARING TO MAY 17

University City Joins in Protest at State Capital, Declaring Move Is to Aid Reorganization.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 22.—Hearing in the application of the receiver of the United Railways for an 8-cent carfare in St. Louis was adjourned today by the Public Service Commission until May 17.

T. E. Francis, attorney for the receiver, said the company would require several days to present its evidence and that it preferred to present it in its entirety, rather than piecemeal. The commission had conflicting settings for next week.

The receiver is asserting the right of the company to an 8-cent fare upon a claim that its property is worth $75,000,000, and that it is entitled to an 8 per cent return upon that figure.

Two challengers appeared—the City of St. Louis and the City of University City. Counsellor Muench, in an answer filed today for the city, declared it was reasonable to expect that when the company is turned over to its new owners, the St. Louis Public Service Co., operating expenses will be reduced and there then will be no need of any more than the present 7-cent fare.

Valuation Figure Disputed.

"It is a matter of common knowledge," the city's answer declares, "that propertfies cannot be operated as economically under a receivership as under private ownership."

The city denies that the property is worth $75,000,000. The receiver arrived at that estimate by employing the reproduction valuation theory to which the United States Supreme Court has been giving weight—that the value of public utilities is the sum required to reproduce them at recent prices, with a subtraction for depreciation to reflect the physical condition of the property.

The city declares that an 8 per cent return is too high.

University City, through its attorney, Joseph H. Grand, declares that the fact that the receiver is applying for a fare increase at a time when the receivership is about to end, reveals the action as taken in behalf of the reorganizers of the company.

Calls 7-Cent Fare Sufficient.

Grand asserted that the reorganization plan contemplates the reduction of the capitalization of the company from $96,000,000 to approximately $50,000,000 and that a 7-cent fare will be sufficient to pay the fixed obligations of the new company and yield it an adequate return upon its preferred and common stock.

The receiver originally asked only to be permitted an 8-cent cash fare, with two tokens for 15 cents. Recently he amended his petition to a request for a straight 8-cent fare.

MISTAKEN FOR TWIN BROTHER AND SUED BY SISTER-IN-LAW

Abraham Grossman Resolves Coney Island Magistrate's Perplexity by Producing His Double.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 22.—When Abraham Grossman, a Coney Island tailor, was summoned to court last week by Mrs. Ida Grossman, who declared he was her husband and charged him with abandonment, Grossman said:

"I never married this lady—it must have been my twin brother."

All laughed at the alibi. Mrs. Ida Grossman's laugh was bitter, as she exclaimed: "I suppose I know my own husband, don't I?" Incidentally she insisted that his name was Isadore. Her sister supported her claim.

Mrs. Abraham Grossman, the tailor's admitted wife, who was in court, denied Mrs. Ida Grossman's claim. Magistrate Jean Norris, perplexed, adjourned the case until the fingerprints of Abraham Grossman, who served in the war, could be obtained from Washington.

However, all uncertainties were resolved yesterday when Abraham produced Isadore in the flesh and Mrs. Ida Grossman confessed her error. Isadore was ordered to pay $5 a week for the support of his child.

TUCKPOINTER KILLED BY FALL

NOTORIOUS AUTO THIEF ESCAPES ON WAY TO PRISON

"Toupee" Smith, Also Under Indictment in St. Louis, Makes Second Getaway in Six Months.

"Toupee" Smith, characterized by the police as one of the busiest automobile thieves in the country, is at large again. For the second time in six months, he evaded the vigilance of a United States Deputy Marshal early today, this time escaping at Chattanooga, Tenn., while being taken from Columbus, O., to Atlanta penitentiary to serve a seven-year term.

"Toupee," so named from the camouflage cover he wears on his hald head, is Herbert D. Smith, 35 years old, formerly of St. Louis. He has served four penitentiary terms and is under eight indictments in St. Louis for auto thefts.

Last December, after being sentenced, he slipped away from a deputy and climbed through a Federal Building window at Columbus. On April 9 he was arrested in Peoria, Ill., when a former St. Louis detective recognized him and returned to Columbus. Last night he was started for Atlanta wearing handcuffs and leg irons. Today the deputy wired his superior briefly that his prisoner had escaped in Chattanooga.

CORONER ORDERS AUTOPSY ON BODY OF J. J. TATTEN

Coroner Vitt today ordered an autopsy in the death of John J. Tatten, Fifth District Justice of the Peace, who died at the American Hospital, 2800 North Taylor avenue, yesterday.

An investigation of the case was ordered by the Coroner on receipt of a death certificate signed by Dr. N. Shavey of the American Hospital ascribing Tatten's death to "acute cardial dilation, due to alcoholism." The investigation will include an examination of Tatten's stomach contents by Dr. R. B. H. Gradwohl and the summoning for testimony of two men, who took Tatten to the hospital in a stuporous condition Wednesday night.

Tatten, a plastering contractor, was elected to succeed Nick Polito as Justice of the Fifth District. He was a follower of the late Justice "Jimmy" Miles, whom Polito succeeded. He was 49 years old and resided at 4214A Dewey avenue. His widow, two brothers and a sister survive.

MERCHANT AND WIFE HURT

Joseph Weck, 47 years old, a merchant of Kimmswick, Mo., suffered a fractured skull, lacerated scalp and cuts and bruises of the body, and his wife, Louise, 41, suffered fractures of several ribs, internal injuries and a lacerated scalp, when a truck on which they were riding was struck and overturned at Winnebago street and California avenue by a southbound Bellefontaine car.

They were taken to Lutheran Hospital for treatment.

PROSECUTOR TO HURRY MOVIE ACTOR TO TRIAL

Kelly's Lawyers to Learn if Dorothy Mackaye and Raymond Were Legally Wed.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 22.—The District Attorney's office announced today an early trial would be sought for Paul Kelly, following the arraignment of the film player yesterday on an indictment charging him with the murder of Ray Raymond, musical comedy actor.

Meanwhile, attorneys for Kelly are seeking to learn whether Dorothy Mackaye, the actress who figures in the killing, had been legally married to Raymond. They indicated that Florence Bain, another actress and former wife of Raymond, might be called as a defense witness to tell what she knew of Raymond's martial status.

Miss Mackaye, who collapsed after appearing before the grand jury Wednesday, is under a physician's care at her home in Hollywood. She said she was destitute, explaining that Raymond's entire estate consisted of a $300 bank account which had been exhausted.

Kelly yesterday morning sat through a Coroner's inquest and heard the jury's verdict, which held him responsible for Raymond's death. The jurors also found that the actor's death had been superinduced by hypostatic pneumonia following a hemorrhage of the brain.

In the afternoon Kelly appeared for arraignment in Superior Court. At the conclusion of the hearing his lawyers asked for a continuance until next Monday, to plead The request was granted and Kelly was taken to the county jail where he is held without bail.

SUFFERING INTENSE IN REFUGEE CAMPS

Thousands in Arkansas Homeless With Little Food or Shelter.

By the Associated Press

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 22.—There is widespread suffering from cold, disease and lack of food in refugee camps throughout the flood area of Arkansas. In one place it was feared the swollen waters would strike a second blow—at Dell, where a two-foot rise would cover a concentration camp in which 721 refugees are quartered. The water, sweeping in from Big Lake, engulfed by the New Madrid crevasse, was steadily rising.

Almost freezing weather last night found thousands homeless and with little clothing or shelter. Relief workers reported that suffering was intense. In the Little Rock section the mercury hovered a few degrees above the freezing point. During the night flood victims were brought into camp barefoot, and ill-clad children, mothers with hungry babes in their arms, many almost famished for food. Some children taken into a camp near Little Rock were so famished they drank soup so hot it burned their mouths.

In some localities where trains have not run for a week supplies are almost exhausted.

Checking Spread of Disease.

Meanwhile disease thrust itself in new camps and all available health forces were enlisted to prevent its spread. So far, measles, whooping cough and mumps are the prevalent diseases, but danger of typhoid caused officials to send for vaccine in large quantities.

Rescue work continued as new boats and forces were enlisted. Trains have been sent to several localities where rail transportation was dangerous but possible, and two such trains were reported today marooned on the Marianna cut-off between Hughes, Ark., and Memphis, Tenn. The trains, consisting of engine, caboose and 45 box cars each, left Hughes at 2:30 o'clock yesterday.

Several thousand persons were reported in danger in Jefferson County, Ark., where more than half the county is said to be covered with water from the various breaks in the Arkansas River.

Water stood from three to six feet deep in the town of Altheimer and was rising rapidly, with swift current. Sherrill and Tucker also were under water.

Marooned in Trees.

No word has been received from Ferda, in the northwestern part of Jefferson County, where yesterday it was reported that a large number of the inhabitants had taken to trees and housetops to escape the swirling floods.

The levee at Pendleton, on the Arkansas River 50 miles south of Pine Bluff, broke last night. This will flood the major portion of two counties, and the waters will find their way back into the Arkansas near the Mississippi confluence, out will not have serious effect on the situation at Arkansas City. Airplanes are used to rush sacks for sandbags to hold a half dozen levees along the Arkansas River.

Reports from all points on the levee from Blue Hole, five miles south of Helena, to Westover, and Old Town, 15 and 17 miles, respectively, indicate a critical condition. Every available man is being rushed to the threatened sections.

REED REPORTED GETTING ALONG VERY NICELY

Senator, However, Says He Will Stay in Detroit Hospital for Several Days.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DETROIT, Mich., April 22.—Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, who was stricken with acute indigestion last Monday, was getting alone very nicely today at the Henry Ford Hospital, where he is a patient.

Reed appeared pale and weak but said he wasn't feeling ill. His physicians attributed his illness to inflammation of the gall bladder, resulting from an attack of indigestion.

"I rest very nicely while lying here in bed, but I am in pain as soon as I try to walk around the room," Reed said. "I'm not in any danger but I think I'll stay here several days and then I'll be all right."

MAHLON WALLACE DECIDES TO LOWER HIS 22-FOOT WALL

Country Club Neighbors Think Alterations Will Give Clifton McMillan a Better View.

Interested neighbors in the Country Club district judge that the Southern view from the home of Clifton H. McMillan may be improved by esthetic changes that Mahlon B. Wallace Jr. contemplates in a 300-foot Spanish garden wall along the northern side of his adjoining property.

That wall has had neighborly interest running up to normal, at least. It is 22 feet high and toward its western end comes within 20 feet of McMillan's home. Wallace has countered speculation that it might be a "spite fence"—coming to him indirectly, as neighborly speculation does—with the explanation that it was designed to give, with a wall less than half as tall on another side and judiciously placed shrubbery, the fitting touch of beauty and seclusion to a Spanish garden.

"We finished it recently by the architect's plans," he said today, "and then decided the western end looked blunt. Now we're planning, with other changes, to make the west end conform with the height of the lower wall, and slope it up gradually to a tower back toward the middle of the wall. I doubt that the change will affect Mr. McMillan's view. The wall is not in front of his home, but on the side, as it is."

WOMAN SUES TO REGAIN CUSTODY OF 16-YEAR-OLD GIRL

Mrs. Julia Sappington Alleges Adopted Daughter Was Taken Away From Her Unlowfully.

The custody of 16-year-old Mildred Sappington is at issue in an application for a writ of habeas corpus filed today by Mrs. Julia Sappington of 4350 Hartford street against Alex Moseley, Cathleen Moseley and the Marquise de Janelli, all residing at the Coronado Hotel.

Mrs. Sappington states that Mildred is her adopted daughter whom she reared from infancy. She legally adopted the girl Dec. 16, 1916, and in 1249 was appointed curatrix of Mildred's estate. Now, she alleges, the three persons named as defendants have obtained custody of Mildred, unlawfully.

The application was assigned to the Court of Domestic Relations.

GIRL, 6, SEARED WITH HOT IRON, TESTIFIES

Her Fosterfather, E. S. Pratt, Offered "Something Nice" to Drop Case, Detective Says.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—James Devine, a detective employed by Hotel Plaza, today testified in Special Sessions Court that on April 1 Everett S. Pratt of Des Moines, Ia., then a guest at the hotel, had promised that he would "do something nice" for him if the proceedings involving his wife and their adopted daughter, Roberta Jane, were dropped.

The detective testified after the six-year-old child had told in court that Mrs. Pratt, who was seated in the courtroom, had burned her legs and feet with a curling iron. Mrs. Pratt is charged with third degree assault.

Devine said he saw Pratt in the lobby looking around for his foster daughter and he told him he would find her at the children's society.

"You will also find the curling iron wtih which the child said she was burned missing from the top dresser drawer, I told Pratt," Devinne said. "Later I received a phone call and went to Pratt's room where he and Mrs. Pratt were present. Pratt said that while he was not the richest man in the hotel, he had plenty of money and if the proceedings were stopped he would get a maid for Roberta and see that she didn't sleep on the floor and in addition would do something very nice for me."

Roberta, attired in a bright red dress with fur trimmings, said she had been living with her mother and "Daddy" at the Hotel Plaza for she did not know how long, when one night Mrs. Pratt burned her for leaving the room in the hotel during the absence of her foster parents at night.

"What did she burn you with?" she was asked. "With a curling iron."

"Was it attached to the electricity?" "Yes, it was in the light above the dressing table."

"Where did she burn you?" "Here and here," indicating the right instep and left ankle.

Justice Healy interrupted to ask, "Were your stockings on at that time?" "Yes," answered Roberta. 'She put the iron inside my stocking."

The child testified she had been whipped with a hand mirror and with a hook for your clothes and a shoe tree."

"Was there any pain?" "No, there was no pain."

"Did you sometimes tell stories and take things?" "Yes."

NEWLY PAINTED HOMES SPATTERED WITH CREOSOTE

Four men, riding in a large touring car, drove to the newly painted home of Horace Culling at 6829 Waterman avenue, University City, last night and threw electric light bulbs filled with creosote against the porch and walls. They then drove to four other homes in the vicinity of University City, repeating their procedure.

Other homes, all of them recently painted by nonunion painters, splattered with creosote were those of Bernard H. Woeldke, 6822 Kingsbury boulevard; Benjamin A. Strauss, 6833 Waterman avenue; a recently completed residence at 6636 Pershing avenue, and the home of C. L. Campbell on Polo drive, near Hanley road, St. Louis County.

OHIO BANK, $165,000 SHORT, CLOSED AND CASHIER HELD

Bridgeport Officer Said to Have Admitted He Is Partly to Blame.

By the Associated Press.

BRIDGEPORT, O., April 22.—A State bank here, owned by the Bridgeport Banking Co., was closed today by State bank examiners when a shortage of between $165,000 and $200,000 was discovered W. E. Thomas, cashier of the bank for 20 years, was arrested and is held without charge.

Interviewed in jail by Prosecuting Attorney P. B. Waddell, Thomas was said to have admitted responsibility for about $50,000 of the shortage. He also is said to have taken the blame for some of the conditions which exist, but denied he was wholly responisble. The discrepancy was brought about partly by overdrafts, Thomas told Waddell, the latter said.

About a year ago the Dollar Savings Bank here, a State institution, closed. At that time the Bridgeport Banking Co.'s bank was made the depository for the Dollar bank's funds, pending liquidation. In addition to this money, county and city funds will be tied up pending investigation of the Bridgeport bank's affairs.

POLAR FLYER WILL VISIT CITY

Antonio Quattrini to Address St. Louis Fascisti Tomorrow.

Antonio Quattrini, Italian newspaper man, who accompanied Amundsen and Nobile in their flight across the North Pole in the dirigible Norge, will arrive in St. Louis at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow. At 8 p. m. he will address Italian Fascisti here at the Italian Fraternal Building, Delmar boulevard and Vandeventer avenue, on "The Birth of Rome." Quattrini is American correspondent for the Impero and a number of other Fascist newspapers. He will stay at Hotel Chase.

BABY HIPPO ESCAPES FOR LARK AROUND ZOO

Captured After 20 Minutes of Roaming and Four-Hour Defiance in Corral.

The pygmy hippopotamus, newest acquisition to the St. Louis Zoo, was at large in Forest Park last night. He roamed around the Zoo grounds for some 20 minutes, between 7 and 8 o'clock, until the night keeper, by the trick of opening the gates of all the empty paddocks, succeeded in coralling the animal when he unwittingly bounded through an open gate. It was midnight before he was subdued and back in his quarters at the elephant house.

Though only 16 months old and weighing but 300 pounds, the hippo is a rambunctious fellow. Since his arrival Tuesday night he has been making the lives of his keepers miserable with lamentations for his mother in the Philadelphia zoo and demonstrative complaints against his quarters here. Though he has never seen his natural habitat, Liberia in West Africa, he resents new Zoo surroundings.

Last night, however, the pygmy apparently dreamed of marshy jungles and made a frantic effort to escape. Throwing himself against the tile walls of his cel. until his nails bled. he apparently caught the latch of the door and yanked it open. In the small paddock outside, he threw himself against the gate and burst another lock. He was on the main path through the zoo grounds when the keeper saw him.

The animal was confined in the ostrich paddock, where he had been lured by the night keeper, when other keepers arrived to complete the capture. It took four hours to corner the beast, bind him and return him to the elephant house.

George P. Vierheller, secretary of the Zoo, who bought the hippo recently for $2800, is hopeful that it will suffer no ill effects from exposure to the cold. Frequently, he said, wild animals are fractious and unmanageable when transferred to new climates and new surroundings.

MILLIONAIRE'S DAUGHTER FREE

Charge Against Betty Borden in Auto Crash Called "Malicious."

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 22.—After terming the prosecution "malicious," Judge Borrelli dismissed a charge against Betty Borden, 17-year-old daughter of John Borden, millionaire sportsman and explorer.

She had been booked for assault with a deadly weapon because her automobile ran down and injured Mrs. Gertrude Hakanson.

VERMONT GOOD WILL TOURISTS VISIT CITY

Place Five Carloads of Exhibits on Display and Dine at Chamber of Commerce.

The Vermont special train, bearing 141 Green Mountain crusaders for trade and good will, arrived on schedule in St. Louis yesterday, but George H. Cary, the maple sugar king, was not aboard. This is the sap-collecting time in Vermont, and Cary, who controls the largest maple sugar factory in the world, at St. Johnsbury, Vt., could not get away.

He sent along, however, tested samples of his product, one of which was presented to Mayor Miller and another to Lon Sanders, who presided at the Chamber of Commerce dinner and reception to the visiting Vermonters, in St. Louis for 16 hours to boost their native State.

Vermont is a little place, but trade kings there are not uncommon, and when too many persons had inquired about the absence of Cary, the Vermonters brought forth an equally distinguished citizen—Joseph Brown, the clothes pin king. Brown is also the rolling pin king, but he prefers the former title.

Baby Blankets and Milk.

While the Vermonters, all of whom are known to John Garibaldi Sargent, United States Attorney-General, by their first names, were being dined at the Chamber of Commerce, their five exhibition cars were thrown open to public inspection at Union Station. The booths therein display everything from baby blankets to tombstones, including a bottle of milk reputed to have come from the famous Vermont cow that gives 32, or is it 35, quarts a day.

Along with Green Mountain apples, potatoes, cheeses, croquet sets, chicken feeds, tobacco stands, refrigerators, yarns, both granite and marble plaques and headstones, there were on view some spanking Lake Memphremagog trout and bass (mounted), a white owl, a stuffed Green Mountain bobcat, and a stuffed black bear of the sort that is found every few years or so around Plymouth Notch.

Believe Their "Cal" Will Win.

Gov. John E. Weeks, head of the party, which is touring the country, expressed the hope that Calvin Coolidge might consent to run for a third term, and the belief, if such turns out to be the case, that the former Plymouth boy cannot do other than win. This was the prevailing sentiment among the Vermonters, many of whom know the President as Cal.

Vermont has produced other prominent public men besides Coolidge, according to Franz A. Hunt, Newport, Vt., editor, among them being Ethan Allen, John Garibaldi Sargent and Senators Morrill, Edmunds and Proctor.

"Possibly," Hunt said, "the fact that our State boundaries are largely water (the Connecticut River on the east and Lake Champlain on the west) and that it is ribbed by the Green Mountains traversing its entire length in the center, explains the rugged character of her citizens."

The delegation left in its 14-car special train for Springfield, Ill., at 11:30 a. m. today.

Here's the Latest--Cod Liver Oil in Tasteless Tablets

Greatest Flesh Builder for Skinny, Weak, Run-Down People—Full of Vitamines.

No more will weak, thin, unfortunate children cry in protest when the nasty, fishy-tasting, horrible-smelling cod liver oil is brought out.

Medical science progresses rapidly, and now you can get at your druggist's cod liver oil in sugar-coated tablets that young and old can take with ease and pleasure.

Even the run-down and skinny grown-ups, who ought to take cod liver oil, because it really is the greatest vitamine food and builder of healthy flesh in the world, will feel extremely joyful when they read this welcome news.

Of course, doctors have been prescribing cod liver oil in tablets under another name for several years, but it is only of late that one can walk into a drug store and get a box of these flesh-producing tablets just as easy as a bottle of cough syrup.

Thin, run-down, anaemic men, women and children who need to grow strong and take on flesh are advised to get a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, and if you don't gain 5 pounds in 30 days just get your money back.

One woman gained fifteen pounds in five weeks, according to her own doctor—another ten pounds in three weeks. A very sickly child, aged nine, twelve pounds in seven months, and now plays with other children and has a good appetite.

Just ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. Any good druggist will tell you that they are wonderful flesh and health builders. Only 60 cents for 60 tablets—and don't forget that they are wonder workers for feeble old folks.

Get McCoy's, the original and genuine, and beware of imitations.

INQUIRY ORDERED AFTER INTERVIEW ENDS FORD TRIAL

Judge Directs Prosecutor to Proceed Against Detroit Times if Circumstances Warant It.

DETROIT, Mich., April 22.—Interest in the $1,000,000 libel suit of Aaron Sapiro against Henry Ford and the Dearborn Independent today centered on plans for a new trial.

A mistrial was declared in Federal District Court yesterday after the trial had continued for five weeks.

Attorneys for both sides are under agreement to meet with Federal District Judge Raymond April 30 to discuss arrangements for a new trial, but shortage of funds with which to pay jurors may cause postponement of a new start until after the end of the fiscal year, June 30, when new appropriations will be available. Some of the attorneys are likely to object to courtroom work during the summer months. This may lead to a postponement until as late as September.

The first trial began March 15, upon 141 allegations of libel, later reduced to 86. Judge Raymond discharged the jury yesterday, after a showing that Mrs. Cora Hoffman, a woman member of the jury, had given an interview to the Detroit Times. Allegations of misconduct as a juror had been made against Mrs. Hoffman and in the interview she denied having been guilty of any improprieties. This denial in itself was the impropriety which ended the trial.

Before he discharged the jury, Judge Raymond said from the bench that, while she might have been guilty of indiscretions and improprieties, incomplete reports from the Department of Justice created grave doubt that "this juror intentionally participated in any bribery or attempted bribery."

The Judge assailed the Detroit Times for publishing the interview and instructed John A. Baxter, the acting United States District Attorney, to institute an investigation, and, if his findings warranted, to file informations alleging contempt of court against the publishers of the Times, the reporter who interviewed Mrs. Hoffman, and any others responsible for the interview. Baxter said that it would require at least a week for him to complete his inquiry.

William Henry Gallagher, chief of counsel for Sapiro, in a deposition filed with the court in reply to defense statements supporting the motion for a mistrial, said that long before the trial opened he had investigated methods employed by Ford in litigation.

Gallagher said he had "learned that the agents of Ford make a practice of tapping telephone wires, wiring the private rooms of principals and even the chambers of Judges, examining sealed mail, examining private baggage, engaging merchants in the vicinity of jurors' homes to spread favorable propaganda, going into the homes of jurors posing as salesmen and then issuing propaganda to the families of the jurors, sending a note of warning to a juror at his home and shadowing jurors, witnesses, litigants, attorneys, Judges and visitors to the courtroom; and that he apprised his client and those associated with him of such and other similar practices'.'

Text of the Newspaper Interview That Caused Mistrial.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DETROIT, Mich., April 22.—Following is the Detroit Times' story of April 19 about Mrs. Cora Hoffman, woman juror, that caused a mistrial of the Ford libel suit:

"Mrs. Hoffman, questioned by newspaper men in her home at 5158 Fourteenth street, today admitted that she had been grilled by Judge Raymond regarding charges that she had taken a woman into the women's jury room and discussed the trial with her.

" 'I told the Judge that I did recall meeting a strange woman in the hall and merely granting her request to let her use the rest room. I do not know the woman.'

"Mrs. Hoffman then admitted she had been questioned regarding her conversation about the Federal Building with J. Miller of 639 Westminster avenue, who, she said, is a real estate salesman.

" 'I told the Judge that I talked with Miller several times about selling a flat owned by my husband and myself, but I never discussed the Ford-Sapiro trial with him. As a matter of fact, the last time I talked to him I told him to quit hanging around the court and pestering me, and to get out and sell the apartment house.'

" 'Before I was called on this panel I had never heard of Sapiro and I knew nothing about Mr. Ford's matters. I did not even know the first day I went to court that it was this matter coming up. I have never before done jury service of any sort. I never said to anyone that I would give a verdict against Ford no matter how many weeks of testimony I had to hear. I've warned my friends not to talk to me about the case.' "

Earlier in the story is the following:

"Meanwhile, Mrs. Hoffman denied making any derogatory remarks about Henry Ford or that she had determined to vote favorably to Sapiro, the so-called 'wheat king,' when deliberations began.

" 'It looked to me as if certain people were trying to get hold of something to have the case thrown out of court,' she said."

RED CROSS TO PAY FOR BOATS IN FLOODED AREA

Hiring Arrangement Decided Upon in Hope Of Obtaining 60 More Craft Quickly.

To meet the desperate need for motor boats and men to use them in life-saving work in the flood-swept Arkansas River district below Little Rock, the American Red Cross, midwestern division, today arranged to hire and pay for boats and men, in the hope that as many as 60 of these craft could be placed in service by tomorrow.

Six St. Louis men who volunteered their services and the use of their boats, in response to the appeal published yesterday afternoon, left on a special train last night and are now in Arkansas. They are George Tobin, A. Braun-ing, P. L. Petteler, George Butler, Samuel Adams and Ernest Duke.

The appeal made yesterday was for 50 motorboats, but urgent messages received today, telling of the danger to life in the towns and countryside, caused the Red Cross officials to decide that not less than 60 boats and men would be needed. As not that many men can afford to contribute their time and boats, it was decided to pay all, including those who volunteered in response to the first call.

Asked to Telephone.

Those who can furnish boats and run them are asked to telephone the Red Cross at CEntral 6900.

The first appeal was made by P. H. Byrns, executive secretary of the St. Louis Red Cross Chapter, at 12:30 p. m., yesterday. The Missouri Pacific Railroad, on being informed of the need, offered a special train for transportation of the boats and their owners, with free transportation. The Terminal Railroad Association sent out scouts for flat cars on which to load the boats, and had the cars within an hour. The Mississippi-Warrior service furnished labor for transferring the boats to the flat cars at the North Market Municipal Dock. The Standard Oil Co. donated gasoline and lubricating oil sufficient to equip the boats for long trips.

Three of the men and boats came from the St. Louis-Meramec Canoe Co., which rushed the boats into St. Louis by truck from Valley Park on learning of the need.

A call was received from the Sheriff at Sikeston, Mo., asking that four boats be rushed there for relief work. Lester Berry, operator of a motor boat, was employed, and left for Sikeston. Capt. Schwartz of the Missouri Naval Reserves, is endeavoring to obtain other boats to be sent to Sikeston.

The Red Cross has asked the clergy of all churches to make an appeal from their pulpits at Sunday's services, in behalf of the flood sufferers. The ministers are asked to emphasize the need for small as well as large contributions, and to tell their congregations that contributions should be sent to the Red Cross, at the treasurer's office, in the Mercantile Trust Co.

St. Louis contributions to the flood sufferers today reached approximately $66,000, or slightly less than one-third of the $200,000 originally asked for. The prospect is that more than $200,000 will be needed from St. Louis, because of the constantly increasing extent of the loss, and the length of time for which homeless families will have to be maintained.

The number of St. Louis contributions announced up to noon today was 941, and the total of the gifts was $65,944. The number of small gifts showed a great increase over previous days.

Checks and money should be sent or taken to Festus J. Wade, treasurer of the St. Louis Red Cross Chapter, at the Mercantile Trust Co.

Railroad Aiding in Relief.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has placed its facilities at the disposal of the Government, for the dispatch of tents and relief supplies from Eastern points to St. Louis. Here, the supplies will be turned over to other railroads and to the Mississippi-Warrior Barge Line service.

I. R. Kelso of Cape Girardeau, president of the Federation of Missouri Commercial Clubs, has sent out a letter to the commercial organizations of the State, calling their attention to the importance of co-operating with and working through Red Cross chapters. All officers of the commercial bodies are urged to get in touch with the Red Cross, and organize systematically the work of raising the needed funds, in a manner similar to the wartime fund campaigns.

Youthfully Chic Dresses

In the Misses' Frock Shop—Saturday

Will Be Quickly Chosen at $16.75 Sizes 14 to 20 Included

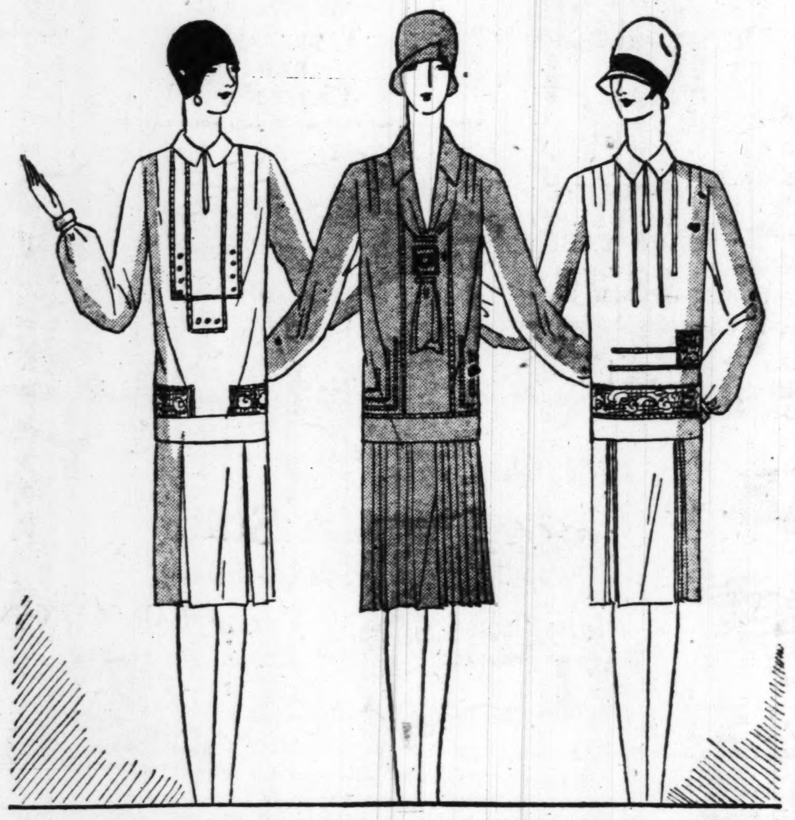
THE last day of Anniversary Week is made important by this event alone—its value giving is unusual—and misses and small women will certainly be quick to select several Frocks. The styles, and there are many of them, tend to the semi-tailored types without which no wardrobe is complete; there are one and two piece and jacket effects—of plain or figured Georgette, flat crepe, novelty silk and crepe de chine, some of the two-piece models having pleated skirts and lace tops.

Polka-dotted models in blue, jacket styles with compose effects, new patterns in dark and bright prints, shoulder flowers, pleats, tucks and new vestees and collars are a few of the features that make these Frocks so extremely desirable.

Misses' Dress Shop—Third Floor.



In the Juniors' Shop

"Lucy Locket" Frocks at $4.65 500 Frocks in All

EVERY mother knows of the charming styles and serviceability of "Lucy Locket" Frocks—that's the reason these new and pretty models will be quickly chosen—they're of printed lawn, dimity and gingham in the newest patterns and colors. One and two piece models—sizes 8 to 14 included—many of sizes 6 to 10 with bloomers.

At $8.75

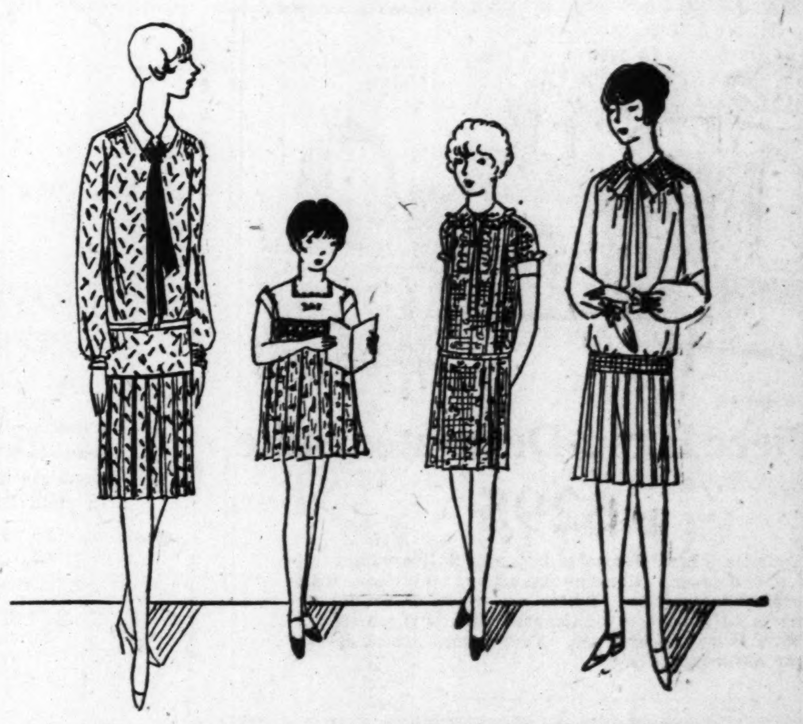
—are 100 children's Silk Frocks in ten new and cunning styles of one and two piece types; printed crepes, printed silks and plain and dotted crepe de chine are the fabrics and there are many colorings. Sizes 6 to 14.

Juniors' Shop—Third Floor.



In the Sports Shop

Washable Silk Crepe Dresses With Handwork

Very Special Saturday at $17.50 Sizes 14 to 42

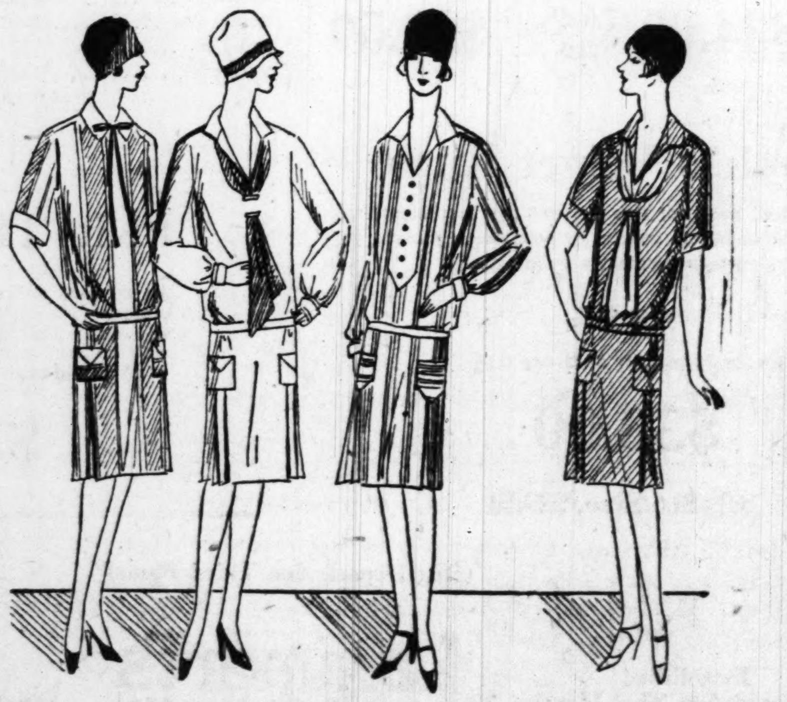
THERE are 150 of these Washable Silk Crepe Dresses—offered for the first time Saturday—and far too exceptional to overlook. They're in one and two piece models, all have pleated skirts and the two-piece styles have silk bodice tops. Aside from the dainty, all-white Frocks, there are pink, beige, orchid, green, maize and light yellow models.

Filet lace inserts tinted to match the silk crepe of the Frock, hand-drawn work and touches of hand embroidery are features that show these Dresses to be worth far more than $17.50.

Sports Shop—Second Floor.



In the House Dress Shop

$9.75 Silk Frocks

$7.95

NEW and extremely attractive Frocks for house and porch wear—or even for street and outings; they're of gleaming twill satin—a new weave that is not only unusually pretty, but guaranteed not to slip or to fade and of tub silks. Bright and medium color effects.

Various new types of collars and necklines—many of the twill satin models having ties of darker shades and the checked silk models having applications of white.

Rains of Last August Primary Cause of Present Flood

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Floods throughout the Mississippi River Valley had their origin in rains that fell about eight months ago in the opinion of Harry C. Frankenfield in charge of the river and flood division of the Government Weather Bureau.

He said today the floods were unparalleled in the record of the bureau, and that in a great part of the inundated territory the crest of the high waters was days or perhaps weeks away, particularly in the Lower Mississippi.

Trouble Began Last August.

Present flood conditions began last August, he said, when rains were general over the central part of the country and began filling the watersheds tributary to the Mississippi system. These rains continued with more or less regularity until October, and in September floods occurred in the several small rivers at a time when the water stage of the streams under normal conditions should have been at low water mark. Floods also occurred in the Illinois River and later in the Wabash system in Indiana, and there was high water in many streams in the Midwest in October.

November began with streams bank-full and in December, he said, the Green River in Kentucky, and the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers went over their banks, while the Illinois continued in flood. In this month the Cumberland reached the highest mark of its record.

Forecasts New Flood Records.

The new year was ushered in by a flood in the Mississippi near New Madrid, Mo. The lower Ohio also went over its banks. The crest of the Mississippi high water was reached at Vicksburg in January at a mark of 46.5 feet with no flood stages below the city. Heavy rains then began over the Ohio and Arkansas valleys and the floods became general throughout Ohio.

In March the rivers began to rise again and since that time have been on the increase from Cairo to the mouth of the Mississippi.

Frankenfield predicted that every flood record will be broken from the mouth of the Ohio to New Orleans.

"The crest of the flood is due in Memphis about Sunday," he said, "and at New Orleans between May 5 and 12."

ADVERTISING EXPERT HELD FOR FORGERY GIVES BOND

Former Life-Term Convict Lays Monetary Trouble to Wife Won in Prison Romance.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 22.—Louis Victor Eytinge of New York, widely known advertising expert, is free on $2000 bond, awaiting preliminary hearing April 28 on fugitive warrants charging forgery at Pittsburg, Pa.

Eytinge, who had served 16 years of a life sentence in the Arizona Penitentiary for murder, blamed marital difficulties over a joint bank account held by himself and his wife. He said he had separated last February from Mrs. Eytinge, also head of an advertising agency in New York, but they had continued to live in the same house in New York until he began

Eytinge married Miss Diver after a romance that began while he was in prison. Eytinge directed the sales of the prison and a correspondence developed between them as a result of the advertising of the prison's wares. They were married three weeks after Eytinge was pardoned and left prison, eight years after the beginning of the romance.

Explaining his difficulty, Etyinge said his wife probably had withdrawn the account and he was guilty only of an overdraft and not forgery.

Lead Plant Manager Elevated.

Ralph M. Roosevelt of Hillsboro, Ill., a member of the Missouri Athletic Association here, has been elected vice president of the Eagle-Picher Lead Co. and will remove from Hillsboro, where he was plant manager, to New York.

MILE OF RAILWAY ON NORTH SIDE FLOODED

Trains Not Interrupted There, as Water Is Only Few Inches Deep on Tracks.

Backwater from the Mississippi has swept across the main line of the Burlington Railroad in three places in North St. Louis for a total distance of about a mile, to a depth of three or four inches. With the level continuing to rise, railroad officials have put a force of men to work erecting sandbag barriers to stop the wash of waves. The road can continue to run trains through water not more than a foot higher, or just about the crest stage predicted here.

If a detour should become necessary, which is not expected, the Burlington could run to the East Side and return to St. Charles County over the Alton bridge. The Chicago & Alton and Missouri-Kansas-Texas also use this line. The low spots are at East Grand, Humboldt and Aurora avenues.

North of Merchants' Bridge, across which reporters were taken for a survey by the Terminal Railroad yesterday afternoon, the backwater has spread for several hundred yards, inundating low spots in the Burlington freight wards and elsewhere. The Naval Reserve Armory and an adjacent clubhouse are surrounded by water, as is the big Burlington Elevator A, which is full of wheat.

On the East Side.

On the east side of the river, north of this bridge, the bottom land is submerged to a depth of several feet and a width greater than that of the river proper in normal times. This body of water and the channel are one, and the whole is swept by wind-driven waves, which bend willows and lash against the bridge piers and approaches.

An old railroad embankment serves as a levee at the eastern edge of this section, and men have been put to work there with sandbags and other materials to prevent a break. Cabins of farmers and squatters there and to the south of the bridge, where the spread of flood has not been so broad, are standing in the water.

In some places opposite St. Louis, particularly on the South Side, the Mississippi is now three miles wide. At Eads Bridge the rise is particularly noticeable, for water is almost up to the bottom of the steel arches supporting the spans. Between the big pier at the normal shore line and the Washington Avenue Station, the foundation of which is now submerged, there are five stone arches across the levee, through which, ordinarily, trucks may operate. There is a swift current through those arches now.

The steamboat wharf approaches are virtually submerged, and even the movable wharfhouse of the St. Louis & Tennessee River Packet Co., which has been pulled up the levee on rails, has a stream of water running through it. The shore line has moved westward more than 100 feet, in spite of the steepness of the levee, and the elevated tracks there leading to Merchants' Bridge are running entirely over water.

The big sign at the foot of Market street to show the river stage to steamboat men is only a few inches above the water. In places north of Washington avenue telephone and light poles are surrounded by water.

Granite City-Madison Levee Not in Danger, Engineer Says.

The levee protecting Granite City, Madison and Venice from the Mississippi River flood is in no danger of breaking, Chief Engineer Elmer Rodenberg of the East Side Levee Board announced today.

A strong wind whipped the waters against the levee yesterday and gave rise to a variety of rumors and alarms calculated to scare occupants of the lowlands into flight. The levee, however, is 60 feet thick and built to withstand a 44-foot stage.

Four hundred workmen, recruited from industrial plants, were employed to repair the damage wrought by the windswept waters. Sections where about six feet of sandy clay had been washed away were filled in.

Today 100 workmen were on patrol duty, and the excitement had subsided. Yesterday there was an influx of sightseers toward West Granite City, until the police turned them back.

A samller levee protecting Chouteau Island, a strip of land northwest of Granite City, was still holding today. The 25 farmers on the strip are keeping it in repair. Some have moved their house furnishings and farm implements to Granite City.

The situation around East St. Louis remains unchanged. The drainage gates are locked and will not be opened until the Mississippi River subsides.

St. Louis-Kansas City Highway Open in Spite of High Water.

Traffic over State Highway No. 40, the St. Louis-St. Charles-Kansas City road, continued uninterrupted today, although flood waters approached the roadbed on both sides in St. Louis County near St. Charles. The Missouri River rose from 31.3 to 31.5 feet overnight. A rise of .2 of a foot was reported at Hermann, .9 at Boonville and .5 at Brunswick.

The State Highway Department had 50 men protecting the roadbed in St. Louis County. Sand was piled high on the road, shoveled into sacks and piled beside the concrete. Water was splashing on the concrete in a few places, but generally the water was a foot below the road surface. "Slow" signs were in place.

Street cars and busses are still running between St. Louis and St. Charles.

Main levees are holding. The break in the levee at Black Walnut, 12 miles east of St. Charles, which flooded about 2000 acres of farm land, Wednesday, has been repaired. In the flooded area some farmers were moving out on horseback: others remained marooned.

The rise has inundated more land in the Columbia Bottoms, on the St. Louis County side, at the confluence of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers. Families are traveling about in motor boats and rowboats.

In the vicinity of Portage des Sioux, in St. Charles County, clubhouses and hunting lodges frequented by St. Louisans are surrounded by water.

Abandons Truck, Fleeing With $60

Sol Grodsky, president of the White Swan Laundry at 2212 Benton street, has asked police to help him find a missing truck driver, who disappeared yesterday with $60 of the firm's money, after abandoning his machine in front of the home of a friend. The chauffeur attached a note to the seat of the truck, addressed to the friend, which said: "I dislike doing this, but under the circumstances I cannot see any other way out. Begging forgiveness of Mr. Grodsky, I am leaving and will send the money to cover the shortage." The truck was abandoned in the 3900 block of Delmar avenue.

Address on "Price of Freedom."

Rabbi Leon Harrison will speak on "The Price We Pay for Freedob," at 7:30 p. m. today at Temple Israel, Kingshighway and Washington boulevard. At 10:30 a. m. tomorrow he will discuss Maurice Samuel's book, "I, The Jew."

COLD AGAIN PREVENTS CARDS' GAME

Temperature Too Chilly for Sport, Officials Say—Postponement Second of Series.

It was announced at 11 a. m. today that the Cardinals-Cubs game, scheduled for today, had been call off because of cold weather.

Two pitchers who beat the Cardinals at Chicago in the opening series of the season will warm up for Manager McCarthy of the Cubs tomorrow, and the one who shows the best control and assortment of curves will draw the assignment of facing Charles Flint Rhem, the Cardinal right-hander who won 20 games last season. It will be Rhem's first start, as he was a spring holdout and missed the training trip.

Charley Root, a right-hander, and Percy Lee Jones, a southpaw, are the Cub pitchers in line for duty today. Root held the champions to seven hits in the opening game of the season and the Cubs by bunching hits and breaks beat Alexander, Herman Bell and Eddie Dyer, 10 to 1. Jones had a horseshoe in each hand and in each pocket the day he faced the Cardinals. O'Farrell's men made only six hits off his delivery, but line drives went straight to Cub fielders and potential extra base hits became double plays because Cubs happened to be right in the path of the ball. That was the day Sherdel held the Cubs to two hits and lost, because the Cards couldn't score and one of the two Chicago hits was a home run by Hack Wilson.

Yesterday's postponement and today's, made advisable by the cold weather, were welcomed by the Cardinals. The team is in good condition with the exception of Manager O'Farrell, who is nursing a sore arm and he has noted steady improvement in the condition of the wing. After trying to work out the kink by catching each day he found that he was aggravating the soreness and Snyder has caught four straight games for the champions. The Cardinals won three of the four and Snyder did a good job of backstopping in each game. He has not yet found his batting eye, having failed to get a safety in 13 trips to the plate. Fast fielding has robbed Frank of several hits, however.

NOTRE DAME TO MEET CARNEGIE ON GRIDIRON

By the Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, April 22.—A resumption of football relations between Notre Dame and Carnegie Tech was announced here today by ClarenceOv erend, graduate manager at Carnegie.

A contract was signed whereby the Rockne eleven will meet Carnegie in 1928 and 1929. One game is to be played at South Bend, Ind., and one here.

HOT OFF THE BAT!

BY John E. Wray

They All Fall.

BOBBY JONES, who held out for so long against "economic necessity," steadfastly refusing to capitalize his golf reputation, has fallen off his pedestal—but within the law.

For years Jones not only declined to listen to the blandishments of syndicates, but in his whole golfing career he issued only one authorized interview!

The announcement is made today that the U. S. Golf Association officially sanctions Jones' plan to write on golf topics provided he writes his own articles. Jones will work on this basis and his articles will appear in the Post-Dispatch exclusively in this city. Jones' contributions, backed by his knowledge and his contacts with the golfing world, should be of inestimable value.

To deprive Jones of the right to express his views would be going back to antiquity for a standard of amateurism.

* * *

Stretching the Point.

THE U. S. Golf Association, usually more liberal in its views than the United States Lawn Tennis Association, appears for once to have stubbed its toe, in the case of Mary Browne.

Golf permits men who are professionals in another branch of sport to compete in amateur golf tournaments. Barring Miss Browne is therefore a step out of the organization's way.

Golf would not bar, for example, the professional coach of a college rowing crew from amateur tournaments. Why pick on Mary?

* * *

But the crowning laugh on the golf body is found in its resort to the rule barring Miss Browne because of "unbecoming conduct"—a rule strictly applicable to DEPORTMENT of players and not concerned with professionalism.

The unbecoming conduct consists in Miss Browne's having given professional TENNIS exhibitions. Thus the U. S. G. A. had to go out of its own yard to trump up an excuse.

* * *

High time that amateur standards were revised and standardized. Today there is no common definition of AMATEUR accepted by all sports bodies.

* * *

De Mar Still Amateur.

CLARENCE DE MAR is still resisting the lure of Big Money.

The middle-aged marathon star has a reason—he wants to enter the next Olympic games and win that honor.

De Mar must figure he can turn professional any time this side of 70, while he can be an Olympic star when an amateur only.

Like the others he, too, will fall. The reward is too great to be resisted.

One Viewpoint.

"I DON'T see how you can figure the Browns to be going anywhere?" a fan writes.

One might counter that the entire country failed to see in 1914 where the tail-end Braves could be going; or, in 1915, where Pat Moran was escorting his wrecked Phillies. But both won pennants and the Braves won a world's title.

The professional money changers will discount anybody's cocksureness about what any given baseball club will do.

Today the cry is that the Browns pitchers will not get the club anywhere—can't, on their records. At this point one will have to inquire what records are referred to?

* * *

Terrible, in 1926.

If last year's figures alone are considered, the club certainly can't be headed anywhere. The club's five leading pitchers who are depended on to do something for the Browns this season are Jones, Zachary, Vangilder, Gaston and Wingard. Taken on their last year's records they figure to win a combined total of only 47 victories and suffer 60 defeats. Add 15 victories for the other hurlers combined and the season would be: 62-92—.403.

But last year the bottom fell out of everybody's work. Even Sisler couldn't bat .300. It would be as unfair to estimate the Browns on their worst record as on their best.

If we figured the BEST records of the five leading Browns pitchers, the team this year would finish with 88 victories. Add a minimum of 10 for the rest of the staff and the total would be 98 victories—or near a pennant performance. The Cardinals last year won their pennant with 89 victories.

* * *

BUT it is quite probable that neither the best nor the worst record will be achieved by the team's regular pitchers. If we strike an average between their best and their worst seasons the first five Browns pitchers would show 68 victories to which could quite certainly be added 15 wins for the five lesser members of the staff combined.

This would bring the Browns' figures to 83 victories and 71 defeats, a percentage of .539. Sufficient to give the Browns first division and perhaps third place, if the race is hot.

Hope that the Browns will show an improved season is justified by the fine play of Sisler and other last year members of the club, by the better morale of the team and by the hustling management.

Rockne Explodes Bomb in Big Ten

Alleged Attack on Notre Dame by Anonymous University Brings Hot Retort.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Knute Rockne, director of athletics at Notre Dame, exploded a bomb in Western Conference athletics today by declaring one of the universities, which he did not name was going out of its way to question the athletic eligibility standards at Notre Dame.

This situation was given public recognition here last night when Rockne addressed members of the Notre Dame Club of Chicago.

"It is my contention," Rockne said, "that this university should either prove the things it hints or shut up.

"With regards to the standards of Notre Dame, I can say that we extended to the Western Conference the same privilege of investigating as that given the Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundation Fund representatives. These last two were satisfied with what they found. The Big Ten refused to accept the invitation."

AMATEUR-PRO SOCCER GAME PLANS SETTLED

City Title Game Will Begin at 10:15 Sunday Morning—Murphy and Kelly Named Referees.

Arrangements were completed this morning for the meeting between the Ben Millers, professional soccer champions of St. Louis, and the Killarneys, Municipal titleholders, at St. Louis U. Park, Sunday morning. The announcement was made by Winton E. Barker, president of the St. Louis League. The game will start at 10:15 o'clock.

The professional circuit will take 50 per cent of the receipts, while the Killarney's half will be turned over to the Municipal Athletic Association.

Ribby Murphy of the pro circuit and J. J. Kelly of the Municipal will be the referees, while Pat Kelly and Dick Wall will act as linesmen.

The Millers will use the lineup that lost in the Western cup semifinal to the Spartas, while the Killarneys also plan to use their regulars.

There is a possibility that the German Sport Club will play in a preliminary game. Negotiations for this contest are now under way.

Suspensions To Be Reconsidered.

A committee made up of Ben Lahrman, chairman; Rodowe Abeken, Charles Steiner, Dr. D. C. Todd and Judge Frank Grodzki has been selected by the Municipal Athletic Association to hear the cases of Andrew E. Frederick and Hugh McSkimming, managers of the Morgans and Killarneys, respectively, at the Grand Community Center, next Monday night at 8:15 o'clock.

McSkimming and Frederick were recently barred from municipal athletics when they refused to permit their soccer teams to go more than two hours in a playoff game to decide the championship.

Managers to Be Heard.

At this gathering, the two managers will be given a chance to show cause, why the action of the executive committee of the Municipal Soccer League shall not be confirmed by the Central Council to cover all branches of sports. The managers are invited to bring witnesses.

The two managers have dropped their suit for a permanent injunction to restrain the Municipal Association from barring them for life.

Motorbus Club Ring Show, May 3

Western A. A. U. Sanctions Junior Championship Boxing Tournament.

Local amateur boxers who were eliminated in the finals or semifinals of the annual Western A. A. U. championship meet last February will have an opportunity to bid for district title honors of junior distinction in the preliminary events of a fistic tourney to be held under the auspices of the People's Motorbus A. C., at that organization's new outdoor arena, 3547 West Pine boulevard, on Tuesday night, May 3.

Robert L. Probst, secretary of the Western A. A. U. district and chairman of registration, stated today that a sanction has been granted the Motorbus club to hold a junior championship meet in conjunction with a program of special events in which Coach George Wilsman plans to feature several district titleholders of the senior class.

This will be the first junior championship meet the Western A. A. U. has attempted and the fact that boxers who now hold senior championship honors in the various weight divisions are barred from the competition is expected to induce a number of ringsters of Class A rating to file entries.

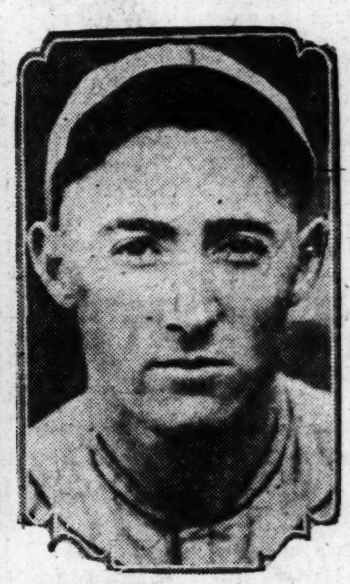
Among those rated as probable finalists among prospective contenders in the junior title events are: George Gallagher and Fred Minges, light-heavyweights; Al Stillman, middleweight; Al Keeney, Herbert Hahn and George McNulty, welterweights; Reggie Wood, John Buckley, Al Meyer and Jacob Graswick, lightweights; Joe Staunton and Eddie Gniske, featherweights; George West, bantamweight; Paul Spica, Ray Lange and Charley Stahl, flyweights.

Hafey and Sisler, "Sinus Twins" of Baseball, Leading St. Louis Sluggers

Chick Is Setting Pace for Cardinals With Average of .423 and George Tops Browns With .400.

By Herman Wecke.

GEORGE SISLER.



"CHICK" HAFEY.

Batting averages of the two St. Louis clubs for the 1927 season bring to light some interesting facts. The figures show that George Harold Sisler is the leading regular on the Browns with a mark of .400 for the six games played, and that Charles "Chick" Hafey, the man who suffered from sinus trouble last fall, is pacing the Cardinals with a .423 average, compiled in seven games.

The return of these two players to their best batting form means a great deal to the two clubs. Sisler fell off last season. There were those who insisted that he had not recovered from the sinus trouble, which forced him out of baseball the entire season of 1923. But a .400 average with eight hits in 20 trips to the plate sets at rest all doubt concerning his return to top form.

No Surprise to Howley.

Manager Howley asserted several times this spring while the club was in the South that he would be disappointed if Sisler did not hit .350. And the American League's most valuable player of 1922 is out to make good all that his manager said about him.

Hafey's return to top form means that the Cardinals will have a capable man in left field, even though Ray Blades' knee fails to come around. Hafey was a late starter and it was not until the last four games that he began to hit. Since then, however, he has come through with a vengeance. He owns 11 hits in 23 trips to the plate. In the last three contests, he has pounded out eight safeties in 11 appearances at the plate for an average of .727. And included in his hits have been two doubles, a triple and a home run. In addition, Hafey is fielding in fine style, and that strong arm of his has come through with rifle throws to cut down daring base runners on several occasions.

Eyes Must Be O K.

When Hafey reported at the Cardinals' training camp, he was not certain that he had entirely recovered from the sinus trouble, which had handicapped his work late in 1926 and in the world's series. But his work of late indicates that he has.

Thus two athletes, afflicted with the same trouble at one time during their major league baseball career, are now the leading swatters for the two clubs.

Hafey has driven in three runs to date and Sisler two.

When Bottomley Hits.

Another interesting feature in the averages is found in the case of Jim Bottomley. Bottomley is again up to his old tricks of driving them around when runners are on the bases. The Cardinals' first sacker has made only eight hits, but these raps have been so effective that he has pounded over nine tallies. "Sunny" Jim is hitting .333. He easily paces both clubs in sending runners across the payoff station.

Williams, Schulte, O'Rourke and Rice, with three each, pace the Browns in this department. Frisch, with 12, has made the greatest number of hits among the St. Louis players, while Southworth, with nine, is the pacemaker in runs scored.

Miss Browne Can Be Reinstated After 3 Years

Must Adhere to Rules, Says Secretary of National Golf Association.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The possibility developed today that Mary K. Browne might be able to compete three years hence as an amateur golfer in tournaments under the auspices of the United States Golf Association, which has barred her from amateur ranks on the grounds that playing professional tennis is detrimental to the best interests of golf.

Secretary H. H. Ramsay of the Association believes that Miss Browne comes under the three-year "good conduct rule that once permitted George von Elm, present amateur champion, to regain the fold after his entry for the national amateur tournament was rejected.

The reinstatement rule provides that applicants "must have acted so as to come within the definition of an amateur golfer for a period of three consecutive years immediately preceding the date of application." Mr. Ramsay indicated that Miss Browne's general attitude toward professional sports would be a important factor, especially "if she accepts offers to become a tennis instructor, which are said to have been made." Return of Miss Browne's amateur status in tennis was not necessary he said.

A golf club in Westchester County promoted by Glenna Collett has been seeking Miss Browne's services as tennis professional, beginning next year.

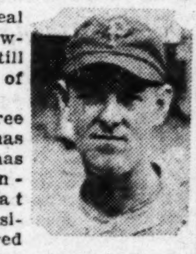
Ty Cobb and Kremer Prove Stars of Major Campaigns

Veteran, With Athletics, Has Batting Average of .350 in 10 Games, While Pittsburg Star Paces Pitchers With Three Straight Wins.

COBB.



KREMER.

Two players, one a veteran of 41 and the other a comparative young man of 31 years, are making a name for themselves in this young 1927 baseball campaign. The players in question are Ty Cobb, who is starting his twenty-second year in the big tent, and Ray Kremer Pittsburg pitcher, starting his fourth.

Cobb has played 10 games with his new club, the Philadelphia Athletics, and in that time has batted to an average of .350. Kremer, with the Pirates, is starting in where he left off in 1926. He has won three successive games and is the leading twirler in the major leagues. Last season he paced the National League pitchers, and was one of the four men to win 20 games.

Cobb in the 10 contests, has made 14 hits in 40 trips to the plate and has scored 10 runs, an average of one a game. Only twice has he gone without a safety. In addition, he has pilfered three bases, one being a steal of home. Showing that he still possesses some of his old speed.

In the three contests he has won, Kremer has pitched 24 innings. In that time the opposition has scored six runs and connected for 16 safeties. He has walked but three men, while he has fanned 10. He started with a 2-1 victory over Pete Donohue and the Reds, followed with a victory over the Cubs, although removed after six frames, and yesterday he stopped the Reds for the second time.2 gaining a 3-2 victory and permitting but four safeties.

COLUMBUS BOWLERS TEMPORARY LEADERS IN WOMEN'S TOURNEY

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., April 22.—Columbus women bowlers will continue their competition today in the tenth annual Women's International Bowling Congress, to be held here until May 4.

Thirty-two five women teams hold the alleys today, divided into four shifts. The first shift will start at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Last night 16 teams competed. The high mark of the first day was 1:14 pins, set by the Deshler number 4 squad of this city.

With 224 teams entered, the tournament this year has an entry list second only to that of a year ago.

Chicago, entering 15 teams, is the best represented of the out-of-town points. Other cities represented are Cleveland, Cincinnati, Akron, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Erie, Pa., Indianapolis, Detroit, Buffalo, Terre Haute, Ind., Louisville, Fort Wayne, Ind., New York, Omaha, Kenosha, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Racine, St. Paul, Flint, Elmhurst, Ills., Weehawken, N. J., and South Bend, Ind.

Visiting teams will not enter the competition until Saturday. Substantial cash prizes and medals will be awarded winners.

LONDOS TO WORK OUT WITH TRAGOS; JONES DUE HERE TOMORROW

Daily training workouts with George Tragos and Jack Roller, have been scheduled by Jimmy Londos, Greek heavyweight mat champion, in preparation for his finish match with Paul Jones of Los Angeles, billed as the main event of next Tuesday nights wrestling card at the new Coliseum. Londos will establish local training quarters at the National Gymnasium this afternoon, according to Promoter Tom Packs, who also stated that Jones is en route for St. Louis and due to arrive here tomorrow.

CONFIDENT THAT HE CAN COME BACK, JACK SAYS

Former Champion Starts Ring Work at Mountain Camp Near Los Angeles and Manager Will Go East to See Tex Rickard.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 22.—Jack Dempsey has started ring work at his "comeback" camp in the San Rafael Mountains north of here for a return fight with Gene Tunney which he hopes will bring back the heavyweight title he dropped to the big marine.

Thirty days felling trees, cutting and hauling firewood, hustling rocks for roadbeds and other labor has stripped 11 pounds of fat off Dempsey's big frame and yesterday he weighed in at 200 pounds. He stepped into his outdoor ring and raced through two rounds with the weights, a couple more with the punching bag, then two with the 200-pound sandbag and finished off with five minutes of shadow boxing.

Suggests a Side Bet.

Dempsey paused in his workout to volunteer that a return bout with Tunney probably late this summer, for a side bet of $5000 to $500,000 would be his idea of settling the heavyweight championship question.

"I don't need a doctor to tell me I'm feeling better than I ever felt before. I'm confident that I can come back—better than ever," he said.

"For the first time I have gotten out from under the strain that must wear down a chamion. Now all I have to do is fight. Tunney can do the worrying. If I meet Tunney again I will regain the heavyweight championship. If the fight world thinks I should take on some warming-up fights, I'm willing to do it."

Manager to Go East.

Gus Wilson, Dempsey's manager, will depart for New York Saturday on business in connection with Tex Rickard's plans for Dempsey's next fight.

Dempsey believes that he will be ready to fight by July 4, but in event a return match with Tunney is arranged probably will meet the champion on Labor day. Wilson is expected to line up some sparring partners for Dempsey.

A. A. U. MUST GET NEW SITE FOR TITLE TRACK MEET

NEW ORLEANS REFUSES TO HOLD GAMES

Fear of Racial Trouble Brings Decision From Officials—Rubien to Call Meeting.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The National Amateur Athletic Union track and field championships were without a site today because of fear that radical trouble might creep into the games.

The outdoor classic of the cinder paths, originally awarded to New Orleans, cannot be held there. Southern sponsors of the contests have decided, unless Negroes are forbidden to compete against white athletes.

The A. A. U., firm in its stand that no man shall be barred from the annual games because of race or creed, will call the Championship Committee together at once to award the championships to another city. Difficulty in finding a new location probably will delay the games beyond July 1-4 as originally scheduled.

Cannot Bar Athletes.

Frederick W. Rubien, Secretary of the A. A. U., declared that a national and patriotic body had no right to bar any American from its games because of race or creed. He pointed out the "obvious unfairness" of calling upon Negro athletes to "represent America and win high honors in Olympic competition" and later deny them "the right to compete in their own national championships."

Rubien further pointed out that the championships this year were of added importance in view of the Olympic games of 1928. He mentioned among prominent Negro athletes almost certain to win places among American representatives the names of Cecil Cooke, brilliant quarter-miler of Syracuse University and National champion, Charles Major, St. Bonaventure College high jumper and indoor title holder, as well as De Hart Hubbard, broad star, and "several good distance men."

Never Have Had Trouble.

"Probability of racial trouble has been overestimated," Secretary Rubien said. "The games were held in New Orleans 15 years ago, in Jamestown, Va., in 1906 and in Baltimore, Md., in 1914, and at no time was there indication of trouble. We feel that the athletic union should aid and encourage all athletes regardless of race or creed."

Only once during the holding of the championship games in the South has any athlete protested against competing with a Negro, Secretary Rubien said. On that occasion, he said, a hurdler from the University of Virginia who "could not go home and admit he raced a "colored" man, withdrew from the final event. The stand of the A. A. U. has been taken after consideration of the problem by Murray Hulbert, president of the Union, and many prominent men connected with it, he said.

Consider Incident Closed.

By the Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 22.—Cancellation of the National A. A. U. championship meet here early in July was regarded as a closed incident here today by all concerned. The invitation for the meet was withdrawn by a committee of business men yesterday when it was learned that the A. A. U. would insist on allowing Negro athletes to compete in the events. Fear of racial disturbances in the city was given as the reason.

Plans for the meeting here were well under way, and its success was assured when the motion of the local A. A. U. committee "spoiled the show."

Big Bill Tilden Sails for Europe

American Tennis Ace, With Hunter, to Play in Various Tournaments.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—William T. Tilden, the "Big Bill" of American tennis, sailed last night aboard the liner Columbus with Francis T. Hunter on an official invasion of European tennis strongholds. They will return late this summer to prepare for defense of the Davis Cup.

The tour, sponsored by the United States Lawn Tennis Association, opens with a team match at Berlin May 6, 7, and includes team contests in Amsterdam, Brussels, France, Dublin and England, as well as participation in the French hard court championships May 24 to June 4, and the Wimbledon English championships June 20 to July 2.

Bostonian Can Go Distance But Will Figure in Derby Only on Fast Track

Son of Broomstick Won Only Two of His 16 Starts as a 2-Year-Old Over Eastern Tracks.

NO. 12—BOSTONIAN.

By CLEMENT GLAUB.

BOSTONIAN, although not ranked as a strong contender for honors in the Kentucky Derby, promises to develop into one of the best distance racers in the East. This home bred son of Broomstick ran some good races behind the best horses in the East during the early part of his career.

At Jamaica, Bostonian made his first start against a cheap field, but was green and failed to run up to expectations, finishing four lengths behind the winner. After that, he was sent to Belmont Park where he finished first, second and third in three starts. His victory came with 117 pounds up, over a distance of four and one-half furlongs. That victory was his final until the fall meeting at Laurel, when he defeated Allfey by a neck over a mile route.

BREEDING, RECORD AND FUTURE ODDS

Blk. c., by Broomstick-Yankee Maid.

Owner—H. P. Whitney.

Record—Starts, 16; 1st, 2; 2d, 4; 3d, 4; Unpl., 6. Won $5900.

Future book odds—30 to 1.

In the Pimlico Futurity, the Broomstick colt made his last start as a 2-year-old. He was racing well up all the way, making the pace for his stable mate, Whiskery, when he was knocked against the rail in the stretch run and forced to take up, finishing fifth.

In 16 starts, Bostonian did not win a stake race, although he participated in every important event in the East. He was used chiefly as a pacemaker for his stablemates, Valorous and Whiskery. He finished second in the Kentucky Club Stakes and second in the Tremont Stakes.

Nominee Was Used Chiefly as a Pacemaker for His Stablemates, Valorous and Whiskery.

Bostonian is bred to go a route and shows a liking only for a fast track. He raced three times on a soft track, but failed to menace the leaders. His two winning races were run over a fast course. Bostonian's best race was at Laurel when he ran a mile in 1:39 4-5. At Belmont Park, Bostonian went four and one-half furlongs in :51 2-5.

Two Undefeated School Nines to Meet Tomorrow

Central and Cleveland to Clash at South Side Field—Soldan to Play Beaumont.

Two undefeated teams meet in the feature games of tomorrow's Public High School Baseball League pairings when Central and Cleveland, both owning a victory over Soldan High, clash on the Cleveland diamond. In the other scheduled game, the twice-beaten Soldan team is matched with Beaumont, which defeated the veteran Roosevelt Rough Riders last Monday at Beaumont Field. Both games will start at 2:30 o'clock. Roosevelt has no league game scheduled for tomorrow.

Covington, who turned in the victory against Soldan, will again be sent to the hill to face Central. The ineligibility of Van Nest has weakened the South Siders' pitching staff somewhat and it is likely that Covington will start most of the games at least until Van Nest is again qualified to share some of the burden. Covington showed well against Soldan when he kept the seven hits of Coach White's team well scattered while his mates were bunching nine bingles for five runs.

Mowry Moved to Short.

Cleeland's ineligibility has necessitated shifting Joe Mowry, regular first baseman, to the vacated short stop job and lanky Joe Hohn has been brought in from right field to the initial sack. The new infield functioned satisfactorily against Soldan and Mowry had no difficulty in adapting himself.

Coach Walker, at Central, will probably send Orville Paul, one-armed hurler, against Cleveland. Paul let Soldan down with seven safeties after holding the opponents hitless for the first four innings, to win 5-4. Central is depending on a new team to win this year's title.

Probable Pitchers.

Either Goodwin or Jordan will pitch for Beaumont. Jordan has an 8-6 victory over Roosevelt to his credit and performed in good style except for one bad inning, the eighth, in which the Rough Riders rallied to score four runs before Jordan recovered and fanned the batter for the third out.

Richards or Gordon will pitch for Soldan tomorrow. Richards struck out 12 Central batters and fanned 10 men in the Cleveland game although losing both tilts. If the Soldan lineup can find its collective batting eye, Richards may be able to turn in his first victory.

NIMZOVITCH-MARSHALL MATCH IS CANCELED

The Aaron Nimzovitch-Frank Marshall chess match, one game of which was to have been played in St. Louis, has been canceled, according to work received by local officials.

The Missouri Pacific St. Louis Chess Club, which was to handle the match, plans a dinner some time in May, at which time Eugene J. Roesch, local champion, will attempt to play 30 opponents simultaneously.

Roesch recently won from Arnold Davis, Kansas City champion and also defeated P. G. Mow, one of the ranking players of Chicago and former Danish title holder.

Sweetser Will Compete in U. S. Amateur Tourney

British Champion Will Not Engage in Intensive Play Before Then.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Jess Sweetser, British amateur champion, will compete in the next American national amateur championship partly because of one crackling round of golf.

Not completely recovered from serious illness contracted during the British invasion, he did the difficult Siwancy course at Mount Vernon in 37-33—70 as a member of a foursome yesterday and was so elated he immediately announced he would enter the national amateur tourney.

He will not engage in extensive tournament play during the summer, but will save his strength for the title hunt and business interests, which will engage him again after May 1.

Sweetser yesterday teamed with Tom Kerrigan, Siwancy professional, against Johnny Farrell, professional, and Al Brodbeck, State amateur champion. Jess couldn't resist the announcement when he shot an eagle 3 on the eighteenth hole to win the match for his side, 1 up.

Beckman Pitches Bears to Victory Over McKendree

Washington Mound Man Fans Eleven Out of the Sixteen Foes to Face Him.

The Washington U. baseball team defeated McKendree College, 2 to 1 yesterday afternoon at Liggett Field in a practice game. It was the Bears' second contest of the season. After losing to Concordia by the same score in their season opener, five consecutive playing dates were spoiled by the inclement weather. The Bears will begin their Conference schedule next week.

Wagner and Serkes scored the Washington runs in the first inning after getting bases on balls. Stanford's fielder's choice to second allowed Wagner to tally and Serkes followed on Conrade's long fly to center field. The Bears had several more opportunities to score but were unable to push over the runs. Nine Bear players were on base during their six innings at bat.

Beckman Fans Five.

Beckman, Washington pitcher, struck out 11 McKendree batters in the five innings which he worked. He issued no walks and allowed but one hit. Only 16 foes faced him, one got in on through an error.

Heist, who pitched two stanzas for the Bears, allowed no walks and but one hit.

Hortin, McKendree hurler, allowed three hits, gave two bases on balls and struck out three men. The McKendree run was scored in the sixth inning when Brown, after dropping a fly over second, scored when Zook's rap to left field slid through Wagner's hands.

The entire game was played under adverse weather conditions. The moist playing field gradually hardened under freezing temperature as the play progressed and base-runners grabbed up sheepskin storm coats on their way to first base. The pitchers were forced to outguess the vagaries of a high wind which played numerous tricks with both pitched and batted balls.

O'FARRELL'S ANSWERS

Can two players be traded for one another and then play against each other on the same day or in the same series? Did not this happen a few years back in the case of Heathcote and Flack? J. W.

Yes. On Decoration day in 1922, while the Cardinals were in Chicago, Heathcote was traded for Flack in the morning and they played opposite each other in the afternoon.

Catcher muffs ball on third strike, batter started to walk to bench and catcher throws wild to first base, so the batter runs and gets safe on first. The umpire calls him out. Was he right?

H. F. K.

No. The batter may not be called out for starting to bench. Merely makes it harder on himself

How do you find the percentage, or standings, of games won and lost in baseball? H. S.

By dividing the total number of games played into the number won.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE BASEBALL TEAMS IN SHAPE FOR OPENING

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 22.—While the other Big Ten Baseball teams are squaring away on their season schedules, and Purdue has tucked away one victory, over Michigan, the Minnesota Diamond squad is just starting out on its "Southern" training trip. Coach Potsy Clark and 14 players start today for Crawfordsville, Ind., to play their training opener against Wabash College.

Indiana and Ohio meet today at Bloomington, the Buckeyes coming on here Saturday for a game with Chicago, weather permitting.

Other games include Northwestern vs. Michigan at Ann Arbor and Wisconsin vs. Iowa at Madison.

UNIVERSITIES SHOULD ENCOURAGE SPORTS SAYS CORNELL HEAD

By the Associated Press.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 22.—The duties of every university is to encourage participation in outdoor sports, Dr. Livingston Farrand, president of Cornell University, said yesterday in welcoming 2000 delegates to the Fifth National Athletic conference of American college women.

"The possession of a vigorous and effective body is a very real part of the equipment of life, and nothing tends more toward the attainment of this idea than widespread participation in out-of door sports," he said.

He advised against a uniform system or point of view concerning athletics for women. What applies to one university in one part of the country may not be the best system for another institution in a different locality, he said.

LUCKY STRIKE
"IT'S TOASTED"
CIGARETTES

Lenore Ulric, Famous Belasco Star writes:

"With women in practically all the professions smoking, I have observed those in my own calling and have found their favorite cigarette is the Lucky Strike. I always choose it for my occasional smoke because it affords the greatest relaxation and pleasure."

RAIN AND COLD FORCE 6 DOUBLE-HEADERS ON THE BROWNS

'Sad' Sam Jones Will Face the Tigers Next; Teams Are Again Idle

Players Put in Intensive Study of Jacks, Queens and a Pair of Aces When Bad Weather Again Causes Postponement of Second Game of Series.

By JACK ALEXANDER,
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

DETROIT, Mich., April 22.—Camp followers of the Detroit Club who bellowed about the dirty weather in St. Louis when rain washed out four games are backing water now and making feeble excuses for the near-freezing weather that prevailed here today and caused the postponement of the second contest of the series for the second day in succession.

If a game is played tomorrow, Sad Sam Jones, late of New York, will try his good right arm against the Tigers, while Samuel Braxton Gibson, also a right-hander, will represent the City of Detroit.

The elements seem bent on preventing too many early season meetings on the part of the Browns and Tigers. Six double-headers loom up already for later in the season. No matter where the boys get together, the climate does all sorts of high jinks.

Thankful Whitehill Is Not Twins.

If all the games are to be like the one of Wednesday, it is perhaps better so. But there is only one Whitehill on the Detroit staff. And the Browns are batting, as a team, pretty close to .300 so far. This includes an average of .048 turned in by Oscar Melillo, whose pre-season training was limited to a few days.

George Sisler is leading the men who have played in all five games thus far with a .400 average. Considering the steadying power and brilliance he has contributed to a shaky infield, this mark is very encouraging and lends color to the belief that he will be once more at his best this year, although it is too early to make any positive predictions.

Fred Schulte, the high-priced importation from Milwaukee, ranks second with a mark of .378, and barring a couple of bad heaves, has looked like a reliable fielder. He turned in two circus catches in St. Louis and his arm stacks up well alongside that of Harry Rice. Except for the opening game, Schulte has hit safely in every contest, two safeties going for triples and one for a double. The pitchers are busy trying to figure his weakness but have not discovered it yet.

Schulte got one of the few hits off Whitehill.

Wally Schang is batting .308 and will be a hard one for O'Neill to crowd out of a job. Frank O'Rourke had a field day in the final victory over Chicago at home when he got four out of five and this brought his average up to .300. His fielding is a high light of every game. And the Detroit fans would be pretty sore about losing him if they had not picked up Jack Warner, who is having sensational success.

Kenny Feels Right, Sometimes.

Ken Williams played in only two games and is batting .500. He is feeling better since his slight indisposition in St. Louis and may start in place of Bing Miller today due to his left handed stance at the plate.

Other averages follow: Gerber, .278, Bing Miller, .273, O'Neill .250, Rice .137 and Melillo .048.

Howley, having been assistant to Cobb for three years, is popular here and busy socially. He still refuses to come out of his shell and talk freely about his team's chances. "I am fairly well satisfied with things so far," he says, "but won't be able to tell anything definite until a few more weeks. This idleness is harmful to a club but the other side has it to contend with, too, so I should not kick."

Not Even a Sore Toe.

Trainer Tommy Bramell reports everyone in fine physical shape. "Not so much as a sore toe," says Bramell. There are, however lots of sore heads over the delay. The usual time wasters are being invoked including Rhummy, Casino and (Save the mark) Bridge. The most popular intellectual diversion, however, is sitting around the hotel lobby, just sitting. Unfortunately, the clerk at the cigar counter is a man at this hotel and some unfortunate girl is missing a lot of stories about success on the ball diamond.

Ohio and Kansas Relays to Open Outdoor Season

More Than 2000 Athletes to Compete in Games Tomorrow.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 22.—More than 2000 athletes, representing 300 colleges and universities, were en route today to the opening events of the spring track season, the Ohio State and Kansas Relays, scheduled at Columbus, O., and Lawrence, Kan., Saturday.

The Ohio relays, in their fourth year, have attracted entries from Cornell, Syracuse and other Eastern schools, besides the major share of track squads of the Big Ten universities.

With generally more favorable weather, the Kainsas event this year again will draw the Oregon Aggies, and many other Western and Southwestern schools, besides a complete representation of Missouri Valley Conference squads.

The Tarahumara Indian runners, who plodded along for 82 miles at the recent Texas relays, will run from Kansas City to Lawrence, a distance of 56 miles, to finish at the Kansas University Stadium tomorrow, while the two girls in the party of Mexican Indians, will run 27 miles, from Topeka to Lawrence.

To Settle Long Batle.

The four-mile relay race at Kansas may settle the four-year battle between Illinois and the Oregon Aggies for permanent possession of the Rowland trophy. Each quartet has won it twice.

The Ohio program will have in the one-mile relay the winner of the Eastern Intercollegiate event, Syracuse. The best of the Big Ten sprinters have been entered in the Buckeye meet, besides Alderman of Michigan State, one of the leading dash men of the Middle West.

The performances at Ohio of Capt. Chuck McGinnis of the University of Wisconsin track squad will be closely watched. His victories in the Big Ten indoor meet carried off the title for Wisconsin, the first in many years, and his hurling, jumping and vaulting make him one of the outstanding point winners in the conference.

Japanese Boxers Enter.

JAPAN, April 22.—Boxing has taken a strong hold in Japan and, for the first time, a Nipponese boxing team will contend for honors at the 1928 Olympics at Amsterdam.

Amateur Baseball

The "Long Lines" Telephone company's baseball team, playing in the Independent Telephone League of St. Louis, will be open for Sunday morning games after April 30. For games phone Jack Lloyd, JEfferson 9833, or write him at 2656 Locust street, care A. T. S. T. testroom.

R. Fetzner, experienced second baseman, wishes to join a uniformed team. Call VIctor 0368.

Roy Fisher, 4535 Lexington avenue, would like to pitch for a team in the boys' employed league, or for an independent nine. Phone COlfax 2401.

CHILLICOTHE, Mo. — Chester Featherington, of Madison, Mo., has been selected to captain the 1927 team at the Chillicothe Business College. Featherington plays third base, and was at that station last year with the Westminster Blue Jays.

The Hill—Thomas Club of East St. Louis wants to schedule a game for Sunday with some fast club on the latter's home diamond, preferably an out-of-town nine. Call Elmer Mulligan at EAst 6172.

MURCHISON TO FACE HUBBARD IN SPRINT SPECIAL, SATURDAY

DECATUR, Ill., April 22.—The addition of two more schools yesterday to the entry list for Milliken University's seventh annual prep relay carnival raised the total to a new record, 90 schools and 825 contestants. A special invitation 100-yard dash between Loren Murchison, official starter of the meet, and Dehart Hubbard, is one of the program features Saturday.

Ballade of Occasional Pennants

FROM '85 to '88,
We won four pennants in a row;
Then after that we had to wait
For nearly forty years or so.
We've finished high, we've finished low,
From dizzy heights we've seen 'em fall.
With eight contenders in the show,
We can't expect to win 'em all.

For Pennantville we pull our freight,
Our hearts, with mounting hopes aglow;
Our heroes all are looking great,
And eager to confront the foe.
When suddenly they up and blow
And cannot field or hit the ball,
Our benediction we bestow—
We can't expect to win 'em all.

Envoy.

PRINCE, full well the rooters know,
That pennant winning soon would pall
For pennants come and pennants go—
We can't expect to win 'em all.

TOO TRUE.

We have contended for some time that it would be a cold day when a St. Louis team would raise a pennant and it was.

Friday instead of Monday will be Ladies' Day for the Cardinals hereafter. Washing as usual on Monday.

See where old man Quinn took the Yankees into camp. Youth will be served—at the second table.

Pennant hoisting in St. Louis is a movable feast. It's liable to happen any time like rain, high water and other things.

Pennant raisings, like rain, are governed largely by weather conditions. It's a cold day when we have them.

THEM WUZ THE DAYS!

At the last pennant raising in 1889 the price of general admission was 25 cents, the present price of a hot dog, a bottle of pop and a score card.

In those days, however, they used to hire a whole team for half of what Babe Ruth gets today.

And never let it be said that the boys wore their young lives and the seat of their pants out on the bench. When the pitcher wasn't pitching he was playing the outfield or taking tickets at the gate.

They slid head-first and presented a solid ivory front to the spikes of the opposition. If a player was injured, which was seldom, he had to laugh it off as there was nobody to take his place except the groundkeeper and he was too busy picking up the empty beer glasses that littered the field after a demonstration of disapproval on the part of the fans over a decision of the one umpire.

Now they have a third as many umpires as there are players in the game. After while they'll have an umpire for each position and then there will not be enough pop bottles to go around.

On the whole, however, the old pastime has made wonderful advancement except in the matter of accessories. The peanuts are higher and fewer while the hot dogs are no bigger or better than the warm pups of yesterday and cost 100 per cent more.

Improved Pitching and Helpful Trades Explain Phils' Showing, McGraw Writes

Tailend Outfit of Last Year Has Two Real Pitchers in Carlson and Scott, and a Fine Prospect in Dean.

By John J. McGraw.
Manager, New York Giants.

NEW YORK, April 22.—I have been asked for my impressions of the Philly team, which has started so remarkably this season. To make clear my personal opinon I will answer the questions of the fans just as they were presented to me.

"Has the pitching improved?" was the first query popped at me.

Yes, the Philadelphia pitching has improved considerably. We all know that the Phillies have two first-class pitchers in Hal Carlson and Jack Scott. Moreover, Wayland Dean ought to be an excellent pitcher this season. He has now had the needed experience. I can see a possible improvement in the whole staff. This is bound to help the club because I regard pitching as 60 or 65 per cent of the strength of a team.

"How will Fresco Thompson do?" came next.

In my opinon Thompson should help a whole lot. He is a good hustling, live ballplayer who adds spirit to a club. Thompson is a pretty good hitter in addition to being a lively defensive man and he has that wonderful spirit so much sought by managers. Yes, Thompson will be a big help.

"Did the deal that brought Thompson, Scott and Ferguson strengthen the team?"

That trade undoubtedly strengthened the Phillies. By it McInnis got what the club needed. He had a surplus of outfielders and could afford to trade them.

THIS is the first of a series of articles that will be published from time to time exclusively in this city, by the Post-Dispatch.

They are prepared by John J. McGraw, one of the "master minds" of baseball strategy.

He needed infielders and pitchers. The Phillies won't miss "Butch" Henline so terribly much, even though he is a good catcher, because they expected to catch Jimmy Wilson most of the time. He will have plenty of help from the others.

"Does the Philly Park handicap the team?

Undoubtedly it is a treacherous ballpark for any club, because it has pitchers continually up in the air. Often they hesitate to use their stuff for fear of a long fly going over those fences. At the same time this park, with its short fences, makes exciting baseball for the fans.

Thompson-Ferguson - Scott Deal Strengthened Team Considerably—Ball Park a Handicap.

"How does Friberg look at third base? Was it a mistake to switch him?"

The answer to that ought to be obvious. Third base is Friberg's natural position. He will give a good account of himself there. The switch was no mistake, in my opinion.

"How does the outfield look?"

Williams looks better physically than I have seen him for a long time. Leach undoubtedly is a coming great outfielder and a strong hitter. Mokan hits well and is a good outfielder. Nixon as extra man will help them. There are weaker outfields in the National League than that of the Phillies.

"What will McInnis be able to do?"

The Philadelphia public knows McInnis to be a smart ballplayer and has confidence in him. Knowing that the fans will give him a good chance, he should develop into a mighty good man for the job.

"What, in your opinion, is the most pressing need of the Phillies?"

The club needs infield strength and pitching. It has a pretty good punch now but must develop a stronger defense.

Fugazy's New Arena to Seat 30,000 Persons

Rickard's Rival Gets Site a Few Blocks From Madison Square Garden.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Humbert J. Fugazy, Brooklyn sports promoter, announced yesterday that he intended to erect a huge structure for sports and exposition purposes a few blocks from Madison Square Garden. His plans call for a building at Twelfth avenue, from Fifty-fourth to Fifty-fifth street, with a seating capacity of 30,000, and at a cost of $12,000,000.

Fugazy said the new venture was being handled by a syndicate of which he is the head. Construction, he said, will start immediately.

Apparently the plans supercede those previously announced by Fugazy. Some weeks ago he declared he would build a huge arena in Brooklyn. Prior to that he had announced an arena in Long Island City. He sent out architect's drawings of the proposed Brooklyn structure.

The newest specified site for the Fugazy arena covers 115,000 square feet, with a frontage of 200 feet on Twelfth avenue and a depth of 575 feet on West Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth streets.

Biggest Indoor Arena.

The architects' plans, according to Fugazy, call for "the biggest indoor arena given over to sports, promise a monument of magnificence with spacious lobbies, grand staircases, and ramps meeting not only all the legal requirements of entrances and exists, but the approval of all who take pride in the architectural beauty of their city."

The plans outline a big auditorium, with floor seats and boxes tiers of mezzanine chairs and a big balcony. Construction is so intended that the building may be speedily converted into an exhibition hall with small rooms and booths. Lounge rooms, a library, offices and writing rooms are in the plans.

Other features mentioned by Fugazy are a gymnasium, handball and squash courts, lecture room, a banquet hall and ballroom, Turkish and Russian baths, a trophy room and a swimming pool. There may also be a theater.

Fugazy promised that he would make public a list of his associates in a week. F. M. Ferrari, a banker, was present when Fugazy made his plans public.

Tunney Expects $750,000 for His First Title Bout

NEW YORK, April 22.
By the Associated Press.

GENE TUNNEY expects to get for his first defense of the world's heavyweight championship fight in September at least as much as the $750,000 Jack Dempsey is understood to have received in their title bout last year.

Tunney declared that all his fighting plans this year are in Rickard's hands.

"It makes no difference to me who the challenger is," said the champion.

It is estimated he collected more than $100,000 for his vaudeville tour.

Iron Mask II Defeats Sanola

10,000 See Opening of Aurora Race Meet Despite Bad Weather.

By the Associated Press.

AURORA, Ill., April 22.—Flurries of snow and rain pelted the crowd and horses at the opening of the racing season in Illinois yesterday, nearly 10,000 enthusiasts gathered at the Aurora track, but that racial trouble might creep for the inaugural.

Iron Mask II took the feature race of the day when Sanola, an old-time favorite around Chicago tracks, tired in the stretch. The distance was five and one-half furlongs and the time 1:20 3-5. The winner's mutuel price was $6.80, and Sanola paid $4.20.

Two fields of 12 and seven for the inaugural handicap accepted the issue despite the sea of mud on the oval.

Miller Named Captain.

54 Grade School Baseball Teams To Open Season

Competition for Post - Dispatch Trophy to Be Started Monday.

Fifty-four schools are represented in the Grammar School Baseball League, which opens its season next Monday in competition for the Post-Dispatch Trophy.

The teams have been grouped in leagues of six or four teams each, playing games in the public parks.

Following is the schedule for the opening week:

GROUP A (MONDAY).

Bobby Jones to Write Series of Golf Articles

By the Associated Press.
ATLANTA, April 22.

BOBBY JONES, British and American open golf champion, has decided to write a series of articles on golf for a newspaper syndicate, the Atlanta Constitution says today. The name of the syndicate and the amount he is to receive, however, were not given.

The paper said that his decision was prompted by the ruling of the Executive Committee of the United States Golf Assoclatoin in New York that his writing would not affect his amateur status in the game, provided he wrote his own articles.

News of his action was learned here with surprise, the article added, as Jones is known to have declined many such offers to profit by his championship reputation.

Bradley Ties Illinois.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., April 22.—The University of Illinois baseball squad opened its home season here yesterday with a 10 to 10 tie with Bradley Tech of Peoria. The game was called on account of darkness at the end of the ninth inning. Dorn led the Illini attack with four hits in as many trips to the plate. Decremer, Shipherd and Carlson shared batting honors for Carlson, each getting two hits.

MAPLEWOOD TRACK TEAM WINS SECOND MEET IN TWO DAYS

For the second time in two days, the Maplewood High School track team scored a decisive victory, Maplewood defeating University City High, 86 to 49, in a dual meet yesterday afternoon. On Wednesday they defeated Kirkwood, 98½ to 46½.

Ohle of University City had the high individual score in the senior division, with 13 points. Maplewood had the high point man in the junior ranks, in Scott, with 10 points.

American Boxer Loses on a Foul

Julius Okun Hits Phil Scott, British Champion, Low in Sixth Round.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, April 22.—Phil Scott's British heavyweight crown was saved once more when Julius Okun, described as a former Wall Street clerk, was disqualified for hitting low in the sixth round of a 20-round main bout in the Anglo-American boxing tournament at Olympia tonight.

The fight proved a big disappointment to the fans, most of whom had come to see their own champion vanquish the American invader but not by disqualification.

Scott was the aggressor all the way and owing to his greater height and reach had the better of Okun from the start.

In the fourth round, Okun was cautioned for hitting low and a repetition in the sixth disqualified him.

Both fighters were much booed. Scott got into disfavor for not taking advantage of his superior position to accomplish a knockout.

Harry Mason, English lightweight champion, outpointed Archie Walker, Brooklyn, N. Y., in 15 rounds. In two other 15-round bouts Pancho Dencio, Filipino boxer, drew with Francois Moracchini, France, and Milton Cohen outpointed Kid Pattenden.

LOCAL BOWLERS WHO STARRED IN A. B. C. WILL BE BANQUETED

Bowlers who paced St. Louis in the various events in the American Bowling Congress tournament, held at Peoria, Ill., recently will be honored at a dinner at the Hotel Statler, May 2, it was announced yesterday. The St. Louis Bowling Association and St. Louis Alley Owners Association will be in charge of arrangements.

Among those to be honored will be the members of the Witter Razz team, which totaled 3082 to finish second. These men are Jerry Ameling, Ben Cohen, Lee Martin, Jim Wilson and Hank Bippen and backer Frank Witter. A. Wessling and Walter Schmitz paced the doubles; Ed Eirich the singles and Roy Nelson, all-events. Jimmy Smith, the Milwaukee star, who competed on a St. Louis team, is expected [illegible] this city his home during the [illegible]mer.

Members of the Fisher team, Erwin Engel and S. F. Heiser, who rolled perfect games and received A. B. C. gold medals also will be present.

All those who wish to attend are invited. Tickets will be $2.

Billy Kroydon's Golf Hints

Let the Club Do It.
When you have a mashie shot over bunkers, don't try to lift the ball. The club will do that. All you have to do is hit firmly and crisply.

Billy Kroydon

The Hardest-Hitting of All Mashies

This is a mashie of unusual power, designed to give far more distance than the ordinary mashie. It has a 35-degree loft which keeps the ball fairly low. Made of hardened steel, which permits a slender neck and hosel, and permits the distribution of weight to best advantage for distance and ease in playing. Take a few swings with this iron and see for yourself what a feeling of well-balanced weight and power it gives you.

$50,000 STARTS $1,000,000 FUND TO BOOM INDUSTRY

Charles Rebstock Launches New St. Louis Industrial Club's Campaign With Gift—Program Adopted.

MEETING APPROVES FOUR-YEAR PLANS

Organized Building Development of City to Be Superintended by Director and Operating Staffs.

With an initial subscription of $50,000 to St. Louis' million-dollar industrial fund, 100 members of the new Industrial Club of St. Louis today set out to raise the remainder of the fund, which is to be used over a four-year period for the promotion of industry.

The $50,000 subscription came from Charles Rebstock, a director of the National Bank of Commerce, at the first regular dinner meeting of the club at Hotel Coronado last night. Last year Rebstock gave $1,000,000 to Washington University.

Activities Program Approved.

A definite program of activities of the Industrial Club was approved by the members last night. The program embodies:

1. Sponsoring of the Industrial Bureau with an adequate budget.

2. Selection of a director and an operating staff for the Industrial Bureau to be under the supervision of an advisory committee of six from the membership of the Industrial Club.

3. Taking over, by a special committee of the Industrial Club, of the Municipal Advertising campaign, which has been operated for seven years by joint appropriation from the City of St. Louis and business interests.

4. Raising of a fund of $1,000,000, to be spent in a four-year program of organized development of St. Louis.

5. The supervision, by a finance committee of the Industrial Club, of expenditure of this fund.

Duplications to Be Avoided.

6. Appointment of a committee by the Industrial Club to determine and supervise its relation with the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations interested in furthering the industrial and social development of the city's industrial district, in order that useless duplication of effort may be avoided and the work of such organizations concentrated on the accomplishment of specific results.

The program was submitted by Dr. W. F. Gephart, chairman of the Committee on Plan and Scope. In addition to the Industrial Bureau, the program calls for three committees — finance, advertising and relations—to be responsible to the president of the club, who, in turn, will be responsible to the board of governors, composed of six men. Duties of the Industrial Bureau comprise following up of inquiries obtained through advertising, creation of leads through investigation and research, maintenance of clearing house for information for industries and employment of field men.

In presenting the program, Dr. Gephart declared the chief purpose of the Industrial Bureau to be that of obtaining facts for present industries, as well as new ones. He said it was the intention of the Bureau to have the United States Department of Commerce conduct a market survey of the St. Louis metropolitan district.

Fund First Objective.

No committees will be appointed, nor will a director of the Industrial Bureau be named, until the $1,000,000 fund is raised, Thomas N. Dysart, president of the Industrial Club, said. He expects the fund to be completed by May 1. Each club member is starting today to canvass the particular industries assigned to him. "There will be no ballyhoo or high-powered campaign in raising this fund," Dysart added.

Others who spoke in approval of the club's program were Harold Bixby, president of the Chamber of Commerce and sponsor of the Industrial Club: Mayor Miller, Weisenburger, W. W. Mr. Rebstock, John G. Lonsdale, F. W. A. Vesper, L. Wade Childress, E. D. Nims, Frank J. Lionberger Davis, L. Ray J. M. Kurn, Harry F. Knight, John B. Strauch, Walter Smith, Charles E. Williams, M. Singleton, Charles E. Richard W. Frank Carter, Aaron Rauh, Egan, Morton May, Samuel Fordyce, Richard S. Hawes and A. Faust. Telegrams were received from Festus J. Wade, O. Watts and Alfred Sloan, president of General Motors.

TAKES PHOTOGRAPH IN ONE-MILLIONTH PART OF A SECOND

General Electric Develops Device for Study of Lightning and Effect on Arresters

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., April 22.—A photographic device that operates so quickly that it discloses what occurs in one-millionth of a second has been perfected in General Electric Co. laboratories here, and is being used in studying the effects of lightning on electrical apparatus and in developing ways to prevent damage from such electrical disturbances. A millionth of a second is to a second as one minute is to two years.

The instrument, known as the Dufour cathode ray oscillograph, records precisely what happens when lightning strikes a transmission line, or when a lightning arrester operates.

Five years ago engineers undertook the task. It was known that electrons could be deflected either by electromagnetic or electrostatic fields, and it was further known that electrons striking a photographic film would produce the same photographic effect as that produced by a beam of light. With this information, engineers have developed the high speed recording device.

ANDREWS CONSIDERS PLAN FOR WHISKY MONOPOLY

Merger of Bonded Warehouse Concerns Throughout Country Proposed to Control Supply.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Proposals for formation by bonded liquor warehouse owners of a national whisky monopoly, to provide "good whisky at a reasonable price" for persons who are ill, are being considered by the Government, Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, in charge of prohibition enforcement, said today.

He thinks the plan would accomplish what the medicinal whisky bill might have done had it been passed by Congress. The plan was recently broached by him at a conference with warehouse owners in Washington. It provides for the formation of a holding corporation to purchase all available bonded liquor and concentrate it in no more than six warehouses to be operated under Government supervision.

Control of distribution of medicinal whisky in about 30 warehouses throughout the country is difficult, said Andrews, and one of the results is sale of impure whisky to sick persons, who are unable to obtain legitimate liquor from their druggists.

JAPAN REFUSES TO DISCLOSE HOLDINGS OF WAR MATERIAL

France Supports Sato in Declaration at Geneva Parley on Disarmament.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, April 22.—Japan cannot disclose to the world her holdings of war material, Sato, Japanese delegate to the preparatory commission for disarmament, declared.

The announcement was made in opposition to a proposal by Holland that the Powers make public a complete list of war materials. Sato declared that until perfect security was attained, nations must be permitted to preserve the secret of their defense. France supported the Japanese position.

MUSSOLINI PLOT TRIAL ENDS

Verdict in Zaniboni-Luigi Case Expected Tonight.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, April 22.—Counsel for former Deputy Zaniboni and Gen. Luigi Capello summed up today, in their trial with six others on charges of plotting the assassination of Premier Mussolini and a revolt against the Fascist regime. The verdict is expected late tonight.

Ottorino Petroni, representing Gen. Capello, asked for complete acquittal on the ground of insufficiency of proof. He alleged deceitfulness and lack of veracity on the part of the State's principal witness, Carlo Quaglia, Zaniboni's former secretary, and argued that the testimony did not show that Gen Capello had been connected with any anti-governmental activities after July, 1925. The men were arrested in November of that year.

LIGHTHOUSE TO BE MEMORIAL

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., April 22.—A suitable memorial to William Livingstone, president of the Lake Carriers' Association for 25 years and its first president, will be erected by the association, it was decided at the annual meeting.

According to the plan, a lighthouse, built of stone, will be erected at the eastern end of Belle Isle, Detroit. A life-sized monument of Livingstone and tablets listing donors will be placed in the lighthouse. The total cost is estimated at $100,000.

Japanese Fire Damage $2,000,000

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, April 22.—Although it was at first thought many persons lost their lives in the fire that swept through the town of Kanazawa, in Central Japan, yesterday reports indicate there were no casualties. These reports say that about 750 houses were burned, and the damage is estimated at 4,000,000 yen (about $2,000,000).

$6,000,000 NOW ESTIMATED COST OF AUDITORIUM

Citizen Supervisors Are Told the $5,000,000 Voted in Bond Issue May Not Be Enough.

WAYS OF HANDLING MATTER DISCUSSED

Suggestion Made That Building Be Combined With Soldiers' Memorial on Plaza Site.

With the prospect that the cost of the new municipal auditorium will run $6,000,000 or more instead of $5,000,000 as provided in the $87,000,000 bond issue, the Citizens' Bond Issue Supervisory Committee yesterday called on the architect of the Memorial Plaza Commission to prepare estimates of cost of constructing the auditorium for next Thursday's meeting.

After President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service indicated the auditorium would likely cost more than the $5,000,000 allotted for site and construction, several suggestions were offered.

W. Palmer Clarkson, a member of the committee, suggested the auditorium be built on the site of the proposed $1,000,000 Soldiers' Memorial Building in the plaza, combining the two projects. He also suggested a new bond issue to increase the auditorium fund.

Charles F. Hatfield, secretary of the St. Louis Convention and Publicity Bureau, declared St. Louis should have an auditorium to accommodate the largest conventions, even if it cost $10,000,000. Cleveland, he said, made the mistake of confining its auditorium to one large hall not equipped for exhibition purposes.

A. S. Werremeyer, a member of the committee, raised the point that they had no authority to approve a plan to spend more money than provided in the bond issue for the auditorium and suggested the discussion be postponed until a definite estimate of cost is available for study.

The City Law Department has estimated the cost of acquiring auditorium and plaza sites at $6,000,000. William G. Senn, chief condemnation attorney, plans to ask the plaza commissioners to assess property adjacent to the plaza and the district to the east a portion of the cost on the theory of special benefit.

BIG GAME HUNTERS DEPART TO CRUISE ALASKAN COAST

John Borden's Schooner With Field Museum Party Sails From San Francisco.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—The auxiliary schooner yacht, Northern Light, bearing members of the Borden Field Museum expedition on a hunting trip into the Arctic, has moved out through the Golden Gate and is heading northward.

During the next six months the Northern Light is to travel along the Alaskan coast. The skins of bear, seal, walrus and caribou will be sought as specimens for the Field Museum at Chicago, and, if possible, live specimens will be brought back for the Chicago zoo.

John Borden of Chicago is owner and master of the Northern Light, the personnel of the expedition was drawn from names that appear in Bradstreet's and the blue book. The ship's crew was gathered from Greenland and Seattle.

The explorers are equipped to record their experiences by motion and still cameras. The guests accompanying the Northern Light into Alaskan waters include Mrs. John Borden, wife of the explorer; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Slaughter and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Goodspeed of Chicago and Miss Frances Ames of San Francisco.

TO DRAIN FLORIDA EVERGLADES

Appropriation of $20,000,000 Voted by Lower House of Legislature.

By the Associated Press.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 22.—A bill proposing the expenditure of $20,000,000 for draining of the Everglades has been passed by the lower house of the Legislature and now goes to the Senate. It is indorsed by Gov. Martin.

$1,293,705,291 in Women's Clothes.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22—Establishments engaged primarily in the manufacture of women's clothing made products valued at $1,293,705,291 in 1925, the Commerce Department reports, adding that this represented a decrease of 8 per cent below 1923. Eight cities—New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Boston, St. Louis, Baltimore and Los Angeles, had 86.2 per cent of the total number of clothing factories.

FASCIST COUNCIL DEFINES CAPITAL AND LABOR ROLES

"Charter of Labor" Guarantees Six-Day Week, Holiday, and Indemnity for Discharge.

FORBIDS STRIKES AND BOYCOTTS

Asserts Right of State to Manage Corporations — Capital Must Share in Hard Times.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, April 22.—Premier Mussolini's ideas of the proper relationship between employer and employe and between labor and the State are given concrete form in a "charter of labor" adopted by the Fascist Grand Council in special session.

The charter sets forth that labor, which is a social duty, and property, which accomplishes a social function, are both under the guardianship of the State, since the State must control the whole body of production for the well-being of its citizens and the development of national strength.

With this end in view, the charter provides for the organization of associations or syndicates, the relations of which are to be carried on through collective contracts. Special labor courts will have the final decision in controversies.

The charter denounces the principle of a minimum wage, or general rules in wage fixing, and advocates contracts based on living conditions and the possibilities of production. Equality of wages in any single industry is also frowned on, the contention being made that workers with unusual ability should receive greater remuneration.

Guarantees to Labor.

The charter guarantees a six-day week, extra pay for night work, an annual paid holiday, civil and religious holidays when deemed possible, indemnity in proportion to the length of service in case of discharge, indemnity to the worker's family in case of death, and the assurance of a position in case of short illness.

The document forbids strikes, lockouts, boycotts, obstructionism and sabotage. These are considered rebellion against the State if the motive is political.

The charter provides that when private initiative is insufficient or lacking, or when political interests dictate, the State may take over management of a company and operate it through a corporation.

Non-fascist organizations of laborers and employers will not be forbidden, but they will have to abide by collective contracts made with Fascist associations within their categories of activity.

The charter of labor, which will be the basis of further legislation, was presented by the Premier yesterday as a finale to the joint celebration of the Fascist labor day, and the founding of Rome, 2681 years ago. His admirers described him as appearing in a new role—a prophet of industrial peace with a message directly opposed to that of Marx and Lenine.

State Rights of Control.

The underlying idea of the "charter of labor" is the state's undisputed right directly to control all forces of production, acting as the guardian both of capital and labor, establishing equality of rights and duties between them, compelling them to carry out their tasks for the common good, punishing infractions and maintaining peace between them at any cost.

To this end, the document, which will be the basis of further legislation, defines prevlsely the roles of labor and capital, enunciates the minimum guarantees of their existence to which they will be entitled under all circumstances but beyond which the state retains a free hand as the agent of the nation which is "an organism superior to all single individuals with moral, political and economic unity."

Capital and labor, under the charter, are organized in legally recognized units called association syndicates, all relations between them being carried out through collective contracts. Other units, called corporations and acting as the direct agents of the state, control these activities, while specially created labor courts act as the court of last resort in cases of controversies.

Details of System.

Under the charter an association or syndicate will assure judicial equality of the workers and employers, maintaining discipline among them, each association of workers in a single category, business or industry, making a collective contract with the corresponding associations of employers, while the corporation will make rules obligatory upon both parties and attempt to settle disputes, the Labor Court making the final decisions in case of failure.

Defining the duties of capital, the charter declares that the Fascist regime upholds the doctrine of private property and favors private initiative in the field of production, considering both functions of the national interest. The owner of a business or industry is responsible to the state for its production, but its employes also are responsible to the state in helping toward an increase in the value of the products and a reduction in their costs. Capital must share equally with labor the effects of crises and hard times, official statistics being used in judgment.

Control of Welfare Work.

Each collective contract must contain specifications of salaries, hours and disciplinary rules.

Corporations, with the co-operation both of employers and employees, will control all social, educational, recreational and similar activities in any industry, will guarantee health and morality conditions, and will handle accidents and maternal benefits as well as endowments and unemployment insurance.

All employment agencies will be operated by the state, which will select men for employment on the basis of ability.

E. M. HOUSE TAKEN OUT OF FRENCH WAR SCENE

Ambassador Herrick's Figure Substituted and Friends of Former Wonder Why.

(By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, April 22.—Friends of E. M. House, unofficial adviser to President Wilson, are a good deal exercised over new and confirmatory reports from Paris that his figure has disappeared from the "Pantheon de la Guerre," the French war panorama that has arrived in New York for a summer's showing at Madison Square Garden.

In the original picture House was almost as conspicuous as President Wilson. The President's figure stands out boldly beside the pillar that is emblematic of the United States. To the left of it stood House, but now he is gone entirely and in his place is a full-length portrait of United States Ambassador Myron T. Herrick.

Spokesmen for the sponsors of the picture said the substitution had been made while the panorama was still under French ownership before it had been turned over to its present holders.

It is the understanding that more than 20 changes were made among the more than 6000 figures on the huge canvas. It is believed House was eliminated because his part in American affairs was unofficial, but there have been reports that the recent publication of his letters disclosed opinions not entirely to the liking of the French. Herrick, on the other hand, continues to be as popular in France as he has been for many years. Originally he had been just one of a group of figures, but when changes were decided on he was shifted to the prominent place that had been occupied by House.

PRO-M'ADOO CATHOLIC RAKES SMITH CAMPAIGN

P. H. Callahan of Kentucky Says Church Issue Is Merely Wet Camouflage.

(By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch)

NEW YORK, April 22.—"The procedure of the Smith campaign constitutes, in my judgment, a direct disservice to the Catholic Church and is a menace to the future political destinies of our country." With this statement, issued by Patrick H. Callahan of Louisville, Ky., after a conference with the McAdoo leaders now in New York, the McAdoo drive to divide the Catholic support of Gov. Smith was continued yesterday. Callahan is a Catholic and something of a power in Democratic politics in Kentucky. He is in New York to debate the prohibition question tonight with Representative Emanual Celler.

Callahan recalled that several years ago he was chairman of a committee on religious prejudices of the Knights of Columbus, which adopted the following recommendation:

"It is just as reprehensible for Catholics to vote for a Catholic merely on account of his religion as it is for any group of non-Catholics to vote against a Catholic for the same reason."

Denounces Eastern Wets.

"I was a highly interested attendant at the National Democratic Convention of 1924, and since have observed with growing alarm the deliberate effort being made by the New York World, the New York Times and other wet or Republican papers to insist that Gov. Smith be nominated for the reason he is a Catholic.

"Coming from a Catholic peace meeting in Washington, I find these New York papers seeking to fan embers of a political issue which, if successfully injected, will cause as much internal strife as any of the causes which, operating nationally, bring about war.

"Responsibility for the injection of the religious issue in the 1924 convention rests expressly on the Eastern wets, who deliberately injected it as a last desperate effort to prevent the nomination of McAdoo.

"Three Protestants spoke before the Resolutions Committee insisting that the klan be denounced by name. These were the late Ed Moore of Ohio, a well-known liquor lawyer; Harry Hawes of Missouri, likewise a wet, and W. R. Pattangall of Maine. They appeared at the instigation of George E. Brennan, the dripping wet Chicago boss. Brennan and his allies insisted on the klan fight as the only way to stop McAdoo Brennan was warned that this fight would probably destroy Democratic chances of success, as it thoroughly did, but none the less he persisted in his demands.

Not a Catholic Issue at All.

"The injection of this issue was not a Catholic matter. It was a wet matter.

"The vote of the convention after the withdrawal of both McAdoo and Smith certainly showed the hypocrisy of the claim that Smith was being proscribed because of his faith, for, when the McAdoo delegates began to go to Senator Thomas J. Walsh and that distinguished dry Progressive could have the bulk of the McAdoo vote, the Smith delegates did not go to Walsh; they went to Senator Underwood, a Protestant wet."

YALE DEAN CRITICISES MASSACHUSETTS LAW

It Easily Leads to Conviction of Innocent, Says Sacco-Vanzetti Commentator.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 22.—Robert M. Hutchins, secretary of Yale University and dean of the Yale Law School, commenting in the Yale Law Journal on the Sacco-Vanzetti case, says that practices allowed in Massachusetts may lead to the conviction of defendants for crimes which they never committed.

"Few phases of the law of evidence present such a maze of confused and arbitrary rulings as cross-examination to impeach," he continues. "Most courts, we are told, have taken the view that the limits of this type of evidence are in the discretion of the trial Judge. This does not apply in every jurisdiction to all questions tending to discredit. Nor is it possible in any jurisdiction to predict with much confidence when a reviewing court will hold that this discretion has been abused.

"The Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts has at least made such prediction more certain than it has been in that State hitherto. In Commonwealth vs. Sacco, the court holds that as long as the evidence admitted has a degrading tendency, there can be no abuse of discretion.

Cross-Examination Broad.

"The cross-examination in this case was as broad as could be well imagined. The defendant, on trial for murder in a holdup, was asked about his love of money, his love of this country, his information relative to the charitable activities of Harvard, his knowledge of the number of school children in Boston, his subscription to anarchist papers, the coincidence of his views with those of a certain anarchist, his avoidance of conscription, and whether he was a man who should tell the jury that the United States was a disappointment to him.

"The Supreme Court says: 'These questions, as well as the questions relative to the effect on his wife of possible arrest and deportation for participation in movements inimical to the Government, were within the rule that a witness may be cross-examined in the discretion of the Judge to test his accuracy, veracity or credibility, or to shake his credit by injuring his character, and for this purpose his way of life, his association, his habits, his prejudices, his physical defects and infirmities, his mental idiosyncracies if they affect his capacity, his means or knowledge, powers of discernment, memory and description may all be relevant.'

Rule Seldom Followed.

"This rule, interpreted literally, as it was here, may make prophecy as to what an Appellete Court will do more definite and sure. But it is submitted that this literal interpretation is one from which almost all courts, theoretically following the same rule, have withdrawn in dismay, and that it is an interpretation which, in the present state of American jurisprudence, at least, may lead to the conviction of defendants for crimes which they never committed."

Few Appeals to U. S. for Sacco and Vanzetti, Sargent Says.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Contrary to reports that thousands of protests in the Sacco-Vanzetti case have been received by the Department of Justice, Attorney-General Sargent declares that only 393 communications of any nature on the subject have reached the Government in all the years the case has been before the public.

HANKOW PROTESTS AGAINST FOREIGN WARSHIPS IN RIVER

Cantonese Also Disclaim Responsibility for Property Unless Aliens Resume Business.

BRITISH SAILOR ATTACKED, STABBED

France and England in Accord on Rejoinder to Be Made to Note on Nanking Outrages.

By the Associated Press.

HANKOW, April 22.—Eugene Chen, Foreign Minister of the Cantonese government, which has headquarters here, has protested against the presence of foreign gunboats in the Yangtze River at Hankow.

He also has notified consular officers that the Nationalist (Cantonese) government cannot be responsible for foreign property in Hankow unless foreigners resume business.

Chen asked the foreign business interests to meet him in conference with a view to reopening their establishments, but they declined, saying that business was impossible under present conditions.

A British sailor was stabbed twice when he and a companion were attacked by a mob of coolies today while taking a ricksha ride.

Chiang Resumes Drive.

Chiang Kai-shek has suddenly resumed his campaign against the north, Chinese reports assert. His forces are advancing by two routes. They have reached Linhweikwan on the southern section of the Tientsin-Pukow Railroad. Their objective is Suchowfu, where there is a railroad crossing.

Chiang plans later to take Hanchwang, where the Tientsin-Pukow railroad crosses the Grand Canal. The capture of these two points would severe connections and supplies of the Northerners in the Nanking sector. The number of troops engaged is not determined.

Ten thousand of Chiang's troops also are moving toward Chinkiang for the purpose of crossing the river and attacking Yanchow, 15 miles to the north.

These two drives would serve to cut off the Northern forces in the neighborhood of Pukow if successful. The objective beyond Yangchow of the second drive is Tsinanfu.

Briand Says France and Britain Agree on Reply to Chen.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, April 22.—France and Great Britain are in complete accord upon the principles of the five-Power reply to be made to Eugene Chen, Cantonese Foreign Minister, regarding the Nanking outrages.

Foreign Minister Briand made this clear today after a council of Ministers. He added, however, that there were several details to be arranged.

Martial Law in Shanghai; Six Radicals Executed.

By the Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, April 22.—Martial law was declared in the native city of Shanghai today because of agitation by radical unionists. Chinese police patrolled the streets and suspicious-looking Chinese were searched.

Six radical leaders were executed in the native quarter of Lunghwa.

Headquarters of the Shanghai district of the Kuomintang (Cantonese political party) announced the creation of a special office to hear complaints of "corrupt practices by the gentry and other miscreants."

Hearings are to be held each Saturday to adjust infringements of rights.

At a secret meeting of the Moderates it was voted to send Chowlu, described as former Counselor of the late Sun Yat-sen (first President of the Chinese Republic) and a "noted hunter of reds," to Nanking to direct the extirpation of radicals. It is at Nanking that the moderate faction of the Kuomintang, led by Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, set up a new Government, several days ago, breaking away from the radical leaders of the party at Hankow.

Chang Seizes Paper Showing Feng Got $500,000 From Russia.

By the Associated Press.

PEKIN, April 22.—One of the documents seized in the recent raid by Marshal Chang Tso-lin's troops on the Soviet Embassy compound in Pekin, it was announced today, shows that the Soviets paid the so-called "Christian" Feng Yu-hsiang, more than $500,000 for propaganda purposes and army expenses. The money, according to the announcement, covered a period of six months ending March 31.

The Easter Sunrise Service.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I WANT to convey to you, Mr. Editor, and through your kindness to his Honor the Mayor, to Mr. Pape, the Park Commissioner, and to many whose names are unknown to me, sentiments of sincere appreciation of the sympathetic interest and real helpfulness encountered in planning and carrying out the Sunrise Easter Service in Forest Park.

Without the active sympathy and help of the city officials and your newspaper this unusual expression of the religious spirit of our city would have been impossible. Ordinarily, we feel free to criticise all who are in public service and frequently fail to express our appreciation of things which please. Public officials and newspapers should be given a meed of thanks and cheer quite as much as individuals. To fail in this in connection with this service would be an affront against the extraordinary spirit manifested by thousands who were there.

Never have I seen such a manifestation of simple sincerity and reverence, of hunger and thirst, for the truth of Easter as was shown by the great congregation gathered around the Cross in Forest Park at sunrise Easter day. It was a spontaneous outburst of faith in the truth, binding us together as citizens of a great city. We rejoice we have a Mayor, a Park Commissioner and newspapers like the Post-Dispatch and others who are willing to help every good cause along and render every aid possible. May I venture to say to you, Mr. Editor, Mr. Mayor, Mr. Pape and others, I am certain all would have me say, "Thank you most warmly."

May the impressions received at this service be deepened and strengthened in each and every one of us.

Poor Paving Repels Strangers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I HAVE just been in St. Louis, looking at a house that was for sale in the 5000 block of Cates avenue, and as I drove into the street from Kingshighway I bumped into the most dreadful holes, and bruised my chin from bumping against the wheel. Surely your Street Department doesn't know what a deplorable condition this street is in, or they would fill up those holes at once. It seems impossible to believe that a city with all the virtues which St. Louis possesses could possibly have a street, leading into Kingshighway, in such a condition. It would seem that if the street were in better condition, it might relieve some of the congestion in that part of the city when traffic is heavy. I couldn't think of moving to St. Louis and buying a house on a street that is all full of holes.

ANNETTE SMITH.
Fayette, Mo.

Give Them a New Trial.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IN regard to the Sacco-Vanzetti case, Mr. A. A. Tilden states his belief of the guilt of the two men simply on two facts:

First, he says he is personally acquainted with two of the jurors at the trial. They are successful business men who possess every good quality. Is the business man the standard of intelligence, honesty, open mind, good judgment? In short, is the business man the superior man, who understands everything and never makes a mistake?

Why! I will let the readers measure the good judgment of Mr. Tilden himself by his childish boast of paying a thousand dollars to charity if anybody sees him with a Post-Dispatch in his hands.

What a difference between the closing of his letter with a foolish offer and the closing of the speech by one of the condemned men who said politely to his Judge: "I thank you."

Indeed, it must be a very terrible crime for a paper to be in favor of giving two men a chance to escape death, not by a pardon, but by process of law.

The second fact which is sufficient for Mr. Tilden to believe that these men had a fair trial is that Judges in Massachusetts are not elected by the people but are nominated for life. For this reason, then, they do their duty. Just as if to perform a duty would mean that no mistake is possible. If Judge Thayer is so sure that these men are guilty and the evidence against them is so crushing, why not have them tried again, since the law will exact its price just the same in the end?

Outstanding people in America and other countries are in favor of a new trial and these people are above suspicion just as much as your business men who were in the jury, and these people know about the evidence just as much as the jurors did.

I will close, indorsing the Post-Dispatch as a paper that stands for justice for all at all times.

JOHN L. MASSAI.

MORAL EFFECT OF PUBLICITY.

It is gratifying to learn from Judge Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation, leader and index in the world of business, that business is growing more ethical; that it is conducted in accord with the belief that right is superior to might, and that morality is as important as legality.

The time is not far past when there was a general impression that legality was the standard of business, particularly big business, and that staffs of able attorneys were maintained for the purpose of devising ways and means of keeping sharp practices just within the law. The impression was frequently expressed.

Judge Gary's statement in the Century Magazine is welcome news. We do not doubt that there is truth in his statement that business morality is improving. We will not go so far as to say that the scriptural Golden Rule is universally practiced. Evidence crops out every now and then that David Harum's version of it—"Do others as they would do you—and do it first"—still prevails in some business quarters.

It is true, however, as Judge Gary asserts, that a great and successful business cannot be built up on a rule of wrongdoing and sharp practice, or of taking undue advantage of either competitors or the public. Public confidence is necessary to continued business success.

When we seek for reasons for this improvement in business morals, while we would be glad to credit it to an advance in spontaneous and inherent devotion to the moral law, we believe that it is largely due to publicity. Judge Gary refers to the fact that all the inside facts with regard to the business of the United States Steel Corporation are published. Anyone who reads can learn precisely what are the conditions of the business. The stock and bond issues, the assets and liabilities, profits and losses, are all subject to public scrutiny. Public knowledge of business is no longer subject to guesswork or to unverified statements and reports. The public knows what all the big corporations are doing. Public confidence is based wholly upon that knowledge.

Within this generation, business of all sorts has come out of the dark into the light. The searchlight of publicity is merciless in both Government and business. The public is kept fully informed of conditions by persistent efforts to bring all the facts to public view.

Publicity is the greatest moral agent in the world. Conspiracies, frauds, sharp practices and deceptions wither in the light of publicity. Crooked business fails. Crooked governmental dealings cannot be hid. Whether punishment follows exposure or not, the public knows what is being done, what has been done, and retributive action follows soon or late.

It is because of the potent effect of publicity to prevent or correct governmental evils and abuses and business wrongdoing that publicity is required in every public transaction. It is for this reason that independent newspapers devoted to the public welfare persistently seek the facts. It is for this reason that the Post-Dispatch demanded publicity in Federal income tax transactions. We are afraid of secrecy. Every man ought to be afraid of secrecy. It is the mother of injustice and corruption.

A DEFEAT OF BUREAUCRACY.

A successful fight has just been made in Colorado against czaristic control of Rocky Mountain National Park by the bureaucrats at Washington. This reservation, which won its celebrity as Estes Park, was nationalized by an act of Congress in 1915. Fortunately, that act was so written that State, municipal and private rights hold precedence over Federal rights, so that when the National Park Bureau sought to invade local rights, the attempt was successfully resisted in the courts.

The National Park Bureau tried to get around the decision of the courts by fostering a bill in the Colorado Legislature ceding complete control of the park. This bill was supported by the Secretary of the Interior, the two Senators from Colorado and the Denver Chamber of Commerce. It was opposed by nearly all the newspapers and by a considerable section of the public. The Colorado Legislature killed it.

The chief bone of contention seems to be that the National Park Service established a set of rules for the park which were held to be obnoxious, particularly one granting a transportation monopoly.

Having lost in the courts and in the Legislature, it is now expected that the bureaucrats will make reprisal by withholding an appropriation of $190,000 already granted by Congress, and by closing or abandoning the Fall River road, one of the arterial highways of the region.

Of course, such reprisal would hurt, but perhaps not as much as the bureaucrats think. As a matter of fact, a good many people in Colorado, having seen what bureaucracy is like, would be glad to see the Government retire from Estes Park entirely.

OMAR, CHAUNCEY AND MR. EVERYMAN.

A book of verses underneath the bough,
A jug of wine, a loaf of bread and thou
Beside me singing in the wilderness—
O, wilderness were paradise enow!

Thus old Khayyam drowsy centuries ago and thus our own dashing Chauncey Depew, who at 93 gallantly declares that "If I live to be a hundred a lovely woman companion, a glass of wine and a piece of cake would mean as much to me as they did 50 years ago."

An entrancing trinity, woman, wine and song, yesterday, today and forevermore. This verity is not dependent on the testimony of a Persian poet or an American railroad executive. Call any witness you will—banker, broker, preacher, philosopher, lawyer, doctor, editor, realtor, savant and toiler—they will all plead guilty. Plead it? They will shout it with the pride and gusto of the incurably romantic male.

Legislation has tried to proscribe one of those triune glories. It might as well try to prohibit woman and song as wine.

MEXICO'S OIL.

There is nothing surprising in the prediction of A. E. Watts, president of the Mexican Sinclair Petroleum Co., that there is likely to be an early settlement of the differences between Mexico and American oil interests. It bears out the contention which this paper has made repeatedly—namely, that these differences are capable of settlement if both sides really desire to come to an agreement.

The first advance toward this was made when the forces which tended toward a peaceful adjustment were permitted to operate unhindered. On the Mexican side, these were the absolute necessity of avoiding war with the United States, the need of continuing the revenue derived from the export tax on crude oil, the advisability of keeping Mexican oil workers employed, and the necessity for loans.

Our oil producers who have investments in Mexico had, likewise, to face certain realities and make certain compromises. They had to recognize, first, that regardless of the intention behind the new Mexican oil law, the present rulers did not desire to interpret the statute as authorizing confiscation of legitimate titles. Second, they had to face the fact that the titles of some of their number had been secured in such a manner that their legitimacy was open to question. Third, they had to realize that it was to their benefit to deal directly and individually with the Mexican Government, instead of relying upon the intercession of our bungling State Department.

Today both sides are treating the matter realistically and in a spirit of compromise, with complete absence of fustian. Due to the wise counsel of Obregon and the other moderates, the Mexican Government has made plain that—as Mr. Watts declares—it has no intention of confiscating anyone's property, and that it is willing to give concessions on all holdings for which there are clear titles. The oil companies, on their part, are dealing individually with the Mexican Government, and nearly all of them have filed for concessions except those controlled by the same Doheny who has recently been convicted of corrupt and fraudulent factics by the United States Supreme Court.

Already an amicable and permanent settlement is in sight, and it is possible to laugh at the thought that war might result from the dispute over Mexico's oil. This has come about through the abandonment of political and diplomatic methods, and the adoption of businesslike, man-to-man dealing.

BRIGHT SIDE OF THE FLOOD.

Even the flood has a bright side.

It is in Chicago. In addition to the rains which in the past year have raised the level of the Great Lakes a foot to offset the claims of other lakes cities that the Chicago drainage canal is impairing their harbors, the Illinois River is now so high that it is flowing north into Lake Michigan.

When Balboa and all his men, silent upon a peak in Darien, saw the Pacific they are said to have looked off upon it with glad surprise. You can imagine the expression upon the faces of Chicagoans watching the Chicago River run the other way.

The poet would probably have called that expression ecstatic.

MORAL EXERCISE.

There are all sorts of exercises for the mind and the body, but almost no moral exercises. We propose one. Here is an editorial from the Washington Post, spokesman for our State Department and apologist for its acts. Substitute for the forces of Sacasa our own revolutionary forces in the period from 1775 to 1781 and see how it reads:

> SACASA DEFEATED.
>
> The Nicaraguan army forces have badly defeated the revolutionists and taken two important towns, besides occupying a commanding position from which to deliver the final stroke to Sacasa's dwindling forces. The revolutionists have not been in a position to obtain arms or supplies from Mexico in sufficient quantities to cope with the augmented strength of the Government forces. The Sacasa mercenaries are reported to be deserting his cause on account of the lack of pay and shortage of munitions.
>
> No doubt the Calles Government has found it impossible to furnish the money necessary to continue the campaign in Nicaragua. The Mexican regime is hard pressed for funds with which to meet its own revolution, and it can not be expected to maintain the hopeless struggle in Nicaragua. Without help from Mexico Sacasa is powerless. His flight from Puerto Cabezas to Mexico, leaving his forces in the lurch, may be looked for.
>
> President Diaz of Nicaragua has only recently been equipped sufficiently to take the offensive against the revolutionists. The terrain over which the forces are moving is very difficult, and small bands of revolutionists can easily hide. The revolutionary movement as a whole, however, is rapidly waning, and continued hardship and defeat will doubtless scatter the hands that are still in the field.

The Post is too naive to say that the Diaz forces are getting their arms and munitions from the United States Government. That is, what is reprehensible in Mexico, and therefore worth mentioning, is a virtue in us and not worth mentioning. However, now you have taken the exercise, don't you feel morally strengthened?

SPORTSMANSHIP IN POLITICS.

While Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland is noted as an excellent political executive, an able defender of Jeffersonianism and a courageous opponent of fanatical legislation and religious bigotry, it has been all too seldom recalled that he is something else as well—to wit, a politician who practices the punctilio of the ancient regime of Virginia.

If there was doubt of this in the mind of anybody, it must have been dispelled by his action in commending the statement of Gov. Alfred E. Smith anent the relation of the latter's religion and his politics. The letter of the New York executive, says Gov. Ritchie, is "a notable exposition of the principles of religious freedom, upon which American institutions rest, and to which they must adhere or perish."

These are true and forceful words, of course, but it is the fact of Gov. Ritchie's commendation rather than its content which seems so important to us. As a tribute from one serious contender for a presidential nomination to a rival, it is an unheard-of thing in our politics. But we sincerely hope it will establish a precedent for the future conduct of aspiring nominees. There has of late years been too much heated rivalry and too little good sportsmanship. There ought at least to be a handclasp before the crossing of swords.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

IT'S TIME TO GET EXCITED.

HEYWOOD BROUN in the New York World.

THE WORLD has advised calmness to all contenders (in the Sacco-Vanzetti case). It feels that harm has been done by people on both sides who are unfair and bitter. I must dissent. The average American is by no means the unexcitable person of his familiar claim, but at least there does exist a national talent for flying into a great state of calm about things which matter. Certain problems are discussed too noisily to make for reasonable judgment, but an access of passion would damage few of us. A certain Garrisonian heat and vehemence is needed. Few wrongs are ever righted by men who move against the bulwarks of evil wide-eyed and walking. In theory it is very well to say, "Keep your shirt on," but in practice, reforms are won only by those who scamper shirtless, who shout and bite and kick and have no great compunction about striking a few foul blows on their own account because their cause is fair and imperative.

Time is no good solvent for injustice—not in our land. Little old last year's scandals are constantly forgotten. I cite the recent nasty accident to baseball. Fans flocked to all the parks in numbers. Not because they inevitably believed the men accused were innocent but because the offenses charged had dated. A country addicted to the newest books, the newest plays and the man of the hour can hardly be expected to take much interest in scandals which have grown somewhat musty.

Nor do I stand as one outside this passion for timeliness in agitation. The fact that Greece is moving in this era to give Socrates another hearing strikes me only as ironic. The men now jailed in Massachusetts were first brought to trial, as I remember, in 1920. It is too much, I think, to ask their partisans at this late hour still to be calm about the tyranny which holds them. Certainly there must come a time when one should say, "I'm going to be excited. I've had enough of patience." David might conceivably have surrounded the big Philistine and starved him out most decorously. I like it better that he squinted for the range no more than a few seconds and then let drive his rock against the forehead of Goliath.

In the matter of oil and the Cabinet of Warren Harding, America was most singularly calm. As far as one might tell from the elections, the public did not give a single damn. Later, when Samuel Hopkins Adams spoke his mind out in fiction, there was a disposition to say that such vehemence was vulgar. Theodore Roosevelt, who was compounded out of vices and virtues, had the merit that he could rouse the rabble and make them angry and excited about issues often left to calm debate. He himself counseled the practice of speaking softly and carrying a big stick, but fortunately he held most imperfectly to this doctrine. Or at any rate his whispers were sibilant enough to ring around the world like musketry.

I hold it much against all liberals that they are disinclined to rise up straight upon their hind legs. To take a point well is not enough, not nearly. You must make it first and then give it a fine fling with all the strength of back and shoulders. What on earth is the use of making a point unless you can and do intend to stick it into some one's gizzard?

This rotten business up in Massachusetts about Sacco and Vanzetti is now too old by far for temporizing. The time has come for all who love justice to get just as excited as possible and to make a noise about it. Joshua had the right idea. He did not bring Jericho down with any well-considered argument. It was not even enough to send any of his intellectuals out to play persuasive airs upon the flute. All the blare and brass of trumpets was his method. Those walls came down because he dared to make a din. Why should any of us consent now to be polite about Judge Webster Thayer and the dirty work in Dedham? The reproaches ought to ring in the ears of the old man from Worcester.

COOLIDGE AND THE FILIPINOS.

From the Nation.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE gave a complete catalogue of reasons for vetoing the Philippine bill for a plebiscite on the question of Philippine independence. He was against it because it would mean nothing and it would mean too much, because it would feed agitation. But most of all, he was against it because he is against Philippine independence. The bulk of his long veto message was a lecture on the economic advantages of remaining part of the United States. That strayed a long way from the initial question: Should the Filipinos be permitted to vote whether or not they want independence now? Mr. Coolidge obviously thinks Filipino desires of small importance; if the Filipinos want independence they ought not to, and he does not intend to let them have it—or even to say that they want it. That is a dangerous position for the President of the United States to take at a moment when all Asia is throbbing with new hopes and dreams.

Spring weather seems to quicken our appreciation of the finer things of life. We admire window displays of antiques, either original or Grand Rapids; dollar [illegible] skyscrapers and Edna St. Vincent Millay's poetry. Undoubtedly his employer was a banker or at least a United Railways reorganizer—some man at whose nod the money market trembled and the Stock Exchange broke into a cold sweat. For two blocks we dogged his footsteps, avidly anxious for a glance at a captain of finance. He drove away in a—well, you know the type.

The Barnum Principle

"P. T. BARNUM'S OWN STORY." Edited by Waldo P. Browne. (Viking Press.)

THE present, and probably definitive, edition of P. T. Barnum's Autobiography is a synthesis of the various versions issued by the celebrated showman between the years 1855 and 1888. It is not that any liberties have been taken with Barnum's self-revelation. On the contrary, the editor's task has been largely one of restoration.

When "The Life of P. T. Barnum Written By Himself" appeared in [illegible] the amiable old humbug, with a big streak of the artist in him, had not yet achieved respectability, and a reputation for audacious trickery was still of great value to him. He had not yet become thoroughly convinced that he was a very great man. He was still the bright boy of the community who knew himself to he "smarter" than the other boys and enjoyed telling the neighbors how he had gotten the better of them by sly dodges. Accordingly, he told rather more than a respectable gentleman would care to have the world know.

Fourteen years later old Phineas had a very different conception of himself. Success had succeeded, as we say, and Phineas T. Barnum had come to take himself very seriously, which was natural enough, considering the world-wide fame he had made for himself.

So it happened that when he issued a new version of his autobiography in 1869, there was a good deal in the earlier version that he overlooked as being quite out of the respectable picture. In subsequent versions, we are told, the self-portrait steadily improved; and the last version ended with a devout passage from which one gathers that arrangements had been made with the Proprietor of the Universe for a comfortable apartment in the best New Jerusalem hotel.

It is a curious, a humorous and a profitable tale. Here is the story of a boy who had much less training than many a police dog gets; but he discovered very early that a dollar gotten by trickery buys quite as much as a dollar earned by labor, and that the former method is not only easier, but may be much more effective. That he was clever he proved to himself when, as a grocery clerk, he successfully short-weighted the customers, or, by an ingenious lottery scheme, sold out a joblot of worthless merchandise at stiff prices.

A little later, the same boy was in New York making thousands believe that he had a veritable mermaid on display at so much a look; and so unerring was his instinctive understanding of crowd mentality that even the experts came to see and marvel. According to his own testimony, he was always resorting to "dirty tricks" and taking mean advantages; but always his methods were so clever as to provoke laughter in the crowd; and the laughter protected him.

Barnum knew, long before the crowd psychologists began to theorize, that a mob is both unintelligent and unmoral. And, what is more, he knew how to unite otherwise intelligent and moral individuals into a characterless mob. He understood the contagion of ideas.

When he really had a worthy thing to present, as when he brought Jennie Lind to America, his methods were the same as when he was selling the mermaid to gaping thousands; for he knew that it is never essential worth that impresses the crowd, but only the popular persuasion that may grow up or be built up about that worth. He had already proven, as all successful demagogues have proven, that the same unreasoned mob belief can be built up about anything, and that nothing, however worthy, can achieve popular, and therefore paying, success without it.

The Barnum principle did not come into being with its great American exemplar, nor did it die with him. It is now so commonly employed that we scarcely ever notice it.

Barnum's autobiography can be read merely for the fun of it; or it can be read by way of learning how a lone wolf can set a world of sheep bleating in unison. Perhaps no one ever quite escapes Barnumization in some degree, for we are gregarious beings. But the degree can be greatly lessened by honestly asking oneself in every instance of a prevalent belief accepted: Did I arrive at this belief by independent judgment based upon a careful examination of the thing believed, or am I believing it because others believe it?

It is astonishing what results may be obtained by this method. There are those who might have no beliefs at all if the question could be answered accurately; but such could not answer the question, however they might try.

PHILOPENA. By Henry Kitchell Webster. (Bobbs-Merril Co.)

Celia and Cynthia looked exactly alike, the only difference between them being that Celia was married to Phil, while Cynthia was still unattached. Celia wanted to visit Fred in another city, it seems, and so she induced Cynthia to play Celia, which was done with such perfect success that Cynthia is now Mrs. Phil. Whether or not Celia is now Mrs. Fred, this writer can not say; but that would be a romantic consummation greatly to be desired, no doubt.

IDLE HANDS. By Janet Fairbank. (Bobbs-Merrill Co.)

WHAT'S YOUR AVERAGE? With an Introduction by Kathleen and Charles G. Norris. (Dutton.)

This question book has already run into five editions, though published about two weeks ago.

The author and publisher of this question book hope that it may run into many editions in a very short time.

VAUDEVILLE ARTISTS FROLIC IN A BIG BENEFIT SHOW

Large Audience Sits Through Performance Which Runs Until Almost Day Break.

An audience which assembled shortly before midnight and which filled the Orpheum Theater from top to bottom sat through the annual benefit of the National Vaudeville Artists despite the fact that it was almost 3 o'clock this morning before the last act of the entertainment was finished. About a hundred actors and actresses, who are playing in St. Louis this week, every theater being represented, took part in the show providing some 25 acts of high-class vaudeville entertainment. Harry O'Neal of the "Night in Paris," at the Shubert Theater, acted as master of ceremonies and introduced each act.

One of the most enjoyable features of the long program was the singing and dancing of members of the chorus, now in training for the Municipal Opera season.

Among those taking part on the bill were Finks and Ayers, Tabor and Greene, Benny and Western, Sandy McPherson, Mooney and Churchill, Joseph B. Stanley, Yates and Lawley, Fay Bainter, White and Manning, Ruth Budd, Jack Pearl, Jarvis and Harrison, Brooke Johns, Gifford and Holmes, Emil Boreo, Billy Adams, "The Ingenues," the Liberty Music Hall chorus and a trained white elephant.

Several thousand dollars were raised by the performance for the N. V. A. sick benefit fund.

NEW NATIONAL ANTHEM CONTEST IS A FAILURE

"Star Spangled Banner" Will Continue to Wave Over "America the Beautiful."

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 22.—The "Star-Spangled Banner" will continue to wave as the accepted national anthem. Another in the long series of attempts to establish a rival American hymn has ended in temporary failure. Spurred by cash prizes of $1500, 961 composers prepared musical settings for Katherine Lee Bates' "America, the Beautiful" in the National Federation of Music Clubs' competition for a new national song. Four music experts last night announced their agreement that none of the settings was "fully adequate to the inspiring text."

The National Federation which is holding its biennial session here is arranging a new competition, on the same subject, but restricted to nationally known musicians and composers.

Sung in Many Lands.

Since it was written in 1903, "America, the Beautiful" has been the inspiration of many composers who have accepted it as the poem best adapted as a rival to "The Star-Spangled Banner." It has been widely published in school books and has been sung to many tunes, not only in the United States but in Australia, Canada and Mexico, with the names of those countries substituted for "America."

Manuscripts in the Federation's competition came from parts of the United States and from Alaska, Hawaii, India, England and France. They were judged by Dr. Frank Damrosch, New York; Frederick S. Converse of Boston, Felix Borowski of Chicago and Dean Peter K. Lutkin of Northwestern University. The judges were under an injunction not to select a musical setting unless it was great enough "to sweep people off their feet."

Difference in the Songs.

"The Star-Spangled Banner" and "America, the Beautiful," Federation executives pointed out, are diametrically opposite in theme, although alike in their exuberant patriotism. One was written when its author was a prisoner of war, and breathes a martial spirit. The other was inspired while the author stood at the summit of Pike's Peak visioning "the sealike expanse of fertile country." One is a paean to a flag as the symbol of a nation; the other a song to the land itself. Mrs. Bates' poem opens with this stanza:

O, beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
America! America!
God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

SUBMARINE COLOR PHOTOGRAPHY SOLVED

Flashlight Powder Timed for for Hypersensitized Plates Produces Natural Tints.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Natural color photography beneath the surface of the sea is the achievement of Dr. W. H. Longley, ichthyologist of Goucher College, and Charles Martin of the National Geographic Society.

Finding that the ordinary autochrome plate would not register the moving life under water, off Dry Tortugas, of the Florida Keys, the scientist and the photographer developed a special technique. After hypersensitizing plates, to reduce the exposures to one-twentieth of a second, they were able to make photographs in shallow waters.

That left the gorgeous parade of color that lies deeper still a baffling problem, for after going down 15 feet or more, even the hypersensitized plates did not give satisfactory results.

A raft was rigged up to support a heavy charge of flash-light powder, to add its brilliance to the sunlight. The problem of synchronizing, the flash with the camera shutter was solved, and it was discovered that autochromes could be made by that method without the necessity of hypersensitizing the plates.

A plan had to be devised to enable the diver with the camera to pull the powder raft along as he hunted for the right subjects and to set off the explosion at the right moment. A dry-cell electric storage battery was used, but the setting of the electrical connections within a few feet of the pound of magnesium powder was a hazardous undertaking. On one occasion, Dr. Longley was badly burned and incapacitated for six days by a premature explosion.

COURT REFUSES TO ACCEPT BOY SLAYER,S GUILTY PLEA

Poplar Bluff Judge Rules Earl Jackson Must Face Jury For Woman's Murder.

By the Associated Press.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., April 22.—A conference behind closed doors between Judge Charles L. Ferguson of the Circuit Court, Prosecuting Attorney Byron Kearbey and T. H. Henson, attorney representing Earl Jackson, 15 years old, confessed slayer of his stepmother, Mrs. Mary Jackson, has resulted in Henson withdrawing the youth's plea of guilty.

Young Jackson entered a plea of guilty to murder in the first degree on April 14 and threw himself on the mercy of the court. Judge Ferguson, after reviewing the case, refused to entertain the plea. He explains that it is his desire to have the case thoroughly investigated and to leave Jackson's fate with a jury. The trial is set for April 28.

The murder occurred Oct. 7, last. Mrs. Jackson's husband, Marion Jackson, is held without bond for trial in connection with the murder.

RESIDENTS REBUILDING TOWNS TORNADO WRECKED

Buffalo Hart and Cornland, Ill., Clear Away Ruins; Many Carried Storm Insurance.

By the Associated Press.

CORNLAND, Ill., April 22.—Wearing a single band of red string on the left arm to distinguish them from workers from out of town who wore white strings on their arms, residents of Cornland and Buffalo Hart today started to rebuild their homes wrecked by Tuesday's tornado.

A water-soaked Bible opened at the Sixty-ninth Psalm in which David asks God to save him from affliction, was found under part of the roof of the Samuel Phares home.

Many residents of Cornland carried tornado insurance. Mrs. Amanda Shannon, a widow, renewed her $1000 policy the day before the storm struck. Not one building in Cornland escaped damage.

INDIGESTION DELAYS DETROIT LIBEL SUIT

Illness of noted attorney causes adjournment of Million Dollar Damage Case

The newspapers all over the country carried on Monday, April 18th, an Associated Press story stating that an attack of acute indigestion had caused the adjournment of the million dollar libel suit being tried in Detroit.

This is a striking example of the unexpected suddenness with which indigestion may attack and the serious interruption it can mean to business or social activities.

DANGER TO ST. LOUIS WATER SUPPLY BY FLOOD REMOTE

It Would Take Further Eight-Foot Rise Even to Discommode Chain of Rocks Plant.

The possibility that the water supply of St. Louis will be interfered with by the flood is extremely remote, Water Commissioner Day said today.

The Chain of Rocks waterworks could stand a rise of eight feet before the buildings would be touched by the flood. In the event of such a rise, which Commissioner Day considers unlikely, sandbags would be used to protect the engine pits.

The 1903 flood, which was worse in the vicinity of St. Louis than the present one, failed to interfere with the regular operation of the waterworks, Day recalled.

The Chain of Rocks plant is St. Louis' sole source of water.

A new plant on the Missouri River at Howard's Bend is in process of construction. The surrounding Missouri River bottoms are inundated, but the new plant is on high ground and dry. A rise of 6½ feet would flood the construction, causing damage and delay.

WEALTHY MEN'S SONS RAKED

Illinois Senate Acts on Armour Grain Co. Incident.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 22.—After a verbal cudgeling of "rich men's sons" by Senator Harold Kessinger and a defense of J. Ogden Armour by Senator James J. Barbour, the Illinois Senate has recommended to the Chicago Board of Trade that it bar "guilty" officers of the Armour Grain Marketing Co. from trade on the exchange.

Barbour declared that in the last few years it had become a custom to indict meat packing concerns "because they represent swollen wealth." J. Ogden Armour, he said, stepped into his father's shoes and "cheerfully gave all he had to save the company from ruin."

"I feel sorry for J. Ogden Armour," Kessinger replied, "but he is only going the way of all wealthy men's sons—including the Cudahy and the Morris boys. Only the inheritors of Swift's estate went into their offices and worked."

HONEYWELL WILL BE IN RACE

Enters Balloon Elimination Test to Be Held at Akron, O.

Capt. Harry E. Honeywell, veteran balloonist and winner of several national and international races, last night announced his entry in the national elimination race starting from Akron, O., May 29. He did not participate in last year's contest.

His balloon probably will bear the name of either the Rotary Club or the Midland Valley Country Club of St. Louis.

"Heavens! Not a Drop!"

When Mother is Alarmed!

CONSTIPATION, biliousness, coated tongue, feverish headache, sick stomach—then is the time when mother relies upon Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. "My son had been constipated and bilious since birth. At the age of five he had such an attack of sour stomach and bad breath I had to take him out of kindergarten. It was then I gave him Syrup Pepsin. He improved from the first dose and soon was back to school completely restored and healthier than he had ever been before. It is a great comfort to have a medicine for children in which we can have such implicit confidence." (Name and address sent on request.)

Wins Confidence of Old Folks

Old people are charmed by the gentle, kindly action of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. No pain, gripe or depressing "flushing" of the bowels. Just an easy movement and the fine feeling of restful comfort. There's seldom any real sickness in the home that learns to use Syrup Pepsin at the first sign of coated tongue, fever, biliousness, headache and such troubles due to constipation. Recommended in a million homes. Sold by all druggists.

For a free trial bottle send name and address to Pepsin Syrup Company, Monticello, Illinois.

ROOMING HOUSE PROPRIETOR HELD FOR KILLING IN ALTON

Second Inquest Jury Accuses Herbert Blake in Death of Cornelius J. Meert.

A Cornoer's jury at Alton held Herbert Blake, proprietor of a rooming house at East Alton, for the fatal shooting of Cornelius J. Meert, a roomer, Sunday. Blake pleaded self-defense, but others declared he shot without provocation.

This was the second inquest, the first Coroner's jury having failed to reach an agreement. Meert was a veteran of the Belgian army, and was cited for bravery at Ypres.

Physicians and Druggists Must Agree to Obey Law.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Physicians, druggists and others who sell tax-paid alcohol must sign a pledge to obey the prohibition law, instead of the certificate heretofore required that the applicant for a permit had not violated either State or national dry laws in the previos year.

The announcement wsa made today by acting Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

NOTES COOLIDGE'S SHOE SHINE

Sir Charles Higham Says President Is Best-Dressed American.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, April 22.—Sir Charles Higham, British advertising man, says President Coolidge is one of the few Americans he has seen with his shoes shined. Higham also declares the President to be the best-dressed man in America.

He said here yesterday, following a call on Mr. Coolidge, that Mr. Coolidge talked vivaciously on half a dozen different subjects.

The Luscious Strawberry Is a Healthful Fruit

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

United States Senator From New York.

Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

NOT long ago I saw a newspaper article about the raising of strawberries in Maryland. This article stated that in this one state 12,570 acres will be devoted to growing of strawberries during the coming season. This is an increase, I understand, of more than 2000 acres over preceeding years.

The Maryland growers report, according to the article, that the strawberry patches never looked better than they do this year.

It is not alone in Maryland that the strawberry acreage has been increased. It is stated that there is an increase of 22 per cent over last year. Missouri, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana are other states where more land is being cultivated for the growing of early strawberries.

These are interesting facts. They indicate the growing popularity of this delicious fruit. I heard a bishop say one time that "God could have made a better berry than the strawberry, but he never did." That this is the general feeling is indicated by the growing popularity of this delicious fruit. It is not alone in its fresh form that the strawberry is in demand. Delicious preserves and jams are made from it. If the fresh berries cannot be had every food shop will display a variety of the canned article. Delicious strawberry flavoring and syrup may be had at any season of the year.

Strawberries are a wholesome and health-giving fruit. Not only do they carry the fruit acids, so stimulating and healthful to digestion, but also they are rich in certain mineral salts. Potash, lime and sodium are found in these berries.

We cannot have good health, firm muscles and strong bones unless we take into the system quantities of the essential minerals. On this account it is a mistake to eat too much of the denatured food. We need the coarse outer layers as well as the starchy interiors. This is the part of the grain that carries the mineral substance.

The strawberry, you will see, is a valuable food because it helps us to get the mineral substances necessary to our well being. In addition these berries are mildly laxative. Likewise they stimulate kidney action. In short, they have a favorable effect upon the bodily functions.

WAYS OF PREPARING SAVORY VEGETABLES

The Everyday Dinner Menu Should Contain Several Vegetable Dishes.

The French housewife's method of cooking green peas is to put half a cupful of water into an earthenware saucepan, to which is added a little pepper, salt and sugar, and then allow it to come to a boil. The peas are put into this and allowed to steam gently until they are nearly cooked; they are then drained thoroughly, and emptied into a clean, warm saucepan, with a little butter. The saucepan is then allowed to stand the side of the fire until the peas are thoroughly cooked, when they are turned into a very hot dish and served.

Fresh Asparagus.

Wash, scrape, cut off about one inch hard ends, and tie together. Put into saucepan, cover with boiling water, and boil until tender, keeping tips out of water for the first ten minutes; add salt. Remove from water; lay on pieces of toast and serve with melted butter, cream or Hollandaise sauce.

Young Carrots.

Young summer carrots are surprisingly good baked. They should be scraped, split lengthwise and placed in a casserole with plenty of butter and a little sugar, a trace of cinnamon, if liked—and baked until tender, covering the first half hour. The sweetness and flavor are not washed out, but baked in!

Parsley Potato Balls.

Cut potatoes with French ball butter, allowing six for each service. Steam or boil until tender. Season with salt and pepper. Serve on plate sprinkled with finely chopped parsley.

Cauliflower Au Gratin.

Cauliflower au gratin is made from cauliflower broken in large pieces before it is boiled, and then cooked for about 20 minutes. Put the pieces in a baking dish and sprinkle them with grated cheese—Parmesan is the best. Then sprinkle the dish with fine breadcrumbs and small pieces of butter. Pour over the whole a sauce made from two beaten egg yolks to which are added a saltspoon of salt, a teaspoon of lemon juice, two tablespoons of grated cheese, a tablespoon of melted butter and a little pepper. Brown in the oven.

Escalloped Potatoes.

Fill a quart measure with sliced raw white potatoes. Put a layer of these potatoes in a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with one teaspoon of salt, a little flour and a very little black pepper, then dot with one tablespoon of butter. Now add a second layer of the sliced potatoes, more flour, seasoning and butter, and continue to repeat these layers till all the potato slices are used. Then pour three cups of scalded sweet milk over all, cover the dish and bake one hour in a moderate oven. Remove cover and continue to bake 30 minutes. Serve hot.

Stuffed Celery.

Cream together one cake cream cheese and about two tablespoons Roquefort cheese. Moisten with a little olive oil or mayonnaise dressing. Add a dash of pepper, salt, paprika and onion salt and mix well. Fill the grooved surfaces of cleaned celery stalks with this mixture, allowing it to stand firm on the ice before serving. The cream and Roquefort cheese combination makes a delightful filling.

Fried Artichokes.

Cut off the outer leaves and hard points and divide lengthwise in four or six pieces, according to the size of the vegetables; rub with lemon; plunge into cold water, drain well; beat up one egg (for six small artichokes) and add to it salt, pepper, thyme, sage, marjoram, and savory to taste; roll each piece of artichoke in this, then in flour and fry quickly in boiling fat in which a piece of chopped onion has been browned; drain and serve hot. The herbs may be omitted, or, if desired, the pieces of artichoke may simply be rolled in flour.

VALUE GOOD BREAKFASTS

Several Suggestions for Making This Meal More Attractive.

Lack of sleep always affects the appetite. Even if a child has had a long unbroken rest during the night, his appetite often has to be tempted in the morning. This can usually be done by serving fruit as a first course—oranges and grapefruit are both stimulating to the appetite. The juice can be squeezed from oranges and grapefruit can be cut in half, seeds removed and sections separated the night before they are to be used. Grapefruit can be pared, the sections removed and placed in a bowl with honey and allowed to stand over night in a refrigerator.

Honey is delicious as a sweetening for cereals. It is less sweet and has more flavor than sugar and in this way will sometimes make cereal more interesting. Fruit and cereal may be served in combination, or fruit can be combined with bacon or eggs in such things as fried apples with bacon and fruit omelets. Other appetizers not commonly found on the breakfast table are water cress, parsley and celery. Any one of these vegetables will add a refreshing touch to the usual morning meal.

Peanut Butter Soup.

One cup peanut butter, two cups boiling water, two teaspoons salt, one tablespoon flour, two tablespoons green pepper, four cups milk, one-half teaspoon pepper, two tablespoons grated onion, one clove. Place the peanut butter in a double boiler and add the water gradually. Add the milk, seasoning and onions and cook for 20 minutes. Stir in the flour which has been rubbed smooth with the cold water. Stir in the pepper and cook 10 minutes longer. Serve with crisp crackers. This recipe is quoted from a well-known teacher of cooking.

Make White Sauce.

The rule for white sauce calls for a cup of milk for each two tablespoons of butter and flour with one-third of a teaspoon of salt. This a rather thick white sauce and, of course, may be thinned for use with creamed vegetables if desired.

Rhubarb Meringue Pie.

Take two cups of rhubarb, two eggs, one cup sugar, two tablespoons flour and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Wash, dry and cut rhubarb into small pieces. Pour boiling water over them and drain. Separate eggs, beat yolks and add sugar which has been sifted with the flour and salt. Turn this mixture onto rhubarb and stir until well mixed. Pour into a pie pan lined with rich pastry and bake in a moderate oven about 45 minutes, or until rhubarb filling is firm. When cool cover with meringue made by beating two egg whites until frothy, and then add one-fourth teaspoon baking powder and continue beating until stiff, when four tablespoons of sugar must be folded in. Spread meringue on top of filled pie and brown quickly under the broiler.

DISHES UNIQUE AND DIFFERENT

Peanut Butter Is Comparatively New in the Realm of Food.

The following recipes for combination dishes in which peanut butter plays an important part will be found to be unique and different:

Peanut Butter Loaf.

Two cups peanut butter, one cup breadcrumbs, one and one-quarter teaspoon salt, two tablespoons cornstarch, two cups canned tomatoes, one-quarter teaspoon pepper. Add the peanut butter and the breadcrumbs to the canned tomatoes. Have ready the cornstarch which has been moistened with part of the tomato juice and stir this into the first mixture. Add the pepper and place in a mold which has been greased. Cover and steam for two hours and serve hot with white sauce.

Peanut Butter and Cheese.

Proceed as in the former recipe substituting cream cheese for creamery butter. Sprinkle each lettuce leaf with chopped stuffed olives and spread with mayonnaise before pressing the two slices of bread together.

Another sandwich may be made by mixing one-quarter cup of peanut butter with a tablespoon of cream. Spread this on thin slice of white bread. Sperad the other slice of the sandwich with currant jelly and make the sandwich as usual.

Peanut Butter Salad.

Soak 18 large prunes in water over night. Dry with a soft cloth. Remove pits and fill centers with peanut butter. Make nests of crisp lettuce leaves and use three prunes for each portion. Sprinkle with chopped nuts and serve with French dressing.

Chases Dirt

The Symbol of Healthful Cleanliness

Old Dutch has won distinction as "The Symbol of Healthful Cleanliness" because there is nothing else like it for keeping the home hygienically clean and sanitary.

Old Dutch is a natural cleanser of a distinctive quality and character. It looks like a fine powder, yet, under the microscope its particles are flaky and flat shaped. Like thousands of tiny erasers, these particles simply, quickly and easily erase the invisible impurities as well as the dirt you see.

Old Dutch is so efficient because it is so different; it is free from harsh, scratchy grit, and does not scratch. This is a vital protection in the home, because scratches are catch-alls for unseen and unhealthful impurities.

Millions of housewives know that a little Old Dutch goes a long way and that it is the safest and most economical for all cleaning. As Healthful Cleanliness is a safeguard to health, so is Old Dutch your safeguard to Healthful Cleanliness.

There's nothing else like Old Dutch

RECIPES FOR DISHES IN WEEK'S MENUS

Increase Your Food Recipes by Constantly Trying Out New Dishes.

Have ready some cream and finely chopped spinach. Make small nests of the spinach placing each one on a slice of toast. The eggs may be cooked according to the family's preferences. If they prefer to eat the eggs from the shell, a soft-boiled egg may be placed in the green nest with an egg cup at the plate for convenience in eating. If, on the other hand, poached eggs are more popular, the carefully cooked egg may be placed in the center of the nest. While we have not adopted very generally the advice of those who suggest our eating vegetables for breakfast, for we may like to make an exception. For this reason the spinach is served in place of a cereal.

Peach Toast.

Cut crusts from delicately toasted bread and for each serving arrange halves of stewed canned peaches on top of the toast. Pour around enough of the peach juice to moisten nicely. If it is desired to have this dish take the place of both the fruit and cereal courses, one may use graham, bran or whole wheat bread.

Rusks.

Two eggs, one pint scalded milk, one-half cup butter, one yeast cake, one-half cup sugar, six cups flour, one-quarter cup margarin, one-half cup warm water.

Dissolve the yeast in the warm water and set aside for about 20 minutes. Add the eggs, the salt, one-half of the sugar, the scalded milk and flour. Add the butter and the margarin to the top and let rise until very light. Add the remaining sugar and flour enough to knead. This will take about six cups. Let stand two hours and knead well. Let rise again and make into small rolls. Let rise once more and when double in bulk bake in a moderate oven, increasing to about 400 degrees. When nearly done glaze with sugar moistened in milk.

Rice Muffins.

Two and one-quarter cups flour, one egg, two tablespoons melted butter, one-half teaspoon salt, one cup milk, three-quarters cup hot cooked rice, five teaspoons baking powder. Combine the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add one-quarter of the milk and a beaten egg. Have ready the rest of the milk mixed with the rice. Beat this thoroughly and combine with the first mixture. Add butter. Bake in a well oiled muffin tin.

Finnan Haddie.

If it is dry soak it for half an hour in cold water. Drain and pour over it water just off the boiling point and let stand for 15 minutes. Remove the skin or not as you choose, put it on a greased broiler skin down if this has not been removed, dot generously with buter and broil until a nice brown. It will retire 20 minutes, or about that. Serve on a hot plate, adding a little more butter, or pour hot cream over it. Garnish with parsley and serve with potatoes.

FRUIT CONFECTIONS

Suitable for Afternoon Tea or Bridge Luncheon.

Stuffed fruits are a nice addition to a company menu. Every-one knows how delicious are stuffed dates, but few housewives stop to consider the possibilities of stuffing other small fruits. Here area few suggestions along this line:

Stuffed Figs.

The fig is another small fruit that stuffs nicely. Use either chopped nuts moistened with orange juice and sweetened with sugar or else use small portions of fondant wrapped around a nut meat. Slit the figs and insert the filling. Then roll the fruit in powdered sugar and cocoanut or either sugar or cocoanut.

Stuffed Prunes.

Wash and steam prunes. Dry, remove pits and fill centers with marshmallows, salted almonds, Brazil nuts, walnuts or foundant.

Ginger Prunes.

Take 20 large prunes, one cup seeded raisins, one-third cup preserved ginger, one-third cup any candied fruit, one tablespoon citron, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one tablespoon powdered sugar and granulated sugar.

Soak overnight and then stone the prunes. Run the raisins through the food chopper. Chop the ginger fine and cut the fruits, which may be cherries, pineapple or any preferred candied variety, and citron, into small pieces before measuring them; then add them to the ground raisins together with the cinnamon and sugar, working all to a smooth paste.

"'Cause our mother gives us early breakfasts . . . big bowls of Kellogg's Corn Flakes! And milk just brought by the milkman—and, gee, but those corn flakes sure taste good!"

No wonder kiddies love Kellogg's—it's flavor! Matchless Kellogg flavor and crispness!

And Kellogg's are so good for every-body. Never tough nor thick—always easy to digest. More than 11,000,000 people demand them every day!

Serve Kellogg's with milk or cream. Extra delicious and healthful with canned or fresh fruits added—or honey. Pears, prunes, bananas, raisins. Order them at hotels and cafeterias. On diners. Sold by all grocers.

Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Always oven-fresh in the inner-sealed red-and-green package. Imitations cannot equal such wonder-flavor!

Fillet of Beef.

The true fillet is the tenderloin. A short fillet, weighing from two and a half to three pounds (the average weight from a very large rump) will suffice for 10 persons at a dinner where this is served as one course, and if a larger quantity is wanted a great saving will be made if two short fillets are used. Remove from the fillet with a sharp knife every shred of ligament and thick, tough skin. Draw a line through the center and lard with two rows of pork, having them meet at this line. Dredge well with salt, pepper and flour, and put, without water, in a shallow pan. Roast for 30 minutes in a hot oven. Serve with mushroom or tomato sauce.

SAVORY SWEET POTATOES

Try Cooking "Sweets" According to These Recipes.

Sweet potatoes are among the vegetables which are generally served baked or boiled. Few housekeepers take occasion to prepare this very excellent vegetable in any other ways. That is the reason we are submitting these two recipes.

Sweet Potato Scallop.

Two cups boiled sweet potatoes, one-quarter-inch slices; one-half cup brown sugar, one and one-half cups thinly sliced sour apples, four teaspoons butter, one teaspoon salt, two tablespoons red cinnamon drops.

Put half the potatoes in a buttered baking dish, cover with half the apples, sprinkle with half the sugar, dot over with half the butter and sprinkle with half the salt, repeat, sprinkle top with candies and bake in a moderate oven one hour.

Potatoes in Shell.

Six baked sweet potatoes, one-quarter cup hot milk, two tablespoons butter, one-quarter cup almonds, blanched and chopped, marshmallows.

Take even-sized potatoes and bake until soft. Cut in half lengthwise, scoop out the inside. Mash, mix with butter, a little salt, milk and almonds. Return to the shells, reheat and cover with marshmallows. Place in moderate oven and bake until marshmallows are melted.

If You Have a Complaint to Make Call GRand 4100

If you haven't gotten in the habit of serving macaroni and spaghetti products often, you will when you know how delicious Viviano products are. Made of genuine Durum Cream Wheat Semolina.

Today's Suggestion—
Viviano Chicken Spaghetti

One chicken, boiled until very tender; take all from the bones and pick very fine. Boil one-half pound Viviano spaghetti until tender. Butter a two-quart stew pan and line with pieces of spaghetti; put in a layer of chicken seasoned with the liquid boiled down, salt, pepper and a very little butter; then a layer of spaghetti and so on until the dish is filled. Pour a cup of cream over the whole and bake half an hour. Serve in casserole.

Quality Kroger's Meats

You can buy no finer quality Meats than those regularly obtainable at Kroger Meat Shops. The fact that we are the largest retailers in St. Louis...serving the most particular people in town...proves this without a doubt. Select your Sunday dinner Meat dish at your neighborhood Kroger Store and notice the excellent quality and low price.

FFERENT WAYS OF SERVING RICE

is Article of Food May Be Served in Endless Ways.

Few articles of food are more able than rice. Learn to use for it can be used as a vegetable, in combination with meats other articles of food and it be used as a basic article in licious desserts. These recipes fer several good suggestions for use of rice:

Rice as a Vegetable.

Pick over and wash one cup of . Cook in double boiler with cup of boiling water until rice as absorbed water. Add two cups lded milk and two teaspoons lt. Add more milk if necessary continue cooking until rice is ft.

Take off stove and turn into h to cool. When cool use a oon to take up portions of cold e and plunge them into boiling t deep frying fat. Fry until licately brown, drain on soft paper and serve with meat instead of potatoes.

Casserole of Rice.

Line a mold, slightly greased, with steamed rice. Fill the center with two cups of cold, finely chopped cooked mutton highly seasoned with salt, pepper, cayenne, celery salt, onion juice and lemon juice, then add one-fourth cup cracker crumbs, one egg slightly beaten and enough hot butter or water to moisten. Cover meat with rice, cover rice with buttered paper to keep out moisture while steaming and steam 45 minutes. Turn on a platter and surround with tomato sauce. Veal may be used in place of mutton.

Rice Croquettes.

One-half cup rice, one-half cup boiling water, one and one-fourth cups milk, one-fourth cup cream, two tablespoons chopped canned pimientos, one-half teaspoon salt, a few grains cayenne.

Soak rice over night in cold water to cover. Drain, add boiling water, and cook in double boiler until rice has absorbed water; then add milk and cook until rice has absorbed milk. Add cream, pimientos chopped and drained, and salt and cayenne. Spread in plate, cool, shape, dip in flour, egg and crumbs, fry in deep fat and drain on brown paper. Pile on serving dish, pour around cheese sauce and garnish with parsley.

Cheese Sauce.

Melt three tablespoons butter, add three tablespoons flour and stir until well mixed; then pour on gradually, while stirring constantly, one and one-half cups milk. Bring to the boiling point, and add one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and one cup mild cheese, grated or cut in small cubes.

Rice a la Creole.

This requires one cup of boiled ham, one onion, one cup of boiled rice, one can of tomatoes, two cups of fine soft crumbs, two tablespoons of butter, celery salt, pepper and salt.

Chop ham very fine; mix all ingredients together; place in greased casserole and bake for 30 minutes.

A Breakfast Idea.

If you have one of those very useful china covers such as you may use for keeping griddle cakes warm, serve the toast covered with it.

Escalloped Corn.

One can corn, one green pepper, one-half cup onion, one teaspoon salt, two tablespoons butter, one cup milk, one-quarter cup bread crumbs.

Put corn, finely chopped green pepper and onion in alternate layers in baking dish; add salt, butter and milk. Cover with bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes.

MISTRIAL ORDERED DUE TO COMPLAINT OF JURORS

Members of Panel Were in Ill Humor at Having to Return to Court Another Day.

Circuit Judge Calhoun today declared a mistrial in a damage suit case because he had overheard the jurors complain among themselves at haveing to appear in court an extra day. He lectured the jurors on reverence for law and ordered the case to be docketed for another trial.

Mrs. Alice Berry of 2310 Newhouse avenue was suing the United Railways Co. for $15,000 for injuries suffered in an alleged street car collision of which the company's attorney declared there was no record. After the jury deliberated an hour yesterday, Judge Calhoun sent them home with instructions to resume deliberation today.

Leaving the courtroom he heard one juror remark ankrily, "I'm losing $8 a day by having to come back here." Another said, "Somebody's going to suffer for this." Judge Calhoun said he did not think that jurors so swayed by personal feeling could return a fair verdict.

CLEARED OF HOLDUP CHARGE

James Carr, 27, Found Not Guilty on Alibi Defense.

James Carr, 27 years old, a steamfitter, of 2406 North Spring avenue, was acquitted of a charge of first-degree robbery by a jury in Circuit Judge Ossing's court yesterday.

Carr was identified in court by William N. Kennedy, a driver for the Great American Tea Co., as one of two men who robbed him and Eugene Snyder of $63 in a holdup in the 3900 block of North Market street on Nov. 23, last. Snyder failed to identify Carr, who was arrested as a suspect the day following the robbery. Robert G. Craig, secretary of the Adams Stamp and Stationery Co., testified that Carr was employed by him on Nov. 23 and two days subsequent in laying a pipe line in St. Louis County. Carr also took the stand in his own behalf and denied knowledge of the holdup. The jury deliberated less than half an hour in returning a verdict of acquittal.

TRAIN SERVICE MAINTAINED ON MO.-PAC. DESPITE FLOOD

President Baldwin Says That by Detour All But a Few Points Are Reached.

President L. W. Baldwin of the Missouri Pacific lines issued this statement regarding flood conditions in the Mississippi Valley:

"The Missouri Pacific lines have been able to accept all traffic of every character offered for all points, except some livestock and perishables to a few local points, and by detouring where necessary have maintained open through routes for this traffic. Flood waters have inundated tracks at many points and never in history have so many points been affected simultaneously. The loss of one of our bridges at Little Rock has not affected service because we have another bridge over the Arkansas River within a half mile of that point.

"The situation is now rapidly clearing up. Repular service is maintained on all of the main lines on the Western District of the Missouri Pacific, which embraces the lines north, west, southwest and south of Kansas City. This is true also on the Eastern District, which includes lines in Missouri between St. Louis and Kansas City, between Kansas City and Joplin, between Joplin and Springfield, and between St. Louis and Southeastern Missouri points, except a few local points on branch lines in Southeast Missouri an dthe low-grade line on the east bank of the Mississippi River from St. Louis to Cairo, Ill., which is still under water south of Gorham.

"Conditions in the Southern District, which includes lines in Arkansas and Louisiana, are rapidly improving. The line to Memphis is open through Knobel, Ark., and dependable service is maintained over that line between St. Louis and Memphis. It is expected that the through route from St. Louis to Little Rock will be open tomorrow and to Texas Saturday night or Sunday morning. Throughout the entire trouble we have succeeded in maintaining passenger service even to the most seriously affected sections, although through travelers have frequently been required to put up with delays. It has been necessary to detour many trains around locally affected areas.

"The high waters are rapidly receding in Kansas and Oklahoma and gradually receding in Arkansas. In many places in Southern Arkansas and in the territory immediately adjacent to the Mississippi River the situation will, of course, remain serious for some time to come."

DARROW-WHEELER DRY LAW DEBATE NOT TO BE BROADCAST

Former Opposes Permitting Discussion, in New York Tomorrow Night, to Be Placed on Air.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Ernest J. Howe, president of the American Forum, under whose auspices Clarence Darrow and Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Antisaloon League, will debate prohibition in Carnegie Hall tomorrow evening, has requested Police Commissioner Warren to provide sufficient policemen "to prevent the outbreak of demonstrations which the Forum states are planned by partisans of either side of the question."

The debate will not be broadcast, despite many requests. The formal statement sent out by the Forum explains that "the controversial nature of the subject, as well as the time it would take to broadcast the entire debate, is the reason for the decision not to put the debate on the air." It is known, however, that several radio stations have offered to give the debate to a far larger audience than can be housed in Carnegie Hall and without cost to the Forum.

They were given to understand, it is learned, that the decision did not rest with the Forum but with Darrow. His reasons for objecting to the broadcast were not made clear.

SEEKS PERMISSION TO HAVE MASS REGULARLY AT HOME

E. L. Bakewell Has Erected Private Chapel in County Residence in Memory of Wife's Mother.

Edward L. Bakewll ,real estate man, has written to Pope Pius XI asking permission to have mass said regularly in the private chapel recently constructed on his extensive Denny road estate, in memory of Mrs. Lorenzo E. Anderson, his wife's late mother. Mass was said in the chapel for the first time Easter Sunday, by special permission of Archbishop Glennon, the Rev. Father Bakewell, S. J., a cousin of Bakewell, officiating.

The chapel is built of rock and is approached by a flagstone walk. The roof and belfry are of slate. An old lock, once used on a cabin that stood on the estate 100 years fastens the Gothic arched door. Stained glass windows are set in the walls. There is a rope in front of the wooden altar to ring the chapel bell.

Monument to Virgil Unveiled.

By the Associated Press.

MANTUA, Italy, April 22.—The unveiling of a monument to Virgil brought together representatives of Oxford, Cambridge, the Sorbonne Prague, Stockholm, Heidelberg and the principal Italian universities. The famous Roman poet was born in 70 B. C. and for a long time lived on his estate near Mantua.

OPPORTUNITY

We have an opening for six salesmen who are neat in appearance, snappy, energetic and original in ideas, to sell America's foremost line—the most-needed service today for all lines of business. District sales convention to be held next week at which thorough instructions in our line will be given. If you are the man who is not satisfied with his present earnings and would like to connect with a concern where your earnings will be commensurate with your efforts, call between 9 and 11 or 2 and 4 Thursday and Friday, 794 Arcade Bldg. (c5)

DOMINANT SALESMEN WITH FORCEFUL SINCERITY

Active, dominant salesmen, from 28 to 40 years of age, who are able to demand attention and respect from chief executives, will find an opportunity to enter a highly profitable sales work under exclusive territory contract.

Orders average around $100. Average commission $25.00. Our salesmen are closing three to six orders daily. Weekly settlements.

They have come to us as specialty salesmen with book, service, office device, advertising or stock selling experience.

We put each accepted man into immediate earning capacity.

Men of grit, ambition, purpose and sincerity will telephone or write Mr. Glascock, Hotel Statler. Strict confidence observed.

HIGH-PRICED INDUSTRIALS, RAILS LEAD

Carriers Show Greatest Strength as Group With Severeal Reaching Top Prices for Years—Selling of Oils Early.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Frequent shifts of speculative sentiment characterized today's stock market, with a rather persistent demand for a selected list of industrials and rails in which special developments are believed to be pending. Considerable irregularity developed in the early trading, due to the spottiness of general business conditions, but sentiment improved later in the day when General Motors, Dupont, General Electric, Frisco common, Delaware & Hudson and other recent favorites were bid up to record high levels.

* * *

Closing Is Firm.

The closing was firm; standard rails and especially the coalers were heavily bought in the last hour of trading. Baltimore & Ohio touched 119, the highest in more than 12 years. Atchison exceeded its previous record figure when it reached 185. General Motors made a new maximum at 196¼, but dropped back below 194 on realizing. Total sales approximated 2,200,000 shares.

Banks called about $25,000,000 in loans, but this was believed to reflect only the usual heavy week-end demands for currency. Bankers generally predict a sustained period of easy money rates, but opinion in conservative circles inclines to the theory that no early reduction in the New York Federal Reserve Bank rediscount rate is likely.

Steel and oil shares bore the brunt of the early selling pressure, but scattered selling also took place in the Motors and a number of specialties. Commercial Solvents B broke from an early-high of 345 to 335½ and then rebounded about 5 points.

Southwestern rails were again in brisk demand. Outstanding individual strength was shown by "Katy" common, Frisco common, Gulf, Mobile & Northern, Delaware & Hudson and Erie second preferred.

* * *

Tendency to Take Profits.

Despite the aggressive bullish demonstrations in a few specialties, a tendency to take profits or put out short lines on all bulges was apparent in the general list, probably on the theory that the market was entitled to at least a technical reaction after the recent prolonged advance. Commission house advices were largely noncommittal on the future trend, but most of them urged extreme caution in the making of new committments.

Confused price movements again characterized the opening of the market. Failure of the directors of the New York Federal Reserve Bank to follow the lead of the Bank of England in reducing the rediscount rate did not dampen bullish enthusiasm. International Nickel opened 2 points higher and General Motors, National Lead and Gulf States Steel showed initial gains of a point or two. Electric Refrigeration opened a point lower in reflection of the omission of the dividend.

* * *

Prices are Erratic.

Erratic price fluctuations took place throughout the early trading. Renewed selling of the oils was inspired by the unfavorable trade position, Marland sinking to a new low for the year and Phillips quickly yielding a point. Independent steels also were sold on reports of curtailment in steel operations, Colorado Fuel and Crucible being the hardest hit. Several of the low priced motors also were in supply revival of pool activity in International Nickel, based on the reported discovery of a rich copper ore body, sent that stock up several points to the highest price in 10 years. Tobaccos, Railroad Equipments and Public Utilities also presented several points of strength, Reynolds Tobacco B reaching new high grond. Rails were quiet in the early trading although "Katy" common was bid up to a new peak.

* * *

Recovery in Yen.

A sharp recovery of about a cent in Japanase yen on the announcement of a three weeks' moratorium in that country featured the foreign exchange market. Demand sterling ruled around $4.85⅛ and French francs just above 3.91 cents.

* * *

Loree Shares Rise.

Round amounts of stock came out on a declining market, one block of 11,000 shares of Dodge Motors being sold at 18, after which it went to 17⅝, a new low. With the oils, rubbers, steels, motion pictures and sugars dropping, buying was suspended elsewhere until near midday, when a sudden upturn in shares controlled by the Loree interests caused a sharp rebound. Delaware & Hudson sold at 201¼, Missouri-Kansas-Texas at 50, and Kansas City Southern at 62⅝. The rate for standing call loans was maintained at 4 per cent.

Steel Market.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Steel prices unchanged.

RAILROAD BONDS ARE PROMINENT IN TRADE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Continued selling in Japanese securities at the start of the bond market today carried most of them below Thursday's level. Before noon there were recoveries in the Government, municipal and public utility bonds of this group, with a better character of buying but later the utiliteis were reactionary again. Issues carrying the highest bond rating given were thought to be attractive at yields between 6¼ and 7 per cent with some of the public utilities returning considerably over 7½ per cent at today's low level.

The choice interest in the market was in the adjustment and income bonds of Southwestern and Southern roads and in the mortgages of roads in the Middle West identified with merger rumors.

Of these, the most striking advances were in Missouri-Kansas-Texas adjustments at new high prices, International-Great Northern income 6s, Frisco income 6s and Chicago & Eastern Illinois general 5s and Chicago-Great Western first 4s.

Denver & Rio Grande Western 5s reached a new top. Seaboard Airline adjustments were very strong, 2½ points above the recent low. There is again gossip to the effect that some of the cumulative interest on these bonds may be paid this year. Whether or not it is paid, will depend considerably on the company's showing of earnings in the next three months. So far this year, earnings have been better than those of other Southern roads, though well below the net of the first quarter of 1926.

Hudson & Manhattan incomes were over six points above the low of the year. Brooklyn Manhattan Transit 6s were strong in anticipation of the new issue soon to be offered. Chicago Railway 5s gained fractionally.

The weakness in Dodge Brothers stocks affected the debenture 6s. On the other hand oil company bonds stood up well against the fresh selling of oil producers.

New Securities

NEW YORK, April 22.—Bucharest, Rumania, has concluded a $10,000,000 loan through Ulen & Co., the proceeds of which will be used for housing purposes, according to private cables from that city yesterday. The local office of Ulen & Co. was without definite information on the loan.

The award of a $80,000,000 loan by Poland to a syndicate headed by the Bankers Trust Co., Blair & Co. Inc., and the Chase Securities Corporation was without confirmation yesterday. Although the bankers said they had received no official information about the loan, Wall street heard there was a disagreement over the use of the proceeds.

Pittsburg, through a syndicate consisting of Graham, Parsons & Co., Roosevelt & Sons, Old Colony Corporation, Estabrook & Co., Kountze Bros., Edward B. Smith & Co., E. H. Rollins & Sons, Biddle & Henry, the Detroit Co., Inc., and Stone & Webster and Blodget, Inc., offers $13,938,000 of 4¼ bonds. The issue, due serially March 1, 1928 to 1957, inclusive, is priced to yield from 3.75 to 3.87½ per cent. Proceeds will be used for various purposes.

Continental Terminals, Inc., which plans to consolidate terminal properties in Albany, Cleveland & Detroit, will offer next week through Taylor, Ewart & Co., Inc., Pogue, Willard & Co., and J. A. Ritchie Co., Inc., $3,000,000 of 20-year 6½ per cent debentures.

A. Fink & Sons, through the Guardian Securities Co., Newark, N. J., offers $1,000,000 of 15-year first mortgage 6½ per cent bonds at 99¼ and accrued interest to yield 6.58 per cent.

Milwaukee Metropolitan Sewerage District awarded its $1,270,000 of 4¼ per cent bonds maturing 1938 to 1947 to a syndicate headed by Marshall Field, Glore, Ward & Co., and W. H. Harriman, who bid 101.723.

Asheville, N. C., through the First National Bank, Redmond & Co., Stone & Webster and Blodgett, Inc., Rogers, Caldwell & Co., Inc., and B. J. Van Ingen & Co., offers $2,000,000 of 4½ per cent bonds. They are due serially April 1, 1932 to 1962, and are priced to yield 4.25 per cent.

Halsey Stuart & Co. today offering an issue of $2,000,000 Boyle Boyce Co. first mortgage 6 per cent bonds, series A, due April 1, 1947, at 99, to yield about 6.10 per cent.

A new issue of $2,000,000 City of Providence, R. I., coupon or registered 4 per cent bonds, maturing May 2, 1957 and priced at 103, is being marketed by Roosevelt & Son and George B. Gibbons & Co. and R. M. Schmidt & Co.

American Brake Shoe Plan Approved.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Stockholders of American Brake, Shoe and Foundry Co. today approved an increase of 600,000 shares in authorized common stock to permit a stock split-up of the 156,923 shares outstanding on the basis of four for one. It is proposed to pay dividends on the increased common at the annual rate of $1.60 a share.

Directors also plan to pay a 2 per cent dividend in common stock on June 30, further increasing the outstanding common issue to more than 640,000 shares.

Approval also was given to an increase from $110 to $125 in the price at which the 95,385 shares of preferred stock may be redeemed.

Great Western Sugar Earnings Smaller

DENVER, Colo., April 22.—A net income of $3,365,713.27 for the Great Western Sugar Co. and its subsidiaries is shown in the annual report for the fiscal year ending Feb. 28, 1927.

This represents a net earning of $1.08 a share of common stock after payment of preferred dividends, as compared with $4.18 a share, applicable on common stock the previous year.

Eearnings in 1926 fell short of dividend requirements for the first time since 19.., largely as a result of depressed conditions in the sugar market.

Gross assets of $84,898,923.32 are listed in the consolidated balance sheet, the highest in the company's history.

AIR REDUCTION INTERESTS GET ALCOHOL CO. CONTROL

NEW YORK, April 22.—Control of the U. S. Industrial Alcohol Co. was obtained here by interests identified with the Air Reduction Co., who succeeded in electing seven of the 13 directors at the annual stockholders' meeting. No change in management is contemplated.

The six new directors elected were C. S. Adams, president of the Air Reduction; F. D. Adams, S. T. Bedford, Guy Cart, S. F. Pryor and G. H. Walker, all of whom are reported to have been sponsored by Percy A. Rockefeller, a large stockholder in both the Air Reduction Co., of which he is also a director, and the Alcohol company. H. R. Arthur was re-elected a director.

The following directors were re-elected: Jules F. Bache, George F. Brewster, R. R. Brown, J. Horace Harding, Adrian H. Larkin and P. J. McIntosh.

The new board of directors will meet April 26, at which time it is expected that one of the Rockefeller representatives will be elected chairman. R. R. Brown will continue and there will be no other change in the other officers.

National Cash Register Election.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Frederick B. Patterson, president of the National Cash Register Co., and other officers were re-elected today. Reports to the directors indicated that the company showed an increase of 12 per cent in earnings for the first quarter this year compared with a year ago.

UNION TRUST ELECTS SCULLIN

Chosen to Succeed Late E. W. Groves as Director.

Harry Scullin, president of the Scullin Steel Co., was elected a director of the St. Louis Union Trust Co. to succeed the late E. W. Groves, president of the Paris Medicine Co.

Scullin is also president of the Associated Industries of Missouri, member of the St. Louis Bond Supervisory Committee and former chairman of the board of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association.

Textile Market.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The sharp rise in cotton stiffened both prices, but buying of goods has not yet been stimulated. New print and gingham lines for fall are expected to be opened next week and no price reductions are considered probable. Yarns yesterday were firmer. Burlaps have eased off considerably in Calcutta markets this week. Silks were selling steadily in printed lines. Large purchases of second-hand burlap bags made for immediate shipment to the Mississippi sections to be used for sand bags to stem the break in levees have cleaned up stocks here and elsewhere. Several million bags have been secured. Wool goods dealers have begun to abandon the practice of formal openings of full lines at the beginning of seasons, with a view to meeting small lot wholesale and retail operations by showing new styles as the selling season goes on.

††Hard. *Red.

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, April 22.—Wheat sold lower today on absence of overnight freeze in winter belt and clearing situation reported in Northwest. Corn was unchanged to lower.

Very few complaints of damage from freezing temperatures were at hand.

Export business from North America was estimated at 1,230,000 bushels of wheat.

In the local cash grain market wheat was dull. Soft wheat was salable in a limited way at steady prices. Hard was ¼c lower. Cash grain was steady. Demand was good. Oats were steady. Demand was good.

Opening fractionally lower; wheat ruled so in the early period. Improvement in weather situation was a factor in price movement. Winnipeg early was down ⅝c to ½c. Liverpool came ⅛ to ⅝d higher. Corn here also was down fractionally in early trade.

Hard May wheat opened at $1.34⅜; hard July $1.30⅝; red May wheat, $1.28½; May corn 76¼c; July corn 79⅞c and Sept. corn 83½c.

Local wheat receipts, which were 75,600 bushels, compared with 74,200 last year, included 22 cars local and 32 through. Corn receipts which were 28,000 bushels, compared with 121,800 last year, included 20 cars local. Oats receipts, which were 46,000 bushels, compared with 128,000 last year, included 17 cars local and 6 through. Hay receipts were 7 cars local and 3 through.

Clearances were 149,000 bushels of wheat, 120,000 bushels of rye, 11,000 barrels of flour and 199,000 bushels of wheat and flour.

The three Northwestern markets combined had 522 cars of wheat, compared with 367 a week ago and 421 a year ago, Minneapolis receiving 97 cars, Duluth 117 and Winnipeg 308.

EASY TONE TO WHEAT ON CHICAGO MARKET

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Rising temperatures and generally fair weather over the entire grain belt, caused the wheat market today to have an easy tone. Aside from a little short covering in the May delivery buying power was light except on the breaks some demand against indemnities developed.

Wheat showed little rallying power in late trade and closed ⅝c to ¾c lower. May $1.33⅞ to $1.34; July, $1.40½ to $1.40⅝; September, $1.29¼ to $1.29⅜. Corn closed ½c to ⅝c lower. May, 71¼c to 71⅜c; July, 77c; September, 80⅝c to 81c. Oats closed ¼c to ⅜c lower. May, 44⅝c; July, 45⅜c; September, 44⅝c. Grease closed 7c lower; ribs 12½c lower; bellies, 25c to 32½c lower. Local cash sales were 18,000 bushels of wheat, 100,000 of corn, 43,000 of oats, 7000 of barley. The seaboard reported 300,000 bushels of wheat and 200,000 of rye taken for export.

Temperatures were above freezing over the Southwest so that frost damage fears were quieted. This together with clearing weather over the Northwest caused longs to try to get out of their holdings while they still had a profit.

Trade sentiment is somewhat pessimistic over the May delivery. Belief prevails that there will be plenty of red wheat delivered for which buyers have little desire. The feeling was that July and September will sell equal to or at a premium over May.

The seaboard reported little activity in domestic wheat but advices from Winnipeg suggest fairly good sales of Manitobas. Argentine shipments were heavier at 4,961,000 bushels and Australia shipped 2,464,000 bushels. Canadian millers report a better flour demand for export from Europe and South America and also some increase in domestic flour sales. Minneapolis stocks decreased 375,000 bushels for the week.

Corn weakened with wheat on scattered liquidation by May longs. Local buying developed on the dip. Shipping sales were light. A sharply higher Buenos Aires market, up 1c to 1¼c, had no effect however.

Oats met scattered selling because of clearing weather. Longs gave support on the dip.

Provisions were irregular.

Chicago Grain Carlots.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Carlot receipts: Wheat, 15; corn, 34; oats, 41; rye, 1; barley, 6.

Ice Companies Consolidate.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Consolidation of the four principal independent ice companies of Chicago into a new company having assets of more than $6,000,000, was announced here. The new company, to be known as Lincoln-Boyle Ice Co., will acquire Lincoln Ice Co., Boyle Ice Co., Irving Park Ice Co. and Ravenswood Ice Co.

To finance the merger, $2,000,000 first mortgage 6 per cent bonds will be offered at 99 and interest.

Hosiery Manufacturing Merger Plan.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Plans for a merger of several hosiery manufacturing companies in Pennsylvania and New Jersey under the title of Cadet-Lehigh Hosiery Corporation with an annual capacity of about 900,000 dozen pairs of hose, became known today.

The new company, to be incorporated in Delaware, will combine the Cadet Knitting Co., and the Lehigh Silk Hosiery Mills, Inc., both of Philadelphia; Lansdale Silk Hosiery Co., Lansdale, Pa., Kramer Hosiery Co., Nazareth, Pa.; Cambria Silk Hosiery Co., Philadelphia, and Blackwood Silk Hosiery Co., Blackwood, N. J.

Lackawanna Securities Corporation Plan Explained.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Officials of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western explained to Interstate Commerce Commission examiners today plans for the organization of the Lackawanna Securities Corporation which will take over the railroad's anthracite securities. No opposition to the plan appeared, and the commission's decision will be announced later.

The railroad by court order many years ago was required to divest itself of its coal mine operations and as a result the Glenn Alden Coal Co. was organized, and the railroad received $58,500,000 in the Coal Company's bonds. The project now contemplated is to turn the Glen Alden bonds plus other securities which the road holds into the Lacakawanna Securities Corporation which will have a total bond holding of a par value of $92,000,000. The Security Company's stock will then be distributed among the railroad's stockholders in proportion to their holdings, and the railroad corporation will be left exclusively with its railroad properties and its cash balances.

New York Reserve Bank.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The statement of the condition of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York at the close of business April 20 shows: Total gold reserves, $1,077,499,000. Government securities, $67,987,000. Total bills and securities, $210,841,000. Uncollected items, $182,207,000. Federal Reserve notes in actual circulation, $415,398,000. Due to members' reserve account $851,378,000. Total deposits $866,951,000. Ratio of total reserves to deposit and F. R. notes liabilities combined, 86.8 per cent.

Dividend Omitted.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Directors of the International Agricultural Corporation today omitted the quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the prior preference shares due at this time.

Wall Street News and Comment

—SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Standing out from the others in its group, General Motors pushed ahead into new high ground during the second part of the session on the Stock Exchange today.

The market leader had opened unchanged and fluctuated nervously all the morning but just after noon the buying got the upper hand and the price forged upward again. This had a stimulating effect on the rest of the market although the oils were still weak and most of the independent motor shares lower.

Aside from General Motors, the railroad stocks were the chief strong features.

Strength in the rails centered about the Loree stocks. Delaware & Hudson was bought as it touched a new high when it sold above 200. Today's price for the stock had not been equaled since 1900. Missouri, Kansas & Texas was in demand, selling at the highest since reorganization. Kansas City Southern went along. The only explanation of this revival of interest was the prospect for accomplishment of the merger in the Southwest. Other railroad stocks in favor included Lackawanna, and for a time New York Central, Pennsylvania and Rock Island. Missouri Pacific reacted at the start but regained a part of the loss later. St. Louis-San Francisco improved along with Rock Island, in which it has so large an interest.

The oils were heavily sold right at the start. Marland broke through 40 for the first time since the pressure against it set in. Phillips and the other active shares in the group lost ground also.

Dodge, both the Class "A" and the preferred, made new lows for the year. Other automobile shares, which were lower at one time or other, included Hupp, Studebaker, White Motors, Chrysler, Mack Trucks and Yellow Truck and Coach. Some of these rallied substantially along with Hudson, which maintained its position better than most of the independents.

Otherwise the industrial list was highly irregular. General Electric was strong, bettering its previous 1927 high. Montgomery Ward did the same when it sold at 70. Lima Locomotive, which had come to life suddenly on Thursday extended its gain. On the other hand Electric Refrigeration broke on the passing of the dividend, Warner Pictures slumped 2 points and there were variations in Kelly Springfield.

When the head of a large bank gives public intimation of his attitude toward the stock market. Wall street takes immediate notice and begins to draw conclusions.

In this morning's papers there appeared an interview with Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank, in which Mr. Mitchell supported the action of the directors of the Federal Reserve Bank in keeping their rediscount rate at 4 per cent. It had been expected that they might be moved to reduce this rate because of Thursday's cut in the rate of Bank of England to 4½ per cent.

In his interview Mr. Mitchell very plainly stated that he did not feel that a change in the rediscount rate in New York was "either necessary or desirable." Then he told why he thought the present rate should stand. With the reduction in the English rate, and that with brokers' loans much higher than a year ago and prices of stocks very high, any indication on the part of the controlling bank that money could be obtained at anything lower than the present rate would be construed as permission for speculative excess.

The characteristic of the market for the past few weeks has been its unwillingness to recognize any adverse factors in the domestic or international situation. Mr. Mitchell referred to this very pointedly, saying that the market "has been ignoring everything but fluctuations in the money rates and to these it has been giving undue importance." This, however, suggests what has been obvious for some time, that the leaders of the bull campaign based their confidence on a continuing rise in prices on cheap money.

Evidently the Federal Reserve Bank will eventually be compelled to act in accordance with the law of supply and demand in the money market and reduce the discount rate, but the action may be further away than Wall street had assumed when it received the news that the Governors of the Bank of England had lowered the rate of their institution. It was apparent in the day's stock market that the attitude of bankers towards speculation was checking the operation of various pools and making the speculative public more cautious.

The very unfavorable situations which have been given scant attention this week by those working for a rise in price of stocks are the banking troubles in Japan and the disaster in the Lower Mississippi Valley. The first has caused a large amount of selling in Japanese dollar bonds. Aside from this, no attention has been given to the news from Tokio.

Stocks of railway in the stricken Mississippi Valley district have risen to new high record prices as the proportions of the flood have grown to that of a national disaster. Today the cotton market was more conservative in its estimate of losses from the flood.

Japanese currency recovered about half of Thursday's loss. A new high price for a five-year period was made on Italian lire, which sold at about 5¼c. The figures of Italian Government receipts and expenditures for March indicated a large budget surplus and a general improvement in Italian finances.

SNYDER JUDGE TO SIT ALL NIGHT FOR JURY

Justice Warns Lawyers Court Won't Adjourn Until Panel Is Completed.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Justice Scudder intends to hold court all night tonight if necessary to obtain a jury to try Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray for the murder of Albert Snyder, the woman's husband. He adjourned court at 6:20 o'clock last night because all the available talesmen had been exhausted.

"There will be more talesmen tomorrow," he said, "and a jury will be obtained if court has to sit through until the next day."

The jury was three-fourths completed today when the eighth and ninth jurors were selected shortly after noon. Juror No. 8 is Lewis Ruchdaschal, father of two children, and a widower, living at College Point. Juror No. 9 is Everett Van Riken, 48 years old, secretary of a manufacturing concern.

The number of talesmen examined since the trial opened Monday is 280.

Five were excused within the first few minutes of today's session because they had scruples against the death penalty and three others because they had firm convictions as to the innocence or guilt of the defendants.

Another was rejected because he knew Dana Wallace of counsel for Mrs. Snyder.

Insurance Man Who Wrote Snyder Policies Out of Job.

The man who wrote the $102,000 insurance policies on the life of Albert Snyder is out of a job.

L. C. Ashfield, assistant superintendent of the Jamaica branch of the Prudential Life Insurance Co., was dropped from the roll of the concern after he had made a statement of the circumstances under which Snyder was insured to District Attorney Newcome and officials of the company in Newark. He will be called upon to testify for the prosecution next week in the trial of Mrs. Snyder and Gray

Beyond admitting he was no longer with the insurance company and saying he had "made a clean breast of the facts" to the prosecutor, Ashfield declined to comment on the case.

His mother, Mrs. C. V. Ashfield, of Hollis, said: "My son's difficulties with the Prudential arose from the fact that he failed to deliver Albert Snyder's policy to him after Mr. Snyder was insured."

Harry Hyde, superintendent of the Jamaica branch of the company, said: "It is a fact that Mr. Ashfield is no longer with us. All I can say is that he was called into the home office a few days ago, questioned concerning the Snyder insurance, and of what transpired I have not been informed."

On March 23 Ashfield told a reporter that Snyder had "reluctantly signed an application for a $50,000 double indemnity policy," although he had insisted he wanted only a $1000 double indemnity endowment policy. Ashfield was said to have admitted arrangements for the insurance were made by Mrs. Snyder, who asked the agent to call on her husband and "sign him up." He also said the wife had paid every premium on the insurance until the week preceding the murder, when a personal check signed by the husband was mailed to the insurance company.

COTTON PRICES LOWER ON NEW YORK MARKET

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The cotton market lost part of yesterday's advance in today's early trading. The opening was barely steady at a decline of 7 to 10 points under realizing by recent buyers and selling which seemed to be inspired by prospects for better weather in the South.

Stop orders were uncovered on the decline which extended to 14.92 for July and 15.40 for December, net declines of about 25 to 30 points on the general list. There was further buying on the flood situation on the break, however, and prices were a few points up from the lowest around the end of the first hour.

Relatively easy Liverpool cables probably increased the disposition to take profits on long cotton locally, while houses with Liverpool and continental connections were credited with selling here during early trading.

Offerings tapered off somewhat after the execution of stop orders on the early break but bulges of 8 or 9 points met renewed selling, the market breaking to 14.89c for July and 15.36c for December or about 30 to 32 points net lower. There was some buying on reports of another break in a levee along the Arkansas River and an idea that the early selling had improved the technical position of the market, but prices were only 4 or 5 points up from the lowest at midday.

Trade in Japanese Silk at Standstill.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—For the first time since the great earthquake in Japan trading today in the Japanese division of the local raw silk market was at a complete standstill. Considerable nervousness exists in importing circles due to the financial situation in Japan and prices on Japanese grades have been withdrawn, temporarily, pending the receipt of more definite information from Yokohama. Authorities in the trade believe that the situation will have improved sufficiently to warrant the resumption of trading on Monday. Small spot sales of Canton silks and Shanghai steams weer imported at slightly higher levels.

CURB MARKET IS IRREGULAR BUT TRADE IS LARGE

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 22.—Trading on the Curb today was again in large volume with business in many stocks progressing at a rapid pace. Although movements were irregular, liquidation disturbing many issues, a number of stocks again moved up to new high records. Public utilities continued to hold the most prominent position in the market, American Light & Traction being the feature in that group advancing to the new high record of 262. Electric investors reached new high grounds on an advance to 39¾ and United Gas improvement also recorded a new top by opening at 101¾, but this was followed by a reaction. Both classes of American superpower stocks entered maximum levels and Electric Bond & Share was in large demand moving up about a point.

Leading petroleum stocks were heavy, moving in line with the oil issues on the stock exchange. Standard Oil of Indiana dropped a point, selling below 66, and Vacuum Oil also showed a loss of over a point. Pandem, one of the miscellaneous oil issues, gained over 2 points to above 9.

There were mixed movements in the industrials. Motor stocks were heavy, Auburn yielding about 3 points and Stutz Motor declining over a point. Glen Alden Coal was traded on an unusually large scale and advanced 1½ to 173. Goodyear also was heavily traded and advanced nearly 2 points. Remington Noiseless Typewriter gained 3 points to 45 and Massey Harris new stock moved up over a point, establishing a high record at 37. There was initial trading in the Delaware Railway Co., $25 par value stock at 42¼.

Weekly Wool Review.

BOSTON, April 22.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"The wool market at the eastern seaboard still moves in a very narrow channel. Prices have not changed materially for the week, although the tendency has been in favor of the buyer still. The few purchases in the West indicate little change there, shearing being still delayed in a number of sections.

"As for the goods market, developments are slow, though rather encouraging in certain respects. Combers and spinners, however, report a narrow, easy market.

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The raw sugar market was unchanged early today, but the undertone was unsettled by the action of the futures market. Nearby Cubas were available at last paid prices of $4.90 duty paid, but buyers were interested only in shipment sugars, with a sale reported at 21,000 bags of Philippines for mid June arrival at $4.93.

A sharp break in the London market, which was due to the unsettled far Eastern situation and to hedge selling by Java and Czecho-Slovakia, led to active general liquidation in the raw sugar futures market here prices at one time showing declines of 4 to 8 points. Houses with both heavy sellers, but there was a good deal Cuban and European connections were of covering and renewed outside buying on the decline and partial rallies followed with prices at midday 4 to 5 points net lower.

No further changes were reported in refined sugar, but demand was less active. Fine granulated is quoted from $6 to $6.20.

Rivers' Stages at Other Cities.

Pittsburg, 12.5 feet, a rise of .3; Cincinnati, 25.5 feet, a fall of .5; Louisville, 12 feet, a fall of .5; Cairo 55.8 feet, a fall of .4; Memphis, 45.6 feet, a rise of .3; Vicksburg, 55.4 feet, a rise of .5; New Orleans, 20.5 feet, no change.

Financial and Industrial Briefs

NEW YORK, April 22.—Production and new business in the soft wood lumber industry last week were at about the same level as the week before, with a nominal reduction in shipments, the National Lumber Manufacturers Association reports. New business was about the same compared with a year ago, with considerable decreases in production and shipments. Hard wood operations show a notable decrease in production and shipments, with new business about the same, as the previous week. Unfilled orders of 186 Southern Pine and West oast mills were 553,135,334 feet, against 534,449,164 the week before.

* * *

First quarter earnings of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis, (Nickel Plate) were less profitable than the first quarter last year, net income of $1,453,366 being a decrease of $1,178,204. Earnings were equal to $3.17 a share on the common against $7.39 a year ago. March net income was $472,560 less than in March, 1926.

THE WOMAN OF IT

—By—

Marguerite Mooers Marshall.

YOUTH

The love of Spring is a phantom thing
That cannot for long remain;
A pathway sought, that the gods have wrought
To a castle built in Spain;
A house of sand on a golden strand,
And a bubble blown in vain,
A futile race and a rainbow chase
For a dream we can't attain.

When lass and lad, in a dance that's mad
On the brink of the world's abyss,
Have found the gold of a story old
And believe it all of bliss,
Whisp'ring heart to heart, "We will never part,"
They will vow in a fleeting kiss
That no moon or sun since the earth begun
Has shone on a love like this!

But the love of Spring, though a wondrous thing
And all of our heart's desire,
Is a fading name in the dying flame
Of the Summer's funeral pyre;
A dream of youth and forgotten truth
In the slough of the Autumn's mire,
And a story told, that is sad and cold
By the light of the Winter's fire.

BEN WARREN.

SLEEPING PARTNERS IN THE HOME.

VASSAR College's Institute of Euthenics—the word means the science of efficient living—will admit husbands and fathers, as well as wives and mothers, to its summer courses in the management of family life. The idea seems wholly admirable. For marriage and parenthood can never be at their best unless they represent a working partnership on both sides. There is no room in the home for a sleeping partner.

American husbands and fathers are splendidly generous with their money. They are, for the most part, kindly persons; the strangest figure in English novels, to many of us, is that surly tyrant, the English paterfamilias. But the trouble with the American specimen of the genus is that he often takes too little thought and responsibility. He leaves it to his wife to make a success of marriage and children.

OH, yes, he has his work, he has to support his family! But any sensitive, affectionate woman would rather, if necessary, that he work less hard and earn a smaller salary—provided he would give her more time and attention. She is not happy unless he takes her definitely into his life, confides in her, makes plans with her, shows an interest in her thoughts, feelings and looks. What Vassar is going to teach husbands this summer we don't know, but we hope they will learn, among other matters, how to make of marriage the passionate friendship which alone brings happiness to the modern wife.

In parenthood, too, father must be a working partner. Watching the American father whom we know best, we have never been able to decide which is more beautiful—his understanding comradeship with his sons, or his gently teasing devotion to his daughter. Wisdom, firmness, friendliness, humor—all of these are included in the right sort of father's contribution to family life. He doesn't content himself with bringing home candy and with telling the children to "ask your mother." The men's colleges ought to teach men how to be good fathers, but, since they don't more power to Vassar!

WE COULD GET ALONG WITHOUT—

The office steno who told us to "use our eyes" when we asked her for some papers she had typed for us—and that on the very day we had hinted to the boss that she deserved a raise.

The female third assistant registrar at one of our city institutions of higher education, who refused to cut through a mile of red tape so that we might be admitted to the gym class in time to play with the varsity basketball squad.

The instructor who, at 9:30 p. m. (the class ends officially at 9:20) says, "and now let us consider Justice Holmes' somewhat lengthy opinion on this problem."

The office manager who tells us that we must work late on Saturday evening—thus making us cancel a date for our fraternity formal—and who, at 5:30 on that same evening, says, "Let's call it a day." (Five-thirty is no hour to re-invite her.) ITHACA '26.

Give This Little Girl a Powder Puff.

Federal courts have cleared Texas Guinan of contempt, but we wonder what other word could describe Tex's emotion if she read the American's description of her as a star witness "with her recently lifted face shining briskly."

Concerning the prisoner's song of Mrs. Albert Snyder—the lyric ending, "Oh, I loved my family so! Now all I do is pine"—S. W. D. suggests that the last word may be a typographical error and that for "pine" we should read "whine."

HERE'S A DANDY NOVEL FER A MOTOR CYCLE TRIP HAVE YOU ANY KIDDIES FROM TWELVE YEARS UP?
75¢

Gittin' th' dope on a prospective customer.

WE RUN int' lots o' service these times no matter what we're doin', where we're goin,' or what we're buyin'. Take th' modern bookstore fer instance. Look at th' service we git. We don't even have t' know what we want. Obligin' clerks prescribe books fer us jest like a doctor feels us out an' prescribes fer us. Ther's literature fer th' home, fer vacations, an' literature t' read on th' train, or in jail, or in a hospital. "Here's a rippin' good novel fer th' davenport, or hammock, or canoe. It's a drowsy story fer tired nerves," a snappy girl clerk 'll say. "An' here's a stupendously absorbin' novel t' read in a wheel chair, or on your back. It takes th' mind off a cancer or broken leg. It's made o' light stock so it won't wake you up if you drop it. If you're goin' t' th' mountains, this would make ideal readin.' It's immensely clever, but hardly suited t' this latitude. Here is a peachy tale fer th' east coast o' Floridy, but you've got t' stand over a register t' appreciate it, an' here's a novel we're sellin' gobs of t' folks who-'er jest comin' out o' th' ether. It jest fits th' long, languid days followin' a operation. We have some wonderful spring novels comin'. They'll be ready when th' season opens at Turtle Lake."

These are winter novels t' read in th' south." A tall, willowy lady, bearin' ever' mark o' refinement, dropped in our bookstore t'day, an' said, "Maud, I'm goin' t' Orlando, Floridy, instead o' Herrin, Illinoy," an' then she exchanged "Th' James Boys" fer "Lucile." Jest then a big bespectacled woman swept in th' store an' said, "I jest must have somethin' t' read, Maud," an' Maud said, "Are you goin' away or stayin' home?" "Oh, I'm tied down," replied th' woman. "Are you fond o' history?" asked Maud. "Oh, I reckon," replied th' woman. "Any children around th' home over twelve?" asked Maud. "No, ther hain't none o' no age," said th' woman, an' Maud showed her "Th' Private Life o' Helen o' Troy." "I'll take it. I have a half brother in a collar factory in th' same town," said the woman. "We have one customer who sent her daughter t' a finishin' school, an' her son t' a veterinary college, jest so she could git caught up on th' best sellers," said Maud. Jest then a neat appearin' feller dropped in an' wanted somethin' t' read. "Are you employed or unattached?" asked Maud. "I work in a bank," said th' feller. "Oh, I'm so sorry," said Maud, "fer I wuz goin' t' show you a novel you jest couldn't lay down. Look through this pile o' fiction fer desk workers." An' then in come a big blusterin' feller. "Quick, Maud, I'm leavin' fer Washin'ton in twenty minutes an' I must have somethin' t' read on the train," said he. "What road are you goin' over?" asked Maud. "Th' C. & O.," said th' feller. Then Maude hesitated fer th' fraction of a second, an' sold him a set o' Macauley. I expect we'll see the day when best sellers 'll have embossed type so poison liquor victims kin read 'em.

Milton Work's Bridge Pointers

THE pointer for today is:

With Queen-x in Dummy and Ace-Ten-x in Closed Hand, play small from Dummy.

The idea of playing Queen from Queen-x in Dummy on a small card led against No Trump, is so firmly planted in the minds of many, that they fail to appreciate that in some cases—and notably in the one covered by the above pointer—it is inadvisable to do so. When the Closed Hand has Ace-Ten-x, the play of the small card from Dummy ensures the making of two tricks in the suit; with the Queen played, only one trick may be made. If the Queen be played and it be covered by the King, the Closed Hand probably will take with the Ace, and have left the guarded Ten. That Ten will take a trick if the next lead of that suit be made from the adverse hand on the left; but if it be made from the adverse hand on the right, the Ten probably will be captured. By playing small, two tricks must be made regardless of the location of the adverse King and Jack. If both be in the hand of the leader, the Ten will take the first trick and the Ace a subsequent trick. If both be in the Third Hand, the Ace will take the first trick and the Ten the third trick. If the lead be from the King, the Third Hand having the Jack, the Ace will take the first trick, and the Ten the third trick; and if the lead be from the Jack, the Third Hand having the King (as in the hand given yesterday), two tricks are assured for Declarer.

Yesterday's illustrative hand was as follows:

With the Five of Spades led, Dummy should play the Four, East the King, and South could win with the Ace, or duck and take the second and third tricks in the suit. The duck would be better because, if the first trick be won, command of the suit must be given up on the second lead. Playing a No-Trump, it is generally wise to keep a winning card of the adverse suit until the partner of the leader has no more of it.

The balance of the play tomorrow.

The Diary of a New Father

Thursday Night.

I WAS feeling awfully cheerful today on account of Joan liking my new suit even if I did pick it out myself, and I thought I would buy her a present, because when your wife says something you do is all right you should encourage her, so I thought and thought, but I could not think up anything special, and finally I decided to get her just a box of candy.

While I was at it I thought I ought to be getting the baby a present too, but when you want to buy a little tiny baby a present you cannot just get a box of candy and say there, thank God, that's settled. I thought of something to wear, and I went into a store and a sign said boys' department, and the first thing I saw were some stockings on a counter and a sign said boys' sports hose, and there were some pretty plaid ones, with the tops rolled down.

I told the clerk I wanted a pair and she said, "What size?" and I said, "I don't know," and I looked them over and they all seemed a little large, and I said, "What is the smallest size you have?" and she said, "These are the smallest," and she held a pair up, and I thought, well, if I cannot get them any smaller they will have to do, and so I bought them.

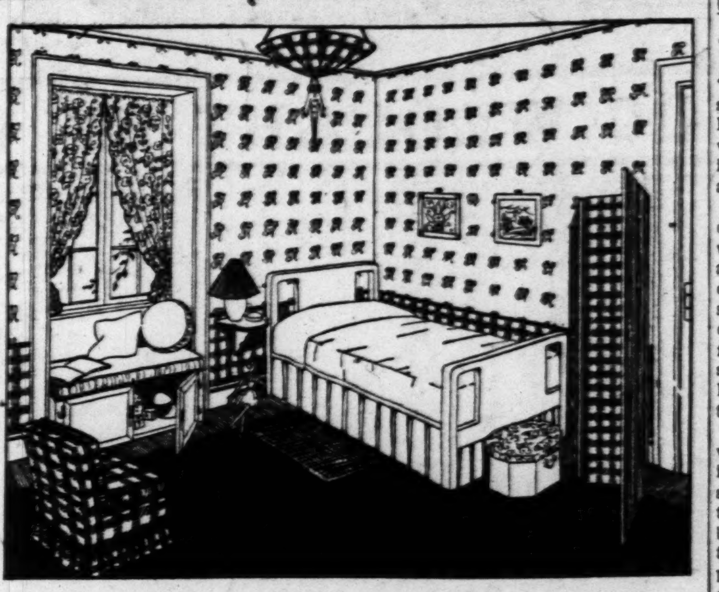
When I came home Joan was getting dinner and the baby was playing in bed, and after I had gone out to the kitchen to kiss Joan I went into the bedroom and I thought I would surprise her. So I took the stockings out of my pocket and I put the baby on my knee and I pulled them on him, and they seemed a little large, and then I noticed the rolled tops and I rolled them down some more, and they were a pretty good fit then except that they were a little long in the feet, but you should wear socks a size too large anyway so the toes will not wear out.

So I started out to the kitchen with the baby, but his dress covered up the socks and I had to tuck it in around his waist, and then we went out so Joan could see him.

I said, "Look what we've got on, mama," and Joan looked and she said, "Well, for heaven's sakes. Where did those things come from?" I said, "I bought them," and Joan said, "Did you really spend money to have your little joke?" I said, "I got them for him to wear," and Joan said, "When?" and I said, "Right now. I put them on him, didn't I?" and Joan said, "You certainly did. What was the idea of getting them?" and I said, "Just a little present. There is one for you on the table in the other room, too," and she went in and got it, and I guess she liked the candy, all right, but somehow I do not think she liked the baby's stockings, and women nowadays cannot sew worth a darn or she could cut them down to fit him, and, anyway, I think the baby liked them, and he is who I got them far.

A smart evening gown for formal wear is in all-white chiffon and made on straight lines and trimmed with beads and sequins.

Gingham for the Child's Room



CHILDREN adore bright colors. We recognize this when we paint their toys. We give a child a red and white ball. We paint its wagon red or brilliant blue, and we even give it red, blue and pink animals to play with. Yet when it comes to decorating the child's room we think of something pastel and dainty. Then we wonder why we would fairly have to tie the robust youngster to keep it such a room.

A little daring in the color scheme of your child's room will go as far, even farther, than the bizarre colorings in your living room. Try it and see. Here is a color scheme in red and gray that will delight the heart of any child. A notable feature is the dado, that strip of gingham just above the surbase. It has been shellaced or glazed so that it is quite as washable and scrubable as a wainscoting would be, and is an asset to the nursery, as it protects the wall from little feet and little finger marks.

Gingham has been chosen for this room, first because it is the latest rage for interiors, now sweeping the country, and secondly, because of its sunfast, tubfast qualities, it is especially adapted to interiors where cleanliness and crispness is the keynote. The screen, quite a necessity if the child is to be protected from drafts, and the small upholstered chair are of the red and white checked gingham of the lower wall. Red pipings are used on the chair upholstery, and a red painted wood beading edges the wall gingham. The window seat upholstery, which is of gray gingham, is also piped with red.

The bed is painted gray, and has a box pleated ruffle of red gingham. The spread is of white gingham. As the wall paper is light gray with a floral design, window curtains of pale gray flowered material have been chosen. The woodwork is gray, the surbase being piped with a red stripe.

A large black novelty straw hat is trimmed with three pinkish asters in a group and a band of grosgrain ribbon around the crown.

Selecting Your Wall Paper

IT IS quite customary to select wall paper from sample books. Then, even after what she considers a careful selection, the housewife is often disappointed when the paper is on the wall. This is the result of seeing the paper in an entirely different light.

We never view a papered wall at close range, so why select paper with the sample book lying under a strong light at close vision? Recline the book at an elevation or suspend it over the high back of a chair and stand from eight to 10 feet away and see how different the sample looks than it did when you had the book on your lap on the table.

It is more satisfactory to choose wall paper directly from stock, but if you must choose from a book of samples make two or three selections and request that a roll of each be delivered. Hold these against the wall in the room in which the paper is being hung—try it on the different side walls.

One woman who spent 40 minutes in the store trying to make a decision requested that three different rolls be sent to her home. She said: "When the paper was held high against the walls in the room where it was to go I saw at a glance which looked best and I chose my paper in less than five minutes—and it is perfectly satisfactory, too."

Asparagus Soup.

This cream soup can be made of the canned asparagus if the fresh is not available. Open the can, drain, then rinse the asparagus in cold water. Cut off the tips and set aside. Put the stalks on to boil in a quart of white stock with a minced onion, half a bay-leaf, a half cupful of chopped celery tops, pepper, salt, and a half teaspoonful of sugar. Boil gently a half hour, then thicken with a roux of a tablespoonful each of butter and flour. When thickened put through a sieve and add a cupful of light, hot cream and the tips.

Potatoes, Stewed—Southern

TAKE one large tablespoonful of lard and butter and let heat in a frying pan. Then stir in one tablespoonful of flour until smooth, and add one onion cut into small pieces. Cook for one minute or so, or until slightly brown. Then stir in one quart of diced raw potatoes. Season with a teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper and add enough boiling water to cover the potatoes. Cover and boil until water is almost boiled away.

SAYINGS OF MRS. SOLOMON

By HELEN ROWLAND

THE TERRIBLE DERBY HAT.

Alas, my Daughter, consider the curse that hath fallen upon us!

• • •

For lo, it is rumored that the DERBY HAT hath reached our shores, to afflict the eyes of women and torture the brows of men!

• • •

Go to. Hath not romance already suffered far too much? And why shall this last blow be dealt to love?

• • •

For WHAT woman could idealize a man in a derby hat!

• • •

Verily, not all the atrocities of war were greater than this atrocity against beauty, which England inflicteth upon us, in times of peace!

• • •

Behold, the derby hat leaveth rings and marks of suffering upon a man's forehead. It is tighter than a Blue Law and stiffer than the corset of a Stylish Stout!

• • •

Within, it resembleth a baby's coffin! Without, it appeareth like unto a broiled mushroom or an inverted salad-bowl!

• • •

It is without comfort, without grace, without meaning, and without reason!

• • •

It is the most BABBITY-looking thing in all this fair land!

• • •

Lo, in a derby hat, a poet resembleth a ward politician, and a matinee idol looketh like a bookmaker. Yea, all men are as one man, and that one deadlier than a Sunday in South Carolina.

• • •

Alas, how shall a college graduate compress all his brilliant intellect in anything so non-resistent? Where will he keep all his wonderful ideas and snappy lines and scintillating epigrams?

• • •

Where shall he keep his budding vanity? And all his vast and astounding knowledge of "wimmin"? And all his valuable and precious theories concerning "life" and "sex" and "art"?

• • •

For a derby hat leaveth no room for a bulging mentality and an expanding egotism and a growing "self-expression"! It impedeth the flow of the blood and stoppeth the working of the brain!

• • •

It is the symbol of the COMMONPLACE, and a monument to Mid-Victorian Dullness!

• • •

But the SOFT HAT is the emblem of romance! It is typically American!

• • •

It was born of theh winds and theh sun in theh great Southwest! It is redolent of memories of fighters, Rough Riders and Buffalo Bill!

• • •

Then let us go down upon our knees, O Women of America, and implore our men to desist from English foppishness. Yet, let us take arms and fight for the HAT of our Country, as we would for our Country's Honor and its Flag!

Longlegs Explains Some More

Who listens well will knowledge gain
If wiser folk will but explain.

—Peter Rabbit.

LONGLEGS the Heron had just told Peter Rabbit that he, Longlegs, often was shot at, and Peter had wanted to know why. "Don't ask me," replied Longlegs. "Why do these hunters with terrible guns shoot at anyone?"

"They shoot at Mr. and Mrs. Quack because they want them to eat," said Peter. "Do they want you to eat?"

"I don't know," replied Longlegs. "How should I know? It's enough for me that they shoot at me so often. I have an idea it's because I catch a few fish. These two-legged creatures called men seem to think that anything they want belongs to them. I don't know why I haven't just as much right to catch fish as they have. I like trout just as well as they do. But when I catch a few trout, I'm through. I don't catch a whole lot of them the way they do. Yet I never was fishing on a trout stream and was discovered by one of those two-legged creatures that he didn't appear to be angry and do his best to drive me away. Now, I ask you if that is fair."

"No," said Peter most decidedly, "it isn't fair."

Just then there was a splash in the water over near the edge of the Smiling Pool where some bulrushes grew. Peter looked over there. There was Mr. Watersnake and in his mouth was a small trout. Longlegs looked over and saw Mr. Watersnake and took two or three angry steps toward him. Mr. Watersnake just slid off into the water out of sight.

"There!" sputtered Longlegs. "There! You saw that, didn't you?"

"Yes, I saw it," replied Peter. "What of it?"

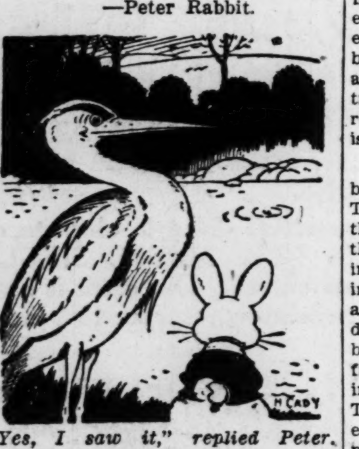
"What of it?" cried Longlegs. "What of it? Didn't you see what he had in his mouth?"

"Yes," replied Peter. "It was a little fish."

"It was a little trout," stormed Longlegs.

"Well, what of it?" replied Peter. "He had just as much right to it as you."

"Certainly he had," replied Longlegs. "But do you think he'll be blamed for taking it? Not much! He and all his brothers and sisters and uncles and aunts and cousins go up and down the Laughing Brook living on trout and I get blamed for taking the trout. These two-legged creatures called men haven't any sense. Most of them can't see beyond their noses. They see me on a brook fishing. When fish become scarce they blame me, when all the time Mr. Watersnake and his family are catching ten fish to my one. Sometimes I think there isn't any justice in this world. Those Watersnakes can catch trout and keep out of sight. I fish openly and honestly and get shot at because of it. Most of the trout the Watersnake family eat are charged up to me, and there you are!"



"Yes, I saw it," replied Peter. "What of it?"

"It's too bad, Longlegs," said Peter, shaking his head solemnly. "It's too bad. I should feel that way if I were in your place. It is a dreadful thing to be blamed for what another does. I can get into trouble enough myself without being blamed for the troubles that others get into."

Chicken Pies.

Boil a young chicken and when done strip it from the bones. Throw the bones into the broth with a sliced onion, a few stalks of celery, pepper, salt, chopped parsley and a quarter of a bay leaf. Boil gently until all the good is out of the bones and vegetables, strain, set aside to cool and then remove all grease. Reheat, season to taste, thicken with roux to the consistency of cold honey and add the chicken. Make a good short crust in the morning, line as many individual pie dishes as are to be filled, fill with the cold chicken mixture, put on the top crusts and mark the edges with the floured tines of a fork. Set aside in a cool place. Reheat and cook the crust—25 minutes should be long enough. Or, if preferred, the pies may be baked as soon as made and then reheated.

Reference Books

By Angelo Patri.

Angelo Patri is just the principal of a New York grade school, but the late Charles W. Eliot, president of Harvard, said Patri is doing more for common-school education than any other person in America. This school, a model in every respect, is a mecca for teachers from all parts of the country.

CHILDREN begin asking questions as soon as they can talk. For a time it is easy to answer them but as time goes on and they grow in experience, their horizon widens, their imaginations stretch, the questions come thick and fast. Many of them we cannot answer because we do not know the answers. Some we cannot answer because we would have to organize our knowledge and recast it so we could explain it in terms the children could understand.

Now a child's questions are the food he gathers for his mind. Each one of them that brings in a good answer adds power and growth to his intelligence. It is plain these questions must be answered and answered right. Then, too, it will not do to act as a ready reference for the inquiring child. It is too easy a process of growth for the eager-minded child. There must be more of the element of search and discovery before the quest is truly enriching. A good set of reference books on a handy shelf is the best solution.

A child cannot use a reference book until he is trained to do so. Then his elders train him. All the questions he asks, questions that need full answers and exact information, are to be written down in a note book as they are asked and at some convenient time in the day or evening, he is shown the book to bring down, the way to find the answer, the use of the index and the table of contents. Then the official question answerer for the family reads and explains.

If that is done day by day the children will grow by leaps and bounds. Each well answered question aids the next. Intelligence grows by interest compounded hourly. By the time the children reach high school they know how to look for any information they need and have the power to use it after they have found it.

There is in most homes today a good dictionary, a fine encyclopedia, an atlas, a telephone directory. Usually they are in first-class condition. "Not a mark on them," the housekeeper proudly states. Which, of course, is all wrong. They ought to have scrubbed binding, and they ought to have such supple backs that they fall open at a touch. They ought to have been used every day. They ought to be worn out by handling so the next generation can have a fresh set.

I am saying that there ought to be good reference books in every household where there are children and that somebody should make it his steady job to help the children to their skillful use. That somebody would not be wasting his time, either.

And if there is anything left in the fund after buying the reference books add a good globe, a big one. And if there is still something over, one of the picture maps of history or literature.

But don't keep them "nice." Use them.

CLEVER PEOPLE KEEP INSPIRATION ON TAP

Winifred Black Makes a Few Whimsical Observations About Smart Things That Occur to One and Then Escape.

By WINIFRED BLACK.

WHERE in the world do they go, all these things we call thoughts?

WINIFRED BLACK

I had one just now, and it was a good one, too. I wonder I never had it before.

Cheerful and and encouraging, something rather funny about it. Yet there was a core of inner meaning — it flashed into my head just as the Tall Woman and was trying to say good-by.

She does have such a time saying "good-by," the Tall Woman.

She starts and turns around and comes back and then sits down on the edge of the chiar. She gets up and goes to the door and just as you think she's going to step out she comes back again.

All the time you know she wants to go, but just simply can't manage to get away.

You'd like to have her stay and spend the afternoon, if she could, but in that case you'd like to slip into the hall and telephone. You'd like to slip downstairs and give an order or so, and you'd like to get out your little Russian blouse effect you are embroidering and put in your time to good advantage.

Or you'd like to have her go and be done with it. Then you'd settle down to your real work or go and see your sick friend, or write some letters that really need writing.

Dear me, what a lot of time and nervous energy she does waste when she starts to go—the Tall Woman.

Now she's wasted the thought—no, I can't catch it again, it's gone—forever, as far as I'm concerned.

I wonder if the Tall Woman has it? Maybe she caught it up out of the air, just as we do radio messages. I wonder if I'll recognize it when I see it again, that queer little whimsical thought, or will I just wonder 'why didn't I think of that before?"

I know a man who says no thought is ever lost. He says your brain is just like a nice competent filing cabinet. Everything you know and everything you hear, and everything you wonder is filed away there all in order, and the clever people are the ones who never lose the key to the cabinet.

They can always unlock the door and put in a thumb and pull out a plum, just whenever they feel like it.

Dull people have the filing cabinets, too, but they lose the key, and that's that.

I know another man who declares that every thought is registered in the physical brain. He says that the day is coming when a physician can take the brain of a man who has died and by looking at it can tell whether the man was a doctor or a lawyer or a bricklayer or a school teacher.

He says certain thoughts come from certain parts of the brain, and if you use one thought too much or too often, that part of the brain wears thin and some day somebody's going to be able to tell us about it.

I wonder if either of these men is right, or are they both just guessing, like the rest of us.

Thoughts, what intangible things they are! Yet there isn't an electric engine in the world as powerful as a good strong thought, liberated into the world by a good, strong, well-balanced brain.

I wish the Tall Woman would come back and stand in the door a minute—maybe when I look at her the thought will come back, too.

Do you suppose it would—and would it be worth anything if it did?

Tomato Toast.

Cover a hot dish with slices of crustless lightly buttered toast. Boil a quart of peeled and cut up fresh tomatoes for 10 minutes and then rub through a fine sieve. Return the tomato to the saucepan and add two level teaspoonfuls of salt, a saltspoonful of red pepper, two rounded tablespoonfuls of butter and two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Cook down for five minutes, adding a heaping teaspoonful of cornstarch dissolved in very little water. When slightly thickened pour over the toast and place a poached egg on top of each slice. This makes an excellent luncheon dish.

Vegetable Pot Roast.

Two pounds stew beef, ⅓ cup sliced onion, two cups water, one carrot, ⅓ cup parsnips, 1⅓ cups turnip, two cups water, one teaspoon salt and pepper, four tablespoons flour.

Sear beef in a very hot pan until well browned and put into casserole, bean pot or covered kettle. Brown onion in pan and add two cups of water; pour over beef, and add other vegetables, which have been diced. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover, bake in moderate oven, or simmer. Thicken liquid with the flour for gravy.

For Greater Accuracy in Measuring

By Hannah Wing.

THERE comes a time in the life of every cook when measures must be taken to secure accuracy. If cakes fall into sorry valleys of depression and muffins insist upon turning into mountains it is time to bring action against the measuring devices. The fault with your cooking may be none of yours, it is quite likely to lie, within the cup you measured with.

Glass measuring cups in particular vary seriously in quantity on contents due to the difference in thickness of glass. Some have very thick bottoms and in these a fourth of a cup is bound to be much less than an actual fourth. In some cups, actual measurement has shown one cup to hold four tablespoons more than another.

An easy way of checking the capacity of your cup is by filling it with carefully leveled tablespoonfuls—a standard cup should hold 16 tablespoons of any material. More actual results are likely to be obtained if small quantities of fat especially are measured in tablespoons—four for a fourth of a cup—or two for an eighth.

Cupfuls of flour vary, of course, unless the flour is sifted at least once before it is measured. Even so there is still a chance of error if the flour is scooped up by dipping the cup into it. Accuracy is gained by filling the cup with flour with a small flour scoop and then leveling the cup off with the thin edge of a spatula or case knife rested on the edge of the cup and moved across the top.

Too much flour as the result of careless measuring is the cause of muffins that are hard and crack open.

Inaccuracy in measuring fats and sticky substances such as molasses may be overcome to some degree if the cup is warmed with boiling water before the material is measured.

A simple way of measuring half or quarter cups of fat is to put the remaining amount of water in the cup and then add fat enough to make the water fill the cup.

The favorite adjunct of the dinner gown is the soft jacket made of chiffon or lace.

Keeping A Schoolgirl Complexion

By VILMA BANKY

The only RIGHT soap for you is a complexion soap

MANY soaps may be good for laundering or household use, but you'd hardly expect them to excel for personal uses as well. Hence those wise in beauty culture warn against touching the face with any but a true complexion soap.

For today the important rule in keeping skin clean and pores open with soap and water lies in using a complexion soap. One made primarily for facial use. Soaps intended for other things are apt to be too harsh for the skin.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions use Palmolive Soap, made of cosmetic oils, for one purpose only—to protect and beautify the skin.

Wash the face gently with Palmolive. Massage its balmy olive and palm oil lather into the skin. Rinse with warm water; then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be naturally dry, apply a little good cold cream. That is all—it's nature's rule for keeping that schoolgirl complexion.

Do that regularly, and particularly before bed. Never let powder, rouge or make-up remain on your skin over night. Note how much better your skin in even one week.

Get Palmolive today. Costs but 10c a cake. Use no other on your face. But be sure you get GENUINE Palmolive. Crude imitations, represented to be of olive and palm oils, are not the same as Palmolive. Remember that and take care. The Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago, U.S.A.

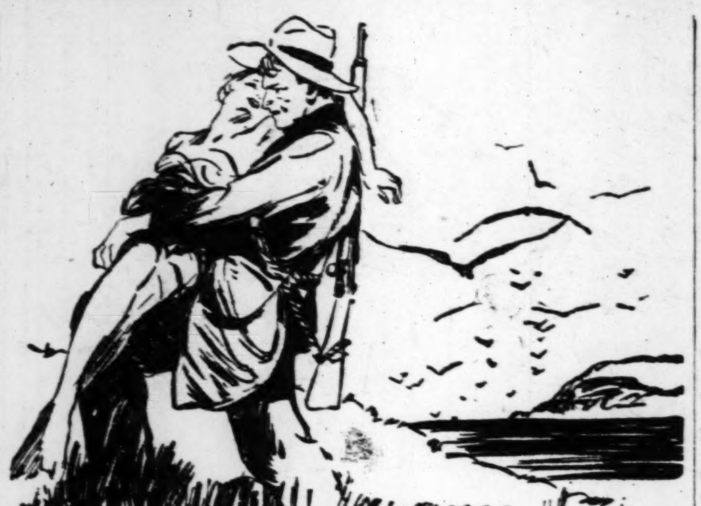
A NEW STORY OF LOVE, ADVENTURE AND MYSTERY

by HENRY C. ROWLAND

INSTALLMENT XXV.
HARD GOING.



Bengal started back to the southeastern end of the cay.

AT SIGHT of Carillon cowering there, Bengal was submerged by a flood of reminiscence. He scented the stench of battlefields, heard as an elusive echo guns thundering, the tormented air hissing in the rush of swarming shells. He saw the vacillating smoke rings torn by them and the upward reave of sodden, blood-soaked loam. And then as the inferno died away into distant rumblings he seemed to see a shattered village set in the torn fragments of what had been fair orchards and vineyards, and in the vines, what was left of them, he saw girls and women crouched, peering out at him, their faces vacant but for the impressions of horror stamped upon them. It was such a face that was now turned to him from the tangle of creepers and sea grapes into which Carillon had crept.

"Carillon," Bengal said, gently; and then as she merely stared at him in the same vacant way: "Carillon, don't you know me, dear?" He dropped on his knees in front of her. She shrank back a little, but the look of terror was not as poignant as when he had first caught sight of her. Her expression was more that of a troubled confusion and doubt, such as a lost child's might wear on being questioned by a kindly but rather overpowering policeman.

"Where's mother?" she muttered. "I want my mother"——

Bengal's heart turned sick. A cold rime of sweat burst out on him. Boyd had told him of their having lost their mother when Carillon was 10 years old.

"Come with me, little girl. We'll try to find her"—— It was in his mind heart-breakingly that this might be no idle promise; that Carillon might indeed find the mother she wanted within the next few hours. He held out his hand. Carillon hesitated for an instant, then placed hers in it.

"Are the bad men gone?" she asked, dazedly.

"One of them has. And I'm not going to let the others hurt you any more."

"O, they haven't hurt me yet. But said they were going to."

"Well, they can't now that I'm here. Don't you remember your Bungle, dear?"

She looked at him again with that dazed bewilderment in her eyes, then passed her hand across them. "I don't know. I think so. I'm so tired—"

Bengal did not persist. He turned and looked out at the sloop through a reddish mist, then lifted Carillon to her feet. "I'll take you where you can rest. Are you able to walk a little way?"

She did not answer, but looked down at her bare feet. They were scratched, clotted with dried blood, and swollen. Bengal understood why she had been unable to reach the water's edge before headed off and captured. The remnants of her evening gown covered her scantly in torn rags, some of them glued to the skin beneath in dark brownish smears, and the bare surfaces of limbs and body showed a maze of deep and superficial scratches. They were dry and evidently pained her as she moved, for she gave another little whimper.

The cool brine would help all this, Bengal knew, though smarting a little at first. He doubted though that she could walk. "Does it hurt you to stand, dear?" he asked, gently.

"A little. But I don't mind, if you will take me away," she answered drowsily, and rubbed her eyes.

"Right away. I'll carry you."

He kicked aside the awning, found the fitted bag and filled it with cans of food from the box of provisions. Water they had, in slight but sufficient quantity. Picking up the jug he poured some in a cup, gave it to Carillon, who drank thirstily, then drank his fill himself. No weapons were in sight. They had probably been taken aboard the sloop, Bengal thought. He cut off one of the awning clews and knotted a sling with which to carry the valise of food from his shoulder, then another for the rifle.

Thus accoutered in heavy marching trim, it was no slight tax to carry a girl who for all her apparent slenderness weighed one hundred and thirty pounds. But Bengal's bone and brawn were more than equal to the task. He gathered up Carillon as one might a child of five, wincing himself at her little cries of pain when the chiffon of rags tugged at her cuts. Walking smoothly but with long strides, Bengal started back for the southeastern end of the cay. He had not made more than a hundred yards of progress when there came the sound of a distant hail. Looking out toward the sloop he saw that she had got her anchor and was moving slowly toward the end of the island, round which lay the cruiser on the rocks. Three men were on deck, and there would probably be a fourth below, on watch as engineer, Bengal thought. The three were staring his way, evidently puzzled at this singular maneuver of their chief. But the distance was a good quarter of a mile to where the sloop had been at anchor behind the natural breakwater of rocks, and fortunately none seemed provided with glasses. Bengal freed one arm and waved, as if signaling them to proceed on their way, then continued on his own.

It was hard going, alternately through the bush and over the rocks, but he held on stubbornly, pausing from time to time to rest and shift the strain.

Struggling on, he finally reached the water's edge and set Carillon gently down. Her knees gave under her and she sank to the rock.

"We must wade and swim a little way, Carillon," Bengal said in that same soothing voice. "The cool water will do you good."

"But I can't swim," she said, listlessly.

"I'll help you"— It was plain to Bengal that this merciful lapse of memory went back a number of years, before she had learned to swim. "Don't be afraid."

"I'm not. Papa says that we Boys have never been afraid of anything. That's why I'm 'shamed to be so afraid of the bad men. Where have they gone"— She looked round her, fearfully.

"Far away. Come now, let's slip into the water. I'll hold you up."

She entrusted herself to him without the slightest hesitation. Then, at the delicious contact with her parched and fevered body said with a smile that stabbed Bengal afresh. "How nice. It does feel good when you're so hot, doesn't it? But it sort of stings a little."

"That's the scratches you got. It will wash and heal them. Put your hand on my shoulder. It's deep right here."

Carillon obeyed. Making no effort to swim, she trailed after him like a fragment of algae. Bengal marveled at the strange vagaries of the disordered brain, the derailed brain. Yet Carillon's mental action was consistent. Back again in childhood, it entirely ignored the accomplishments of later years; so that this girl who could actually swim like a sea otter made now no effort to do so. Bengal believed that if left to herself she might actually drown, though it is probable that in such a case unconscious reflexes would have come to her aid.

He had left the rifle and valise on the rocks, to fetch on another trip, relaying his burdens. Swimming easily, even lingering a little in water where he could stand on bottom so that the clean brine might effect its curative work, Bengal came presently to the mouth of the grotto. Looking into the place he saw that Irma was still as he had left her, apparently asleep. He had been gone perhaps an hour.

Mindful of the shark, he cast a look round and into the clear water, then with Carillon in tow swam quickly to the beach. As he rose to his feet Irma awoke and sat up suddenly. At sight of Carillon, Bengal saw the angry gleam in her eyes.

"So you have got her," Irma said sharply.

"Yes," Bengal answered slowly. "I have got what you devils have left of her. And don't forget that I have got you, too."

Women's Hygienic Problem

Handled new way—Discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

WOMEN'S greatest business and social handicap has finally been overcome by a new hygienic way called Kotex, which 8 in 10 better class women now use.

✓ You dispose of Kotex as easily as tissue. Which ends the problem of laundry or disposal.

You wear lightest, filmiest gowns in safety and without fear. For Kotex protects absolutely under all conditions. It's 5 times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads. Deodorizes, too!

Obtain at any store, without hesitancy, simply by saying "KOTEX." Many stores have it already wrapped for you to pick up, and take home without even asking.

Package of 12 costs only a few cents. Be sure you get the genuine, for only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls or answers by mail cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

A. W. P.—The Oklahoma State penitentiary is at McAlester, Ok.

J. R. H.—The Post-Dispatch does not publish on July 4, unless very important news makes an "extra" necessary.

A. E. F.—You can obtain detailed information regarding the copyright regulations by writing to the Copyright Bureau, Library of Congress, Washington, D. C.

READER.—You should consult a chemist for the information you desire. You will find a list of chemists in the classified section of the telephone directory.

MRS. V.—The first printed Bible was the Gutenberg Bible, the earliest book known that was printed from movable type. It was printed in Latin at Minz, 1452-1546 A. D. The material comprising it was derived from earlier existing manuscripts.

M. L. H.—Any unmarried man is a bachelor, regardless of his age. The expression "old maid" has almost become obsolete. It used to mean any unmarried woman past her middle twenties, but now it is seldom used for a woman under middle age.

MRS. R.—In last Sunday's issue of the Post-Dispatch, we stated that we had no information regarding the location of the Holy Ghost Cemetery. Since then we have been informed that this cemetery was a favorite burying ground in the southern part of the city, and one which, in 1897, continued to be used, was the old Picker Cemetery, of 60 acres, at Arsenal and Gravois avenues, belonging to the Holy Ghost Evangelical Church. It was established in 1845 and was, of course, at that time, far out in the country. It was for many years held in as high esteem as Bellefontaine came to be held afterward.

K. A. L.—To make ravioli have ready the following ingredients: One and one-half cups of flour, ½ of a lightly beaten egg, ¼ cup of cracker crumbs, ½ cup of grated Parmesan cheese, ¼ cup chopped cooked spinach, 1 well-beaten egg and enough warm water and chicken stock to mix the dough and filling. Sift the flour onto the bread board, make a depression in the center, drop in the half egg and with warm water work the mixture into a stiff dough. Knead the dough until it is smooth, cover it and let stand for about 10 minutes, then roll it as thin as paper. Cut the sheet of dough in strips about three inches wide. Then mix the cracker crumbs, spinach, and one egg; moisten with the chicken stock, and season with salt and pepper. Put the mixture by teaspoon heaps on every other strip, making the dabs about two inches apart. Place covering strips and press dough together between the fillings and on the edges, then cut the strips into as many ravioli as you made heaps of the spinach mixture. Cook the ravioli for 10 minutes in chicken stock, remove from the kettle with a skimmer and arrange on a hot serving dish in layers, sprinkling the grated cheese between the layers. Cover with tomato sauce and serve at once.

LEGAL INFORMATION

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association)

NEW COMER.—You can sue the man for the amount of money due on the goods. If you get judgment you can garnish his stock in the insurance company. You should consult a lawyer before taking any definite action.

NO HOW.—Your marriage with the man, who had never been divorced from his first wife, was not legal. The man could be compelled to support his child. You should have the marriage annulled before you marry another man. The bigamist would not have to get a divorce from the second wife, but it would be best to have the marriage annulled.

DAILY READER X. Y. — The woman, who has been living as the wife of the man you mention is not either a legal or common law wife. Common law marriages were prohibited in Missouri in 1921. The man is only responsible for such debts incurred by the woman, and such charge accounts as he agreed to pay for her. If he rented the flat he would be responsible for the rent. He does not have to pay her an allowance.

B. D.—Newspapers are required to print a copyright line with news articles that have been copyrighted if they desire to protect their articles from being copied. However, sometimes a blanket copyright covers all the contents of the paper or some other property rights may exist in the articles which would prohibit republication without the consent of the author. It is best to ask permission of the author or publisher.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

CONSTANT READER.—For catarrh of the stomach and intestines take one of the following powders: Bismuth subnitrate, 1 drachm; powdered papoid, 1 drachm; powdered lactopeptine, 2 drachms. Mix and divide into 12 powders. Take as a dose one powder three times daily before meals.

MRS. M. R.—To reduce the arms and legs try the following exercise: Stand erect with shoulders and back well poised, place hands on hips, raise the leg with knee bent and kick to the side quick and hard, then bring the foot back to the first position. Diet has a great effect on reducing any part of the anatomy and we will send you a proper diet list if you will send self-addressed stamped envelope and ask for me. No harm could come by taking the lemon juice and hot water as you suggest.

H. A. M. — Frequent urinating may be due to some such disease as diabetes, nephritis, inflammation of some part of the urinary tract, bladder, prostate gland, urethra or a highly nervous state. To determine the proper remedy the cause should be known, so the first thing to do is to have your urine tested. This will be done free of charge by the City Chemists, Room 9, Municipal Courts Building. In the meantime take a 5-grain tablet of cystogen in one-half glass of water three times daily between meals. For colds, a capsule may be made of two grains each of hydrobromate of quinine, phenacetine and salol, and taken every three or four hours.

Springfield—Clear; roads good.

Cape Girardeau—Clear; roads muddy.

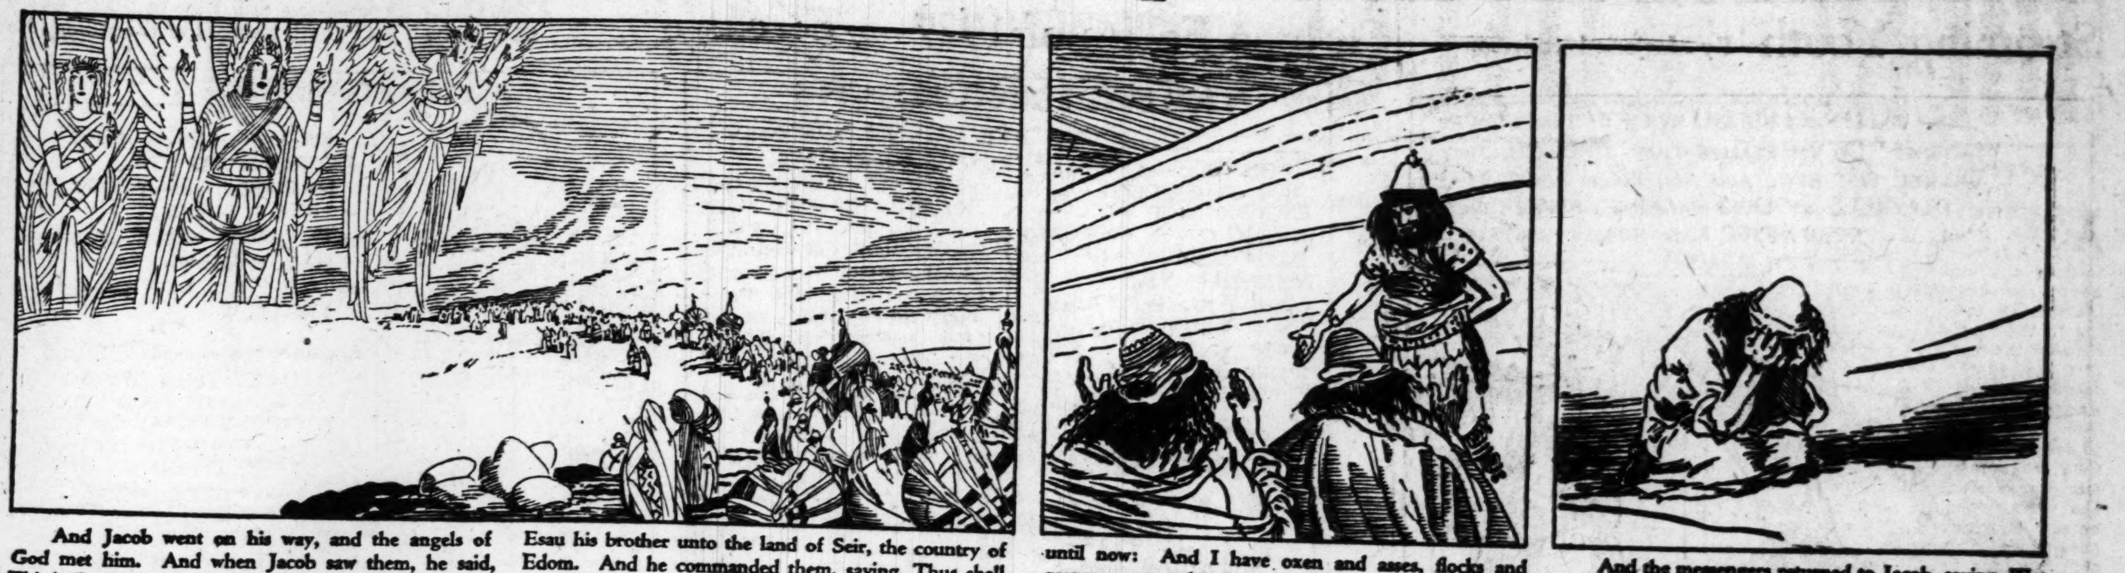
Meat Savory.

One and one-half pounds round steak, melted fat, one-quarter cup grated cheese, one-quarter cup bread crumbs, black pepper, salt, one tablespoon chopped parsley, one hard-cooked egg, one clove of garlic or small onion, one tablespoon catsup, one pint tomato pulp, one cup dry macaroni.

Have the steak cut very thin, brush with melted fat, sprinkle with cheese, bread crumbs, pepper, salt and parsley. Add sliced egg. Roll steak up tightly, tie firmly with a string. Sear in hot greased skillet with a clove of garlic or onion. Remove the meat, and add to the skillet catsup and flour. Stir until smooth and add the tomato pulp. Return the meat, and simmer in moderate oven, 300 degrees Fahrenheit until tender (about one hour). Boil macaroni in salted water until tender about 25 minutes. Drain and rinse with cold water, place on platter with meat, sprinkle thickly with grated cheese, and spread with tomato sauce from meat. Serve hot.

The Greatest Story in the World—By Kor

The Bible in Pictures

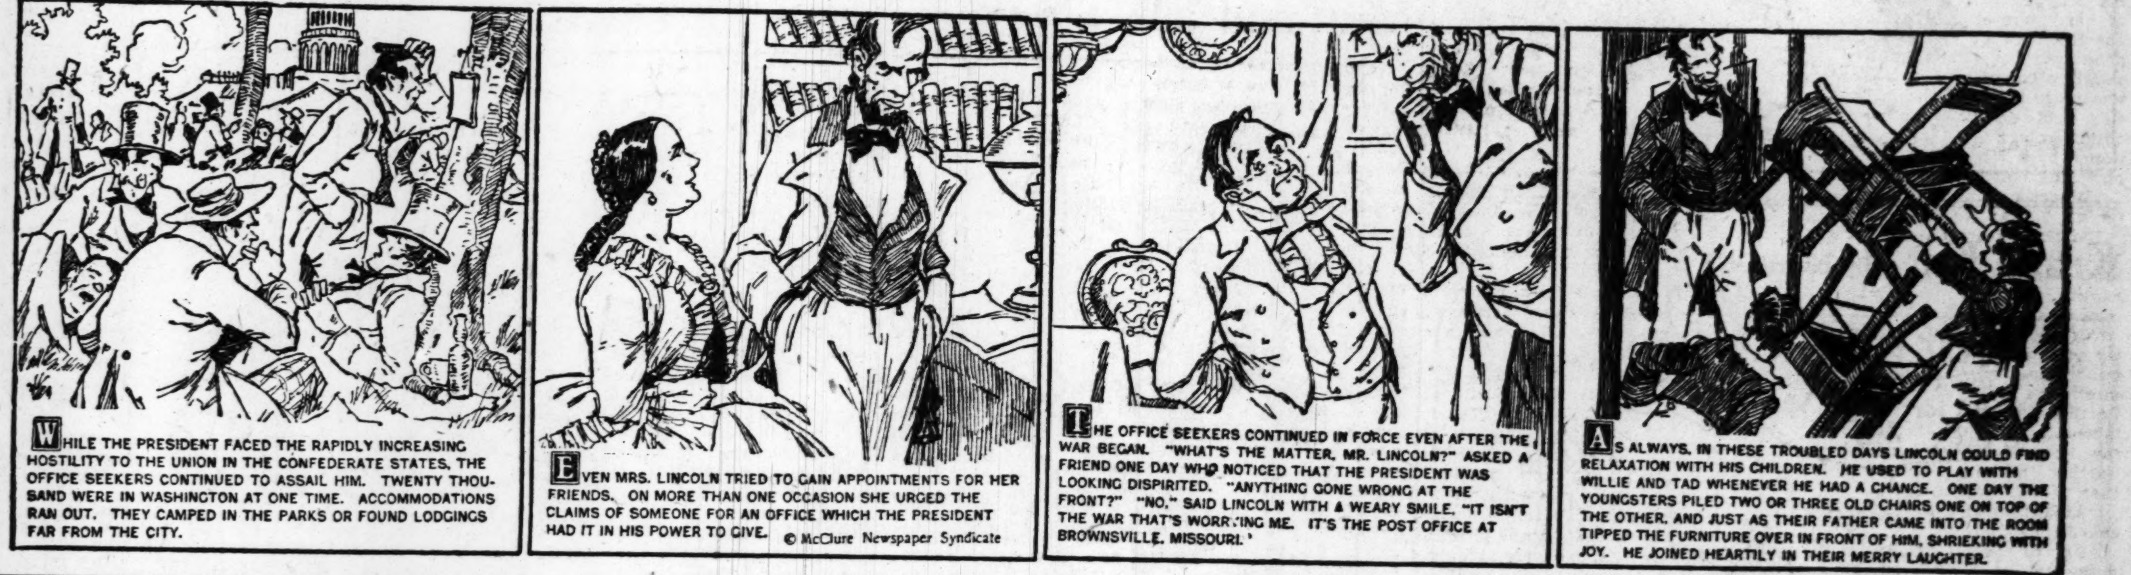


And Jacob went on his way, and the angels of God met him. And when Jacob saw them, he said, This is God's host: and he called the name of that place Mahanaim. And Jacob sent messengers before him to Esau his brother unto the land of Seir, the country of Edom. And he commanded them, saying, Thus shall ye speak unto my lord Esau; Thy servant Jacob saith thus, I have sojourned with Laban, and stayed there until now: And I have oxen and asses, flocks and menservants and womenservants; and I have sent to tell my lord, that I may find grace in thy sight.

And the messengers returned to Jacob, saying, We came to thy brother Esau, and also he cometh to meet thee, and four hundred men with him. Then Jacob was greatly afraid and distressed. Genesis—Chapter 32

In the Footsteps of Abraham Lincoln

Pictures by Nicholas Afonsky
Text Edited by Ida M. Tarbell



WHILE THE PRESIDENT FACED THE RAPIDLY INCREASING HOSTILITY TO THE UNION IN THE CONFEDERATE STATES, THE OFFICE SEEKERS CONTINUED TO ASSAIL HIM. TWENTY THOUSAND WERE IN WASHINGTON AT ONE TIME. ACCOMMODATIONS RAN OUT. THEY CAMPED IN THE PARKS OR FOUND LODGINGS FAR FROM THE CITY.

EVEN MRS. LINCOLN TRIED TO GAIN APPOINTMENTS FOR HER FRIENDS. ON MORE THAN ONE OCCASION SHE URGED THE CLAIMS OF SOMEONE FOR AN OFFICE WHICH THE PRESIDENT HAD IT IN HIS POWER TO GIVE.

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

THE OFFICE SEEKERS CONTINUED IN FORCE EVEN AFTER THE WAR BEGAN. "WHAT'S THE MATTER, MR. LINCOLN?" ASKED A FRIEND ONE DAY WHO NOTICED THAT THE PRESIDENT WAS LOOKING DISPIRITED. "ANYTHING GONE WRONG AT THE FRONT?" "NO," SAID LINCOLN WITH A WEARY SMILE. "IT ISN'T THE WAR THAT'S WORRYING ME. IT'S THE POST OFFICE AT BROWNSVILLE, MISSOURI."

AS ALWAYS, IN THESE TROUBLED DAYS LINCOLN COULD FIND RELAXATION WITH HIS CHILDREN. HE USED TO PLAY WITH WILLIE AND TAD WHENEVER HE HAD A CHANCE. ONE DAY THE YOUNGSTERS PILED TWO OR THREE OLD CHAIRS ONE ON TOP OF THE OTHER, AND JUST AS THEIR FATHER CAME INTO THE ROOM TIPPED THE FURNITURE OVER IN FRONT OF HIM, SHRIEKING WITH JOY. HE JOINED HEARTILY IN THEIR MERRY LAUGHTER.

NEW MADRID VACATED ONCE BEFORE IN 1811

Depopulation Because of Flood Recalls Volcano Shocks That Caused Exodus.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW MADRID, Mo., April 22.—The inundation through broken Mississippi River levees which caused the abandonment of this town Wednesday by all except about 100 of its 2000 people, is the second disaster in the community's history to result in an almost complete exodus.

The first catastrophe, 115 years ago, which caused abandonment of the rich farm lands and business in and near New Madrid, was caused by a series of earthquake shocks which occurred between December, 1811, and March, 1812.

Today the main business section is covered with seven feet of water and virtually the entire population has fled to higher surrounding communities. The hundred who remain are quartered in the upper stories of houses, in the county courthouse and in a school.

Rocked by Volcanic Shocks.

During the volcanic shocks of 1811 and 1812 the terrain was virtually reconstructed in the territory, old lakes were wiped out and new ones formed. Numerous fissures caused by the shocks are still evident in the cotton fields near the now flood-stricken town.

The first tremor occurred at 2 a. m. on Dec. 16, 1811. The people lled in terror, groping their way through falling debris. The earth, histories say, seemed to rise and fall in great waves that increased in elevation as they advanced. Fissures from ten feet to five miles long were created.

On the river, great waves arose and the waters in some places were forced upstream. Thousands of trees were carried into the river, high banks caved in and many boats were sunk.

Lasted for Days.

The shocks lasted for days, coming with terrific force and without warning until practically the entire population had departed from the district. On Feb. 7, 1812, a severe shock was felt and from then on the tremors subsided in intensity. The residents who remained became so accustomed to the tremors, it was said, that a plantation dinner bell which rang at the slightest quake attracted but passing attention, though it jingled for hours at a time.

River steamboats felt shocks while traveling in midstream. Indians were terror-stricken, attributing the shocks to the supernatural. River channels were completely changed and old pilots guided their crafts by instinct alone.

NEW COMMISSION PROPOSED FOR RADIO AND WIRE CONTROL

Senator Watson's Bill Would Provide Joint Supervision Over All Communications.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22—A Federal Commission to control communications would be provided in a bill being prepared for introduction at the next session of Congress by Chairman Watson of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee.

The commission would absorb the present Radio Commission and control and regulate telephone, telegraph, cabel and radio. It would provide for a bi-partisan membership of five commissioners who would have the same control over communications that the Interstate Commerce Commission now has over transportation.

Senator Watson said today that he was having the bill prepared with the idea of avoiding confusion and dual activities of governmental agencies. The Interstate Commerce Commission now has control over telephones and telegraph.

"The greatest problem confronting this new measure, he said, "is that of censorship. I hope to have a sensible provision that would be fair to all concerned without invoking a censorship, and at the same time would prevent radio from being used to the political advantages of one candidate at the expense of another."

ORDER VENUS DE MILO CLOTHED

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

VIENNA, April 22.—The zeal with which the Hungarian police are enforcing in Budapest the "new morality decree" issued last month by the Hungarian Minister of the Interior is having amusing results. The peasant class (from which the police are largely drawn) is not inclined to make fine distinctions, and having been instructed to see that all representations of the female form are decently clad, the officials are not sparing classical art.

A publishing firm was astonished to learn from a police official that the new decree had been infringed by the appearance of the Venus of Milo on the title page of one of their art publications. They were ordered to withdraw the book and a summons was issued against them. Another firm was ordered to withdraw the biography of Rubens because the wrapper had a picture of Venus and Adonis.

Reception at Retreat House.

A public reception will be held next Sunday afternoon at St. Mary's Retreat House for Women, on Partridge avenue, St. Louis County. A program has been prepared and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will be given on the lawn at 5 p. m. The retreat house was opened recently and the reception will be the first held there.

JEWISH COUNCIL TO MEET

Educational Problems Will Be Discussed Sunday.

The St. Louis Council of the American Jewish Congress, with which 67 local Jewish organizations are affiliated, will meet Sunday at 8 p. m. at the Forest Park Hotel. Educational problems of Jews in America will be discussed.

The Council recently adopted a number of resolutions, among them one protesting the atrocities perpetrated against Jews in Rumania, and a resolution calling upon St. Louis Jewry for participation in the silver jubilee of the Jewish National Fund.

The minute you put your feet in a "Tiz" bath you feel pain being drawn out and comfort just soaking in. How good your tired, swollen, burning feet feel. "Tiz" draws out the poisons that cause tender, aching feet.

"Tiz" takes all the soreness out of corns and callouses. Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store for a few cents.

End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and comfortable.

LIQUIDATION OF NIGHT AND DAY BANK NEARS END

Depositors With Claims Totaling $2,600,000 Have Received $1,610,579 — Little More to Come.

Liquidation of the defunct Night and Day Bank, which has been in the hands of the State since it closed, Jan. 6, 1922, will be completed next month with the sale of all remaining assets, and payment to depositors of an additional 5 per cent, or a little more.

"Cats and dogs"—notes of little value, on which collection has failed—comprise the bulk of the assets, to be sold from the east steps of the Courthouse on May 4. A list of these assets takes up several pages. Among the note-makers is Meyer Katz, a heavy borrower. He is now in Mexico.

Deputy State Finance Commissioner Charles N. Gilles, in charge of the liquidation, has $130,000 on hand, and probably will realize a few thousand dollars more by the sale. The only remaining business will be to pay administration expenses and disburse the balance by check among 15,000 depositors, whose claims totaled $2,600,000.

To date depositors have received 62 per cent, or $1,610,579. The final dividend may exceed 5 per cent, but is not expected to reach 6 per cent.

By June 1, the Night and Day Bank will be a matter of history, with liquidation, litigation and prosecutions all ended. The cashier, Arthur O. Meininger, is serving a penitentiary term for the embezzlements which actually wrecked the bank. Donald W. Ross, who, as Deputy State Finance Commissioner in charge of liquidation for a year, looted the remains, is a fellow prisoner at Jeferson City.

The Olive street site of the "One-man bank"—Meininger being the man—is now a shoe store.

FREE STATE SHOWS SURPLUS

Margin of $2,667,500 on Budget; Tax Cut Proposed.

By the Associated Press.

DUBLIN, Ireland, April 21.—The Irish Free State budget, introduced in the Dail Eireann by Finance Minister Ernest Blythe, shows a surplus of £550,000 ($2,667,500).

Blythe announced that it had been decided to reduce the income tax from 4 to 3 shillings (from $1 to 75 cents) with a view to stimulating enterprise. He proposed no nex taxation. The state's total expenditure was estimated at £23,000,000 ($111,550,0003. The national debt totals £16,290,000.

Monument of Mme. Marie Harelzn.

By the Associated Press.

CAMEMBERT, France, April 22.—A monument has been unveiled in this village to the memory of Mme. Marie Harelzn, the farmer's wife who, in 1791, discovered the formula for Camembert cheese.

While you are chasing moths your clothes are being eaten!

It isn't the moths you see flying around that do the damage—it is the greedy moth-worms. And moths lay eggs to make the worms while they are still hidden in your closets!

So chasing moths won't prevent moth-holes. But Larvex will. It is not a "bug killer" or insecticide. It is an odorless, colorless, non-inflammable liquid that gives the only sure protection. You simply spray it on your clothes and they are mothproofed!

One spraying protects them for the whole season. Moth-worms starve—they simply can't eat clothes that have been treated with Larvex. Your clothes are safe right in the closets. No bulky tar-bags. You don't have the job of packing your clothes away. They are not heavy with moth-ball odors in the Fall.

Larvex is $1. In combination with the special atomizer, $1.50. ½ gallons, $3; gallons, $5. At drug, department and furniture stores. Get Larvex today—a single moth-worm can ruin an expensive garment! The Larvex Corporation, 250 Park Avenue, New York, N. Y.

HUNDREDS OF PREPARATIONS CLAIM TO KILL OR DRIVE AWAY MOTHS—BUT LARVEX IS THE ONLY ONE THAT ACTUALLY PREVENTS MOTH-HOLES!

STEEL MOORING MAST WILL AID AIRCRAFT

Scott Field Model for Strength Perfectly Balanced, Will Be Completed Soon.

A 176-foot steel mooring mast for lighter-than-air craft is nearing completion at Scott Field, Belleville, having been constructed for the flying field under the supervision of the experimental engineering department of the United States Army Air Corps.

The structure is regarded as a model for strength, and unusual specifications have insured a mast which is expected to stand a windload of 70 miles an hour while supporting a horizontal pull of 10 tons at the top. The mast tapers upward from an octagonal concrete base, 40 feet wide and 11 feet thick which weighs 638 tons.

Steel bolts two and a half niches in diameter and weighing 150 pounds each have been embedded in the concrete base, 22 of them in an 18-foot circle. With these the steel shaft is anchored. The toughest quality of steel has been used in the beams and plates which form the tower. Seven steel diaphragms, or floors, are spaced at intervals in the tower to give it reinforcement. The tower sways in the wind, but army engineers say this is proof of its perfect balance and proper proportions.

When completed, there will be an elevator and a ladder stairway to the top. The tower will be flooded with lights at night.

BRITISH USED FORKS FIRST NEARLY 350 YEARS AGO

Thomas Coryate, Comic and Traveller, Took the Custom There From Italy.

LONDON, April 22.—Exactly 350 years ago there was born at Odcombe, in Somerset, an eccentric individual, one Thomas Coryate, better known as the Odcombe Leg-Stretcher. To him the Brtish owe the introduction into this country of the table fork.

Coryate was the son of the rector of an obscure country village. He studied at Oxford, and afterwards entered the royal household as a comic attendant. His wit made him many friends and some enemies. It was his ambition to become the greatest traveller ever known, and to accomplish this he made two journeys partly on foot, through Europe and Asia.

On arriving in Italy he observed "a custom that is not used in any other country which I saw, neither do I think it is that any other nation doth use it.

"The Italians at their meals always use a little fork, while holding the knife in one hand they cut their meat out of the dish, they fasten their fork, which they hold in the other hand upon the same dish; so that should anyone inadvisedly touch the dish of meat with his fingers from which all the table do cut he will give offence to the company as having transgressed the law of good manners."

Tom must have been mistaken, however, in his assertion that the Italians were the only people at that time to use forks, for a French writer in 1589 stated that in that country they never touched their meat with their hands, but with forks.

Long before Coryate's time, however, forks were in use, for fruit eating only, in England in the royal households.

SONGS INSPIRED BY COYOTES

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 22.—The plaintive wail of coyotes on the lonely Western plains developed many of the colorful, boisterous songs of the cowboys. The songs were intended to drown out the disturbing notes of the prowlers and prevent the cattle from stampeding, Oscar J. Fox of the University of Texas told the National Federation of Music Clubs yesterday.

English, Scotch and Irish folk songs were usually the background for the compositions of the cowboys, he said, because most of them in the early days came from those countries. The Harmonica boys' band of Philadelphia, recruited from the newsboys of that city, is in the city to give several concerts at the convention and the schools.

BOY'S BODY WAS COVERED WITH SEVERE ITCHING RASH

Skin now without a blemish

Bethel, Maine, July 13:—"About seven years ago my nephew developed a severe case of skin trouble which looked like eczema. His face, hands and whole body were covered with the trouble and his skin became raw from scratching. Many soaps and ointments were tried without success before Resinol Soap and Ointment were prescribed and used. The first few applications stopped the itching and soon he was entirely healed. He now has the loveliest skin I ever saw and, thanks to Resinol Soap and Ointment, no unsightly blotches mar the beauty of his complexion." (Signed) Vivian M. Eagie, Vernon Street.

Why buy cheap tires and worry, when you can buy Michelin Tires and feel safe. Let us equip your car with Michelin Tires now before the warm weather.

FREE We will give away Free with every purchase of Michelin Tire and Tube a Michelin Book on the World War!

Bring Your Old Tires for a Liberal Allowance

Statement is based on facts. We picked at random 1500 motorists who were testing Michelin Tires opposite other brands on the same car. 84% said their Michelins lasted longer than the other makes they were using.

This is not guesswork

No matter what make of tires you are now using, we promise you more mileage if you will buy MICHELIN TIRES of us!

How can we make this sweeping promise? Well, just consider the facts:

FACT 1—Written reports have been secured from over 1500 motorists picked entirely at random except that all were testing various makes of tires opposite Michelins. 84% said they secured more mileage from their Michelins than from the other tires they were using.

FACT 2—In Detroit, the home of the automobile, in a vote taken among all of the 984 tire dealers, more dealers voted for Michelin as the best tire than for any other make.

FACT 3—During the past three years Michelin sales have grown three times as fast as the tire industry as a whole. Something more than words did that.

FACT 4—Records covering over a million miles show that, on an average, Michelins give 36% more mileage than other tires.

FACT 5—Back in 1895 Michelin was the world's first pneumatic auto tire. Today Michelin is still first, and over 25,000 tire builders are kept busy trying to supply the great world-wide demand for Michelins.

• • •

But in addition to quality there's another factor—Price. We sell Michelins at the price of standard tires. Think of that. Then ask yourself: "Don't I owe it to myself to give these fellows a chance?"

COTTON BELT TRYING TO OUST MERGER FOE

Road's Executive Committee Soliciting Proxies Against Walter E. Meyer.

To prevent the re-election of Walter E. Meyer of New York, minority leader, opposed to the consolidation of Southwestern railroads proposed by L. F. Loree and associates, as a director of the St. Louis Southwestern (Cotton Belt) Railway at the annual election May 4, the Executive Committee of the Cotton Belt is soliciting proxies from stockholders.

Last week Meyer canvassed the stockholders with letters and circulars soliciting their proxies to re-elect himself. This week the committee mailed circulars asking the stockholders to assign their votes to a proxy committee which is pledged to vote for a directorate which will agree thoroughly on the merger of the Kansas City Southern, Missouri-Kansas-Texas and the Cotton Belt.

The Executive Committee declares that "apart from Meyer, the board does not believe that a dissentient interest exists among the stockholders of the company; it believes that the stockholders approve the past and present policies of the company and that they desire to support the management in its solution of the problems which now confront it."

The proxy committee, consisting of Edwin Gould, President Daniel Upthegrove and Paul Rosenthal, will cast what votes they are authorized to use for Frank M. Gould and F. W. Green, vice presidents; E. Roland Harriman, a director of the Union Pacific and Delaware & Hudson railroads; Charles Hayden; L. F. Loree, chairman of the board of the Kansas City Southern; Carl F. G. GIRL STUDENTS TO PRESENT 'SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER'

College and Triangle Clubs at Mary Institute Sponsor Production April 29.

Students of Mary Institute will present Goldsmith's "She Stoops To Conquer," Friday, April 29, at two performances in Founders' Hall, Lake and Waterman avenues. The play will be given under auspices of the College Club and the Triangle Club of the school. Miss Helen Woods of the faculty is directing the production and Miss Carrie Bribach, also of the faculty, has designed the costumes.

Miss Hillary Boogher, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Boogher, of 6200 Pershing avenue, has the leading role of Kate Hardcastle. Miss Laura Emily Wood is cast as Young Marlowe; Miss Anne Ferriss as Squire Hardcastle; Miss Katherine Bush, as Mrs. Hardcastle; Miss Elizabeth Ferguson, as Tony Lumpkin; Miss Stella Switzer as Constance Neville; Miss Christine Jones as George Hastings, and Miss Ethel Dyer as Sir Charles Marlowe.

KANSAS GOVERNOR TO URGE U. S. AID FOR FLOOD CONTROL

Paulen Asks Missouri, Oklahoma and Arkansas to Join in Campaign.

By the Associated Press.

TOPEKA, Kan., April 22.—Three states, Missouri, Oklahoma and Arkansas, will be asked by Gov. Paulen to join with Kansas in an effort to obtain from the next Congress Federal aid for flood prevention and water conservation. Governors of the three other states will be asked to make suggestions.

Gov. Paulen said he was ready to take whatever steps are necessary to further the project. "It is very plain that something must be done to prevent the annual loss caused by the floods," he said. "It seems we have gotten our drainage systems to a point where floods may be erpected every spring when there is a rainy season, and some steps must be taken to meet the emergencies.

"The whole project is too big for one state to undertake alone and for this reason I believe it will be a good move for the four states to work together."

RICKENBACKER AUCTION FAILS

No Bids Offered at Second Attempt to Sell Motor Firm's Property.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., April 22.—A second attempt to sell the Rickenbacker Motor Co. property at auction has failed because no bids were made. William S. Sayres, special Master in Chancery in Federal Court who offered the plant for sale, said another auction would be held next Thursday.

Sayres ordered the personal property of the company placed into receivership of the Security Trust Co. of Detroit for disposal. Offers for the property at auction last week, the first since the plant was thrown into receivership, were rejected.

Golden Jubilee of Dramatic Club.

The Benton Dramatic Club of St. Frances de Sales Catholic Church, founded in 1887, will celebrate its golden jubilee Sunday, April 24. Members of the club will attend mass in the morning, and in the afternoon and evening will give performances of the play—"In Walked Jimmy." A requiem for deceased members of the club will be held Tuesday morning, April 27 at 7 o'clock.

FOREST WEEK BEGINS SUNDAY

Clubs, Churches and Schools Will Aid in Observation.

More than 20 luncheon clubs and women's organizations will devote part of their programs next week, American Forest Week, to forestry. The subject also will be discussed in churches and high schools.

The Hoo-Hoo Club and Missouri Forestry Association will give a dinner Monday evening at Hotel Chase. The Fourth Christian Church will hold a tree-planting ceremony Sunday afternoon, with Julius Seidel, chairman for Missouri of the American Forest Week Committee, as the speaker.

Beauty Doctor Gives Fine Recipe for the Hands

Many women will undoubtedly be glad to know how they may have beautiful, white, soft, pretty hands regardless of the work they have to do. The secret lies in rubbing a little Ice-Mint into the hands occasionally preferably just before retiring at night. In the morning you will be agreeably surprised at the pleasant transformation that has been wrought by even a single application. Ice-Mint is made from a Japanese product that is simply marvelous for its beautifying properties whether used on the hands or face. Regardless of what kind of work a woman does she should have pretty hands as they are really the true marks of refinement. A few applications of Ice-Mint will actually make any woman proud of her hands and skin. It costs little and is sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere.

This recipe is worth keeping.

URGES SPECIAL BOAT FOR NAVAL RESERVE

Commander Schwartz Describes Type of Craft Adaptable for Flood Work.

Missouri's naval militia, the main units of which are stationed at St. Louis, is able to do efficient work during flood seasons, but the need for a specially constructed craft similar to a Chinese river gunboat is stressed by Commander G. F. Schwartz, commander of the Sixth Naval Reserve Area, in charge of Missouri units.

The vessel suggested by Commander Schwartz would be equipped with a "steel hull, powerful engines, twin screws, tunnel type, one or two powerful electric hoists, powerful anchor engines and anchors with enough deck room to accommodate at least four lifeboats with heavy-duty engines and propellors."

Sufficient room to take care of several hundred refugees overnight, a large evaporation system for providing fresh water, and accommodations for the American Red Cross also would be included in the craft.

"This vessel can be used by the naval reserve for training most of the time, but could be held ready to leave the dock with all equipment for an emergency in case of flood duty," the commander asserted.

"Such a ship would be ordered out several weeks in advance of the crest of any flood, be subject to call by radio to proceed to any threatened area, anchor in any current, and be used as a base from which to send out the smaller boats."

The naval reserve has several sub-chasers at St. Louis, one 24-foot motor boat and one whale boat. None of these, according to Commander Schwartz, is suitable to render the needed service during floods.

ARMY CONFERENCE IN JUNE FOR CHIEFS OF BRANCHES

Will Be First Meeting of Its Kind Since 1921; Budget to Be Discussed.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—A dozen Major-Generals now commanding corps areas or army divisions in the United States have been ordered to report to Washington for a conference in June, described by the War Department as being intended for the taking up of any subject either the commanders in the field or the chiefs of the various branches of the General Staff desire to present. The conference will be the first of its kind since 1921.

Besides the corps commanders, the three infantry divisions maintained in the United States and of the cavalry division on the border also will participate.

The meeting will come at a time when the Planning Committee of the General Staff has submitted to the Legislative Council of the War Department its recommendations in regard to the army budget to be presented at the next session of Congress in December.

Thousands have got relief

SLEEPLESS WITH PAIN OF RHEUMATISM

Now sleeps well and can work with ease

"I could not sleep or do my work, but now I sleep well, walk and do my work with ease. I used Sloan's Liniment only once and it relieved me of my pain. It is just wonderful. I shall never be without it."

This is only one letter but it is typical of thousands that the makers of Sloan's have received, testifying to the amazing relief that Sloan's gives to every kind of muscular pain.

Sloan's gives real relief because it doesn't just deaden the nerves. It stirs up the bodily forces to get rid of the trouble that is causing the pain.

No need to rub, it's the medicine itself that does the work. Just pat it on. Instantly it sends the fresh, healing blood tingling through the sick tissues—and the pain simply has to go. So clean and easy to use, too. Get a bottle. All druggists—35 cents.
